Betting Three to One in Favour of the Return of Smuts' Government

July 1st, to be Observed by Chinese in Canada as Humiliation Day—Jewels and Art Treasures Worth £100,000 Stolen in London—British Agent in Mexico May be Expelled.

TWENTY-TWO KILLED BY CLOUD-BURST.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., June 15. At least twenty-two persons are dead and probably many more, in a terrific cloudburst that Saturday wiped out Carter's Bluff and Hunter near here.

BRITISH AGENT THREATENED WITH EXPULSION FROM MEXICO.

LONDON, June 15. According to official advices from Mexico City, the British agent there, Herbert C. Cummins, charged with the duty of protecting British interests, has incurred the displeasure of the Obregon Government with which Great Britain has no relations. It is reported Mr. Cummins is threatened with expulsion from the country.

CHINESE TO KEEP 'HUMILIATION DAY.'

VICTORIA, B.C., June 14. While Canadian flags will flutter from mastheads in commemoration of Canada's birthday on July 1, Chinese flags in the city will fly at half-mast and Chinese homes will be decorated with wreaths of mourning, marking under a deep sense of insult their memory by the recent immigration regulations. Chinese residents here have designated July 1st as "Humiliation Day," in memory of their humiliation and local Chinese assert they will not be allowed to fade. Humiliation Day will not be confined to Victoria, but will be observed in every city in Canada where Chinese reside, local Chinese say.

SMUTS IS THE FAVORITE.

CAPE TOWN, S.A., June 14. There is no likelihood of a stalemate as the result of the general election of June 17, according to the view of a special correspondent of the Cape press, who has been keeping in close touch with the progress of the political campaign. One side or the other will get a substantial majority here. The Johannesburg stock exchange is betting three to one on the Smuts' Government being victorious in the poll.

DOLLARS PER HOGSHEAD FOR HERRING.

EASTPORT, Maine, June 14. Canadian fishermen won their fight for $10 minimum price per hogshead of herring to the Maine Sardine Packers, the latter agreeing to that price yesterday. In April the fishermen were getting $12 per hogshead, but the price was cut to $8.

VALUABLE JEWELS STOLEN.

LONDON, June 15. Detectives from Scotland Yard are searching all the ports and aerodromes in the Kingdom to guard against any attempt to smuggle out the valuable jewels and art treasures, stolen early yesterday, from the Mansion of Lady Mary, in Piccadilly. The stolen property is valued at £100,000, being the noted collection of King

Ludlow reputed to be worth £1,000,000. Art dealers express the opinion that the burglars probably intend to keep the jewels for some years and then sell them abroad.

ARREST OF A SUSPECT IN TRAIN ROBBERY.

CHICAGO, June 14. A man with five bullet wounds in his body was taken to the County Hospital to-day, where he was arrested and held in connection with Thursday's sensational mail robbery. The police quickly made three other arrests and held the prisoners for questioning. The wounded man gave the name of J. H. Wayne. Wayne declared he had been shot by a woman, Miss Margaret Bay, but the police are skeptical. The police stated they found several new $1,000 bills in the wounded man's possession.

PROMINENT BOXER SHOT TO DEATH.

NEW YORK, June 15. William (Bill) Brennan, prominent heavyweight boxer, was shot and killed in the Tia Juana Cabaret, of which he was the proprietor. James Cullen, a State trooper, was shot in the neck as he ran to Brennan's rescue. Thos. Hughes and Frank Rashi, believed to be two of a band who committed the killing, are under arrest.

MISSIONARY ESCAPES FROM BAN-DITS.

PEKING, June 15. Rex Rays, U.S. Missionary, captured by river pirates in Kwangsi Province, late last month, has escaped from the mountain stronghold where he was taken, said advices received from the commander of the U.S. Gunboat Pampanga, sent to Wuchow in connection with the capture of Ray and others.

Ray was one of a party of four aboard a motor boat on the way to Kwellin to rescue missionaries believed to be in danger there because of fighting between Kwangsi and Kwangtung troops. The pirates blindfolded all four and took them to the mountain for detention. Later R. A. Jeffrey, of Toronto, and Dr. P. G. Miller, United States citizen, were released to take the pirates' demand for a heavy ransom to the captives' friends. Ray's escape leaves E. H. Carn, an Australian, as the sole member of the party still held.

Extra Special Attraction at the Nickel

POPULAR ST. JOHN'S CONTRALTO SINGING TO-NIGHT.

There is an extra attraction at this theatre commencing to-day that will delight the music-loving public, and that is the appearance of Miss Marjorie Hutchings, our own gifted Contralto who appears for a limited engagement. Miss Hutchings has selected for her opening programme two renditions that all are certain to appreciate.

The picture attraction is Ethel Clayton's beautiful starring vehicle "Can a Woman Love Twice?" But unlike many of the "mother" pictures which have gone before, "Can a Woman Love Twice?" does not deal with a gray-headed mother whose life is lived in the lives of her grown child or children. The story is a story of the girl of to-day—a girl who marries a wealthy youth just prior to his departure for the battlefields of France, and whose parents disapprove of her.

On her own resources, the girl, after giving birth to a son, innocently is persuaded to take a job in a cabaret. She abhors the life, but must make money to support her baby. Forced out of this job, she seizes the opportunity of passing herself off as the widow of another man who was killed in the war. She takes up residence with this man's father in California. The complications arising from this situation are multiplied when the supposedly dead man returns home. But the girl, because of the estrangement between father and son, does not know who the "stranger" is.

How she does learn, and how second love comes to her, forms one of the most gripping series of situations ever conceived.

The Rector's Ruse

The rector of a small and impecunious parish, before taking up active duties, questioned an old fellow named Binks—who had officiated at the parish church as sexton and sidesman since his boyhood days—as to the congregation, offertories, and so on. All the questions were answered, Binks concluding by saying that the late incumbent always placed a shilling in the plate to encourage the worshippers to give liberally.

"That's a good idea," said the rector. "I'll start the ball on Sunday with a half-crown."

After Sunday's service the rector mournfully informed Binks that the collection was "certainly poor," and, moreover, his half-crown had been abstracted.

"That's very 'ard," replied Binks, "but ye should have done as his late reverence did, and stuck it to the bottom!"

Edouard Herriot PROSPECTIVE PREMIER OF FRANCE.

LONDON, June 14.—(Can. Press)—M. Edouard Herriot, leader of the Left Bloc and prospective Premier of France in succession to M. Raymond Poincare, is Mayor of Lyons and has occupied this position for 12 successive years. He is a writer of note and an orator of exceptional persuasive power. Known as an advanced Socialist M. Herriot is what might be called in Great Britain a Liberal of the radical sort. He is the acknowledged chief brains of the forces which have overthrown Poincare.

M. Herriot and his fellow Socialist, Aristide Briand, former Premier of France, are close personal friends, and it was the commonly accepted belief that if the Premiership of France fell upon M. Briand instead of M. Herriot, the latter would be a prominent member of the new Cabinet. M. Herriot impresses one with the belief that he cares more for the advance of his political principles than for his own personal advancement, hence he would willingly have foregone the distinction of being at the head of the French Government and instead, would have accepted a lesser office in the next Cabinet as a follower of M. Briand.

M. Herriot has been an unceasing critic of M. Poincare and President Millerand. He objected to the French invasion of the Ruhr to enforce payment of reparations by Germany. This was before the French occupation was carried out. When it became an accomplished fact, however, Herriot declared his acquiescence therein by dramatically exclaiming "Now that we are there I am a Frenchman."

In 1919 M. Herriot declined nomination by the Socialists for a seat in the Senate but ran for the Chamber of Deputies and was elected. He preferred the Chamber to the Senate as a field in which he could develop his ideas and find greater expression and more freedom of movement. The Chamber of Deputies was more in keeping with his ambitions than the Senate.

M. Herriot first won distinction as a professor of rhetoric in the University of Lyons. He was not only a teacher of rhetoric but an able exemplar thereof on the public platform, and he is to-day one of the most persuasive orators in France. He is also an author of note.

He possesses a genius for organization and is an administrator of exceptional ability. As Mayor of Lyons he established a name for himself by instituting the annual Lyons International Exhibition.

During the War M. Herriot was a loyal worker in the allied cause. He was Minister of Transport and also was Food Controller, in both positions proving a great success.

In May, 1921, M. Herriot opposed the celebration in Lyons on the 100th anniversary of the death of Napoleon.

The next year he went to Russia, and on his return to France urged the recognition of the Soviet Government. In this he was not accepted as a prophet honored in his own country, and he was obliged to cease his advocacy of recognition of Russia's administration. The Press, prompted by the French Government, sought to boycott Herriot, but his speeches in the Chamber of Deputies became so important that he forced a hearing for himself.

Since the general election of May 4, with the resultant overthrow of the Poincare Government M. Herriot has been regarded at the logical successor to Raymond Poincare as Premier of France, though his name has not been the only one connected with the high office.

His lips are now so strong and hard that he can crack nuts with them, and do nearly everything the ordinary person can do with his teeth. He has been examined by many medical men, who attribute his wonderful power to hypertrophy of the muscles of the lips, which have increased enormously in thickness and firmness.

Crow Feeds Blind Bird

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., June 1—(Canadian Press)—At least one crow of Langara Island is not as black as it is painted, according to Mrs. H. Armstrong, of Langara Island Light-house. Large numbers of crows pick up food about the lighthouse and are quite tame. One crow was noticed to always fly away with all it could carry in its beak, after having first feasted. The lighthouse keeper investigated and discovered that the food was regularly taken to a nest where lived another crow, stone blind, which was unable to rustle for itself.
