WON IN THE FIRST. Rain stopped a very pretty game of ball yesterday. The crowd would have preferred no rain at all, but as "it" was bound to rain, "it" rained at ex-will extend that he was safet on third. Congalton overran second, and Reid drove the ball to Sippi, who caught Congalton on the line. Jennings meanwhile started to come home, and Sippi actly the right time to suit the Londons and their admirers, who were, therefore, very much obliged to "it."
"It" rained, however, just a little bit too late to please the Leafs, and the when Guelph had a chance to tie the latter had to console themselves with the reflection, as they took refuge in the grand stand, with the score against half of the sixth, the rain was coming

This patched-up aggregation put up a very good article of ball, nevertheless, and the audience would have liked more than five and a half in-nings of it. The good-looking Mr. Crow, who shows his pretty set of teeth every time he pitches a strike, was sent to the box to serve up shoots for the Londons and as usual perfor the Londons, and, as usual, per formed his duty with neatness and dispatch. Crow is doing two men's work of late, and has completely eclipsed the village blacksmith, Geo. Bradford, who once was Guelph's white-haired boy. Georgie pounds iron all winter, and in summers gone by used to pound the ball with equa vigor; but this season he has pounded in the box in the past few weeks the opposing batsmen have generally pounded Georgie. Guelph has string out for a new pitcher with a gilt edge record, and unless Georgie brace up he may have to fall back on his trade for a living. The Londons started out yesterday

The Home Team Defeated the Jennings singled. It now began to pour down, and Umpire Weber called the game until the rain should abate. As Guelph's chances for a run or two looked ripe, Roberts, of course, was willing to play on, even if it rained cats and dogs. He registered a great big kick, but the London's declined to get soaked for the glory of Guelph, and took refuge in the grand stand. Hi-You and his flock soon followed

It soon slacked off a little, and Weber ordered the game to go on. Congalton was next to bat, and made a single, scoring Roberts. Things looked very much Guelph as Bates stepped to the bat. Bates drove a fly into Hickey's glove, and then followed the second triple play of the season by the home team. Hickey threw home to catch Jennings at the plate, but Jennings ecided that he was safer on thir them 5 to 3, that the wet was a very good thing for the crops.

The Leafs, decimated by desertion and sickness, arrived with only nine men, and had one of them taken sick or been crippled, Hi-Yu would have had to borrow a player from London, or the veteran, Daddy Hewer, their manager, would have had to throw drenched Leafs under cover on the run people were thankful that they had a waterproof roof over their heads.
