Patriotism That Pays.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir.—When the Chief of the Government party broke from Sir Robert Bond it was on the pretext that it was to secure more wages for the labouring man, and he was hailed as a hero by those who did not know better. And after a campaign of vilification against political opponents was traced into power with a scuffle following. The previous Government had been denounced by them as corrupt and extravagant, and Newfoundland was ruined unless "Dear Friend Morris" and his lambs had a look in.
Well, they received it from a duped electorate and great things were expected. Hardly had the Chief Shepherd and his lambs become acquainted with their positions than their grip prevailed over every idea of moderation. We all thought that Economy was the principal attribute of the People's Party, now well known by the suggestive title of the "Picnic Party." But now we know that a carnival of extravagance and corruption prevails, which if not checked must lead quickly to financial disaster for the Colony. The revelations in the columns of your paper during the past couple of weeks were at first believed to be mistakes by most people who expected to see the pep-pod Government papers filled with indignant denial and contradiction but some came and there resulted consternation and indignation. The Patriotic People's (?) Party turned out to be the old-time grabbing Tory Party, and the people again see they have been duped. Patriotism was their slogan, but now we know it was patriotism at a price. Sir Edward for a few weeks' trip to the Hague gets $9,000 on account; Morison and others obtain princely payments; J. T. Mc-Grath grabs $4,500 for some services; Downey, Devereaux and Seymour draw thousands of dollars, and so along the ranks, monies are thrown and sops, pensions are given husky public servants, dozens with political pull are put in their places, jobs for helmsmen are created, and since the country received its charter of Responsible Government such a carnival of corruption has not been witnessed. "State paupers and legalized robbers!" Truly the description fits the present Tory gang.
Go on, Mr. Editor, keep up the good work, expose the greed of the Morris-Tory crowd. You have quickly aroused a sentiment which will now put Morris and his servile crew out of commission. Let Sir Robert Bond and his devoted followers "fight the good fight" on the floors of the People's House as they have been doing, expose governmental rotteness, incapacity and extravagance, and the end will come sooner than can be imagined. Speed the day if Terra Nova is to be saved from bankruptcy.
Yours truly,
VOX POPULI.

CORNER WATER AND SPRINGDALE STREETS.

The Placentia Bridge.
Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I notice in to-day's issue of the Daily News a very sensible and forcible letter from "Square Dealer" on the long talked of Placentia bridge. He attempts to point out to us the disaster that will occur here and will shock the whole country as perhaps nothing ever did before.
"Square Dealer" didn't go far enough, or was not plain enough in his remarks. I will just cite an incident that happened on Thursday morning, the 24th February. I was at Argenta attending the funeral of my late father-in-law, Mr. John Griffiths, and Rev. Father Ashley kindly offered me a seat in his sleigh as he was due at Placentia at half-past ten to assist at a Requiem with Monsignor Reardon and Rev. Dr. Green for while we ran at least 200 yards to locate a safe way to get to him. His courage was all the more remarkable as his brother was drowned here exactly four years ago.

On arrival at the edge of the ice we had to travel some distance over pure snow on boards, and if you accidentally slipped off the boards you were immersed to a depth of forty feet in "sish" and water; never to be extracted.

This falling in business has occurred at least fifty times within the past two weeks. One man in going across alone fell through five times, and only by his youth and vigor did he extricate himself.
Surely as time rolls on we shall not always be subject to this dangerous state of affairs. We have no fault with the motor ferry; it is certainly a step in the right direction, and I earnestly hope it is the stepping-stone to a long and earnestly hoped for bridge. I understand that the proposed ferry system will cost between three and four thousand dollars, which is only a moderate price for the proposed work. If our Government can

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.
Special to Evening Telegram.
According to reports brought by the Oriental liner Asia, General Sir Hector Macdonald, former Commander of the Black Watch, supposed to have committed suicide in Paris in 1903, is engaged drilling troops for the Chinese Army. The officers of the Asia learned the story, they say, from the officers of the British cruiser Kent, now at Honolulu, who got word of Macdonald's whereabouts while on the Oriental station recently.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 6.
Special to Evening Telegram.
Ninety persons, many of them children, were burned to death, and forty were injured in a fire that destroyed a moving picture theatre on Sunday. The flames broke out while the exhibition was in progress and quickly enveloped the building, cutting off every avenue of escape. Attempts to rescue were made by those who happened to be close by the exits when the fire started from the outside, but the flames drove them back before they could reach the victims.

BOSTON, March 6.
Special Evening Telegram.
Plans for carrying out a steamship terminal project for Boston, involving an outlay of $20,000,000, which sum has already been provided, have been announced. The plans call for the erection within five years of eleven warehouses and factory buildings, a five thousand horse power electric plant, and terminal docks 1,500 feet in length.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 7.
Special Evening Telegram.
A stormy scene occurred in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday during a debate on the Bagdad railway. Deputy Kennal, of Albania, addressed insulting remarks to Kakki Bey, the Grand Vizier. The latter strode forward and struck the Deputy, while at the same time a member of the Committee coming up behind Kennal, boxed the latter's ears.

LONDON, March 7.
Special Evening Telegram.
John E. Redmond and many other members of the House of Commons were at the Palace theatre last night to witness the production of the Irish dramatic sketch, based on an incident in connection with the abortive rising led by Robert Emmet, entitled "False-ly True." The sketch was written by Redmond's daughter.

VITERBO, Italy, March 7.
Special Evening Telegram.
One hundred and fifty carabinieri assembled here to-day to reinforce the police, also the Grand Counsel, and witnesses connected with the trial of Camorristi, which will open on March 11th. Many detectives have been assigned to watch all strangers that will arrive here during the next two months. It is feared on the part of the authorities that there is a plot to free the prisoners or a scheme to intimidate the witnesses.

To the Canker Picnic Party.

As you will all remember, about three years ago, The People's so-called party to the country did go. All the great things that they promised we heard quite clear and loud, But now they're better known as the "Canker Picnic Crowd."
Now, if you watch them one and all you'll see they're on the make; They are either after contracts or any pickings they can take. Though some they say got nothing, and refuse quite loud, To be counted in the circle with the "Canker Picnic Crowd."

They promised all officials better hours and raise of pay; But now that they've got jobs themselves they don't say that to-day. They tell us now we're too well paid and not to speak to loud; I hope they'll never lose the name of the "Canker Picnic Crowd."
I hear the Picnic Party will soon be off again. While you and I are left behind to work with hand and brain—To catch the fish and sow the seed and have the ground well ploughed—While we work twelve hours a day to keep the "Canker Picnic Crowd" DISGUSTED.
