It will be well for sportsmen to remember that the last act of the Ontario Legislature makes it illegal, under a heavy penalty, to hunt or kill deer after the 30th day of November.

The Globe acknowledges the justice of the grievances of the medical students in regard to the Council of Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons and Ontario Medical Act. It is predicted in some quarters that the final result of the agitation now started will be that the Act will be repealed, the Council die a natural death, and that a new and more comprehensive Act will be introduced.

The Ontario Government are still having under consideration the site of the Agricultural Farm, and that of the Asylum at Hamilton. The selection in both places will, in all probability, be effected within ten days, subject to the approval of Parliament. In the case of the Asylum at Hamilton, some twenty-five sites were offered—the greater part of them good in some particulars.

The Imperial Austrian Government contemplates introducing an electoral reform bill at the coming session of Reichsrath. The idea of this necessary measure of progress in the way of citizen enfranchisement has been cherished and moulded into legislative outline by the government with the view of its being used as an effective aid to the Cabinet policy.

The Hon. Mr. McKellar, in his speech at the North Oxford nomination, administered a severe and well merited rebuke to those snobbish gentry who attempted to cast ridicule upon him for speaking of his fall ploughing. Among the others he spoke of a certain Major who lived not far from Woodstock, and who said of him, when he could not attend a certain meeting that "he supposed Mr. McKellar was engaged husking his corn." Of course that was a miserable occupation for a gentleman, but he confessed he was engaged in that work, and he could husk corn still. He could do more; whenever he could get hold of the character making these statements he could husk him too.

The Ottawa Free Press learns from a mining engineer, who has spent some time in explorations upon the north shore of Lake Superior, that the gold discoveries on Lake Shebandowan, of which so much was said a year since, turn out to be of little practical importance. There is gold there in quartz rocks in well defined veins, but it cannot be made to yield more than $40 a ton, and this is not enough to pay the cost of getting it out. In the Shebandowan country, however, it appears that gold is found in considerable quantities in the alluvial earth brought down from the mountains. On Peace River especially, a considerable number of diggers are making from $10 to $20 a day.

The Body of Horace Greeley Lying in State.

PREPARATIONS FOR HIS FUNERAL.

The scene at the City Hall, New York, on Tuesday, where Mr. Greeley's body lay in state, has had no parallel since the day the body of President Lincoln lay within its walls. The building itself has a sombre and mournful appearance. Flags were at half-mast, pillars were enfolded in black serge, while festoons of the same material drooped over the portico and enframed the windows. Fronting the new post-office, on the balcony, surrounded in mourning ornaments, and in the heavy folds of the United States banner, was the portrait of Horace Greeley. Below was the inscription, "We remember with pride his busy life." People continued to pour in all day and till ten o'clock at night. The coffin was black with heavy silver handles. At the head was a portrait of Mr. Greeley, as he appeared in life, and a large chaplet of fiber roses. The coffin bore the inscription, "Horace Greeley, born February 3rd, 1811, died November 29th, 1873, and was ornamented with festoons of natural fern leaves. At the head was a second inscription, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," and yet another at the foot worked in violets—"The city mourns our loss."

Dr. Chapin's Church is being heavily draped; over the pulpit being an arch of flowers, with the words, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," and the pew of the deceased is covered with black, with a harp with a broken string occupying Mr. Greeley's place. The body of the church will be occupied only by the immediate friends of Mr. Greeley and the Tribune employees. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Messrs. Beecher and Chapin and Miss Kellogg will sing, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." Admission to the church will be by ticket. The citizens of Brooklyn will erect a $25,000 monument to the late Mr. Greeley in Prospect Park. All the municipal corporations in the vicinity of New York will officially attend the funeral. President Grant and several members of his Cabinet, besides members of Congress and representatives of various public bodies will also be present.

INCENDIARY FIRE IN ERAMOSA.—On Tuesday evening the barn and stables on the farm, lot 17 or 18, con. 6, Eramosa, rented by Mr. Robt. Sutton from Mr. Aaron Abbott, were burned down. It appears that Mr. Sutton fed his cattle about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and then left for Everton; on his return, he went inside the dwelling house to speak for a moment to his wife, and on coming out again, and approaching the barn, discovered the flames issuing from the roof. He immediately repaired to the stables to unloose the cattle and horses, but to his surprise found them all untied and the chains, &c., in their proper places. The sheep were rescued with difficulty, one having, it is supposed, perished in the flames. A considerable quantity of grain was consumed, also a valuable new reaper and buggy. We learn that Mr. Sutton is insured for $500 in the Eramosa Mutual and the barn is said to be insured by Mr. Abbott for $100. The origin of the fire is unknown, but judging from the circumstances of the cattle being loose, it looks almost quite certain that it was the work of an incendiary. No one was seen near the premises that afternoon.

It is stated that it is the intention of the Great Western Railway Company to open the Canada Air Line for the transmission of freight on the 10th December.

Volunteer Rifle Match.

(From a Correspondent.)

A match took place at Fergus, on the Fergus Rifle Range, on Friday, November 29th, between the Eramosa Rifle Company and the Fergus Rifle Company. Ranges 200 yards and 400 yards, five shots at each range. Although the day was very cold, and a steady wind blowing across the range, the shooting was good. We began to see before the match closed that the Eramosa boys were taking the lead, which may be seen by the following score. After the match was over the firing party was taken to Mr. Hughes' hotel where dinner was provided for them in a very handsome manner. The following is the score:

PHYSLICK HONORS.—Many persons physic their horses frequently—especially every spring. This is a great error, and one which has caused the loss of many valuable horses, as physio as it is usually given, often produces inflammation of the bowels which generally proves fatal; it also weakens the horse and thus renders him more liable to disease, or less able to throw it off—what is required is a medicine which will operate gently upon the bowels, and act upon the liver and lungs, removing all obstructions therefrom, purifying the blood, and enabling all the organs to do their work without overtaxing any, which is accomplished by the use of "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," it is always safe and certain. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by a medicine dealer.
