In Austria two candles are lighted and placed on either side of a crucifix, before which the witness stands: and, again holding up his right hand. he says: "I swear by God the Alcustomary in different mighty and Allwise that I will speak the truth, in reply to any questions which I may be asked."

In Italy the Bible is not presented closed as it is with us, but is laid through an interpreter, what his right hand upon it. In this posim of oath the prosecutor would tion he declares: "I swear to telly ticle of faith pecuniarly neignly the breaking a plate or by a lighted the truth, the whole truth, and nothing the property of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing the property of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing the property of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing the property of the truth the truth the truth the whole truth and nothing the property of the truth the truth the whole truth and nothing the property of the truth the tr Ultimately, the man decided ing but the truth"—a form which Jamaica, for example, it is by no without the use of the open Bible, used by the Belgian, who ends his

In Spain the national love of ceremony finds expression in the elaborate nature of the oath, for the witness The evidence which you shall give is made to kneel on his right knee shall be the truth, the whole truth, and place his hand on the Bible, which and nothing but the truth." That is is open before him. When he is askple formula by which witness- ed, "Will you swear by God and the holy Gospels to speak the truth to whatever questions you are asked?" he Anglo-Saxon holds sway, while He replies: "I swear." This does hey hold the Bible in the right hand, not finish the matter, however, for t the conclusion of the repetition of the witness is further instructed: "If words kissing the sacred volume. you tell the truth, God will reward On the Continent, however, kissing you. to represent the Trinity, while he lifts his right hand towards it while repeats a long formula in which he he takes the dath. prays that if he swears falsely he may be punished eternally in hell. and his earthly possessions destroy-nesses are invariably sworn, bareneaded. The only exception of this the whole pure truth, and nothing but is when Jews take the oath. In accordance with the tenets of their faith, they always wear their hats when speaking of the Deity. They repeat the ordinary formula in use in the country in which they are. The kissing of the Book is an ar-> non for a coloure the Court by calling the judge's attention to the fact that the witness has not kissed the Book, but has kissed the thumb with which, in part, he holds it. Many of these men consider that they may give false evidence if they have not completed the oatl by bringing their lips into contact with the sacred volume. In countries where the people ar ollowers of Mohammed, the Koran which is the sacred book, is alway placed in front of the witness, who having taken the oath, bows himsel until his forehead comes in contac with the volume.

It is in the Far East, however, tha curiosities in the way of oath-taking may be seen; as, for example, in Chi na, a cock is beheaded, in order to typify to the witness what will han pen if he commits perjury, or a sa cer is broken or a candle is blo out, both of which are regarded emblematical of what will happen his soul should he be guilty of fa witness. The breaking of a saucer a comparatively common occurre in our own Courts. Only the otl day a case was recorded where a C nese witness refused to be sworn any other way, and the proceedi were suspended while an attend went to the nearest crockery-shop order to purchase a saucer.

PEKING, Jan. 23.

Premier Yuan Shi Kai secretly visited the Imperial Palace early this morning and concurred with the Empress Dowager in favour of a resumption of hostilities. He suggested that the Manchus sink their differences and provide the funds necessary for the campaign, but advised awaiting the advance of the revolutionists:

MADRID, Jan. 23.

The Cabinet of Premier Canalejas has virtually resigned. The reasons for the projected return to power of the Conservatives, which is deduced from the audience given to ex-Premier Maura, the leader of the Conservative party, by King Alfonso, are not clear. The Catholic newspapers claim that the change is due to the necessity of combatting the growing republican and socialistic forces. MADRID, Jan. 23. ublican and socialistic forces

LONDON, Jan. 23. Headed by James William Lowther Speaker of the House of Commons, a distinguished party, including a num distinguished party, including a number of members of Parliament, Peers, Bishops and men of affairs have left for Russia. The object of the visit is the desire of persons of various political views and public interests to develop further the ties that exist between the two countries. The party will be received by the Emperor.

PARIS, Jan. 23. Should Italy refuse to accede to the demand of France, that the Turks ar-rested on board the Manorba be turned over to the French authorities, France is prepared to recall her Am-bassador from Rome, and designate French warships to escort and protect French steamers on the Mediter ranean. The French Ambassador in Italy has been instructed to reiterate firmly France's demand. The French Government expects that Italy will accede to the demands made.

PEKING, Jan. 23. The Empress Dowager is inclined think that resumption of hostilities the only solution of the presentuation. This statement is made in the North China Daily News, which is always regarded as the organ of the Foreign Board in Peking. It is understood that the Premier has agreed to fight for the throne. It is believed, however, that he will await an attack by the rebels. The foreign legation, on the other hand, consider that abdication of the throne has been deferred only for a time.

BELFAST, Jan. 23. Several regiments of cavalry and infantry have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Belfast at short notice, in consequence of the inflamed state of awakened among both Nationalists and Unionists by the announcement of the coming demonstration concerning Home Rule. The manoeuvre of the Unionists, threatening to blockade Ulster Hall, has incensed the Liberals and the Nationalists, and trouble looms up distinctly. Brigadier Glei-chen, Commanding Officer of the dis-trict, is returning from Switzerland where he has been on a vacation. Merchants in the city are arranging perties in the vicinity of Ulster Hall.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

Few men are fond of Major Gall. He is the man who knows it all. His voice is blustering and loud, and when he gets into a crowd he deftly wields his tireless jaw, and what he says is final law. If you KNOW IT ALL. should say the weather's warm, the major then will rant and storm, and say it's cold as all get out, and put your arguments to rout. If you concerning books discourse, the major rises, fierce and hoarse, and pushes language through his face, and shows that you are off your base. If you refer to works of art, he then upsets your apple cart, and proves your criticisms weak-you have no right to think or speak. No odds what subject may come up-a Grecian urn or setter pup, a Roman bronze or Plutarch's "Lives," the groundhog or a case of hives, a sermon or a quilting bee, the major, with his snickersnee, which is another name for tongue, hews down opponents old and young.
