Here is something that is worth many dollars to every farmer to know: Sprinkle lime in your stock tank and not a particle of scum will form on the water. When the lime loses its strength scum will begin to form which will be twice during the season, wash out the tank and repeat the dose. It is cheap, not only harmless but wholesome keeps the water sweet and saves the live stock.

Come early for bargains in lace curtains, etc., on Saturday at Anderson's.

One of our good farmers was telling on the street yesterday a conversation he chanced to hear between a young boy in his teens and a Christian Scientist. It appears that the Scientist came across a small boy sitting under an apple tree doubled up with pain. "My little man," he said, "what is the matter?" "I ate some green apples," moaned the boy, "and, oh how I ache." "You don't ache answered the student of Mrs. Eddy, "you only think so." The boy looked up in astonishment at such a statement and then replied in a most positive manner. "That's all right; you may think so but I've got inside information."

Mrs. A. S. Savage received a telegram on Thursday last from Atlanta, Ga., announcing the fact that her brother, Mr. Henry Ira Wales, had died suddenly the night before at Asheville, N. C. From a letter received on Tuesday it was learned that he had not been feeling well for some time and had gone to Asheville for a short holiday. He was taken sick the 4th of July and a couple of physicians were called. They found his heart weak and left him some medicine and he appeared to be doing alright during the evening. The next morning about 8 o'clock, however, he was found dead in bed, his spirit apparently having taken its flight without a struggle, and heart failure was undoubtedly the cause. Deceased was an unusually bright and clever young man and a graduate of Toronto University. He was a son of Mr. James Wales, of Markham, and was 35 years old.

One of the heaviest thunderstorms that has visited this section for some years occurred on Sunday evening last just as people were getting ready to go to church. The result was that our Baptist friends were the only ones who made any pretence at holding service. As they do not commence until a half an hour later than the others the rain had ceased somewhat and about 30 persons were in the church. At the Methodist church there were 12 in the congregation, the English church had 9 and the Presbyterian church 6.

Cherries this week $1.00 a basket at Young & Caven.

We are going to have a great fair this fall unless all indications fail. The crops throughout the country look fine, there are many more head of thoroughbred stock in this section than ever before, heavy horses are much more in evidence and the farmers all seem to be taking a greater interest than ever before. That is what we want. If we all lift a little the load will be light and we will have a great fair in 1906.

Our citizens, generally, will regret to learn that Mr. P. F. Munro, classical master of the Aylmer Collegiate Institute for the past few years, has tendered his resignation to the board and accepted the position of head master of the Aurora High School. Both Mr. and Mrs. Munro have made many warm friends here, all of whom will wish them success and happiness in their new home.

The news of the sudden death of Mrs. Charlotte Emery, of Port Barwell, came as a great shock to her many friends and relatives here on Monday last. She was apparently in her usual health in the morning and partook of her dinner as usual, and afterwards sat on the veranda. While there she complained of faintness and her son brought her a glass of water and after drinking this she was seized with nausea and vomiting. She was helped into the house and a doctor was sent for, but she died soon after her arrival. Mrs. Emery came to Pt. Barwell as a bride 35 years ago. She has always been active in church work and was loved by all who knew her. She is survived by one son Gordon who was with her when she expired; two daughters Lillian and Harriet who are away on a trip and one brother Wm. J. Jones, manager of the Standard Bank Bonnaville. Deceased was in her 66th year. Her children have the sincerest sympathy of all in their sad loss. The funeral will take place on Saturday at Trinity church cemetery Pt. Barwell.
