

THE ONLY
One Cent Morning Paper
IN CANADA
18 KING ST. EAST, TORONTO

The Toronto World

SUBSCRIPTION
THREE DOLLARS A YEAR
TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A MONTH
DELIVERED IN CITY AND SUBURBS
18 KING ST. EAST, TORONTO

FOURTH YEAR.

MONDAY MORNING MARCH 19 1883.

PRICE ONE CENT.

HONORING ST. PATRICK.

A QUIET CELEBRATION IN THE CITY ON SATURDAY.

The entertainments at night—A stirring oration by Mr. Nicholas Murphy—On the Unity of the Irish People.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in a quiet way in Toronto. The street procession having been omitted, accounts principally for this fact. However, the Irish citizens observed the day earnestly and the two entertainments in the evening were very successful. An entertainment also took place in St. Helena's Church, Brockton, which netted a satisfactory amount. The great procession is reported from Montreal.

The concert at St. Lawrence hall on Saturday night was crowded. It was under the auspices of the Irish Catholic Benevolent association. Mr. D. Harnett presided. The program was lengthy and varied. The event of the evening was Mr. Nicholas Murphy's oration on the unity of the Irish people. Ad. Peter Ryan and Mr. D. O'Donoghue also made addresses.

Mr. Murphy was greeted warmly. He said that wherever Irishmen and the name of Ireland were known this day would be celebrated, either in a demonstrative way, or by quiet entertainments. But it should not only be on St. Patrick's day that Irishmen should remember that they are not dependants on another nation, but that they are citizens of their own country. They should always stand in the front ranks of the nation, and not be content to be a people of the second rank. Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

IRISH AFFAIRS THREATENING.

LONDON, March 18.—There is much speculation concerning the changes announced by Mr. Gladstone. It is uncertain whether there will be a change of education and a new minister of education and commerce, or whether the proposed duties will be distributed between the council and the board of trade. No cabinet room has yet been offered to Lord Rosebery, though his is the only name much discussed outside. The Times strongly opposes a separate ministry for Ireland.

The recent events go to confirm the opinion long entertained by observers, that the Irish difficulty will ultimately drag the Gladstone ministry down. The proposed international alliance against Fenians, anarchists, and socialists would probably be entertained favorably if there were any hope of the United States joining a league of the governments. Great views of the American people on the subject. Such an alliance is deemed by many, these not alarmists, essential to the preservation of order. The project has not yet been brought officially before the government.

LADY FLORENCE DIXIE.

ATTACK UPON HER BY TWO MEN IN WOMEN'S CLOAKS.

She falls in a swoon and is saved by Mrs. Deane—One of the Assassins supposed to have been bitten.

LONDON, March 18.—Lady Florence Dixie was attacked at Windsor yesterday by two men disguised in women's clothes. Her dress was cut with daggers, but she received no injury. Lady Florence was walking in a secluded spot near the woods when two men asked her what time it was. She replied she had no watch, and afterward noticed, though they were women's clothes, their faces had been shaved. She was much alarmed and started to walk away, followed by the men. One of whom seized her, she struggled to escape, but seeing their daggers, fell in a swoon. This occurred at 4 p.m., and she did not recover till 4.45. Lady Florence has been confined to bed. The story of the attack was elicited from her only at intervals. The saving of her life is attributed to her St. Bernard dog, which barked and barked her while she lay in a swoon. Lady Florence had no reason to suspect immediate danger, although she has been somewhat fearful since the receipt of letters about the land league. The last thing she remembers is one of the men putting a quantity of mud into her mouth. On recovery, she found her palms were cut across the wrists, and the fingers of her right hand were cut off. The wounds were not deep, but she has been confined to bed for several days. The police have been notified, and a search is being made for the assassins. It is believed the attack was a result of the land league. The assailants were seen to be dressed in women's clothes, and one of them was wearing a hat with a veil. The police are searching for a man of Irish extraction, who is supposed to have been one of the assassins.

ENGLAND AND IRELAND.

A Cable Company Instructed from London to Land Property if Necessary.

Howe Kono, Feb. 20.—It is reported that the British authorities propose to admit the example of the Germans and resort to forcible measures if private business is obstructed by the Chinese. The British Telegraph company desires to land new cable at Shanghai, but acknowledge a doubt of its right to do so, and has asked permission of the Chinese authorities, who without their consent, will not allow the cable to be laid. The British Telegraph company desires to land new cable at Shanghai, but acknowledge a doubt of its right to do so, and has asked permission of the Chinese authorities, who without their consent, will not allow the cable to be laid. The British Telegraph company desires to land new cable at Shanghai, but acknowledge a doubt of its right to do so, and has asked permission of the Chinese authorities, who without their consent, will not allow the cable to be laid.

SPIRITUALISM A FRAUD.

DA. WILD DOES NOT BELIEVE IN SUPERNATURAL AGENTS.

How Tabletop Mediums—The Forces of the Mesmerist—Scientific and Superstitious—The Agents that are at Work.

The congregation that gathered to hear the prophetic preacher last night was small on account of the blustering weather. The Doctor selected his text from 1st Thessalonians 5:2: "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." These words have a true meaning ring about them. The liberty announced and restraint imposed, no one can object to. The aim of christianity is not to restrain man in his attempts at finding out the truth. Hence every christian should be a soldier against idolatry, superstition, and falsehood; and in order to fight these it is necessary that he should know what they constitute. I believe in disembodied spirits and a connecting medium. The question then is, are these produced phenomena according to what I do not deny that spirits can be moved, still yet there is nothing produced that is supernatural, but the realm of humanity. Intelligent men in our city actually deny the most common phenomena, and it is here that we make a mistake in disputing the statements of those who have witnessed them. It is necessary that we should know what we are engaged with, and what we are engaged with, and what we are engaged with.

MR. PARNELL'S POSITION.

HE DENIES ANY RESPONSIBILITY FOR ACTS OF VIOLENCE.

Opinions of the Foreign Press—Laborers in England and Scotland Becoming Dangerously Impatient.

LONDON, March 17.—The Standard connects the dynamite outrage with Parnell's menace to parliament regarding the rejection of his new land bill, and ascribes its actual sequel to complete discontinuity of the Irish in Ireland. Foreign papers generally deprecate the outrage, as compromising Ireland's prospects with the government, which is earnestly trying to improve the country.

The case and explosive contents used in the attempted blow up of the Times, are exactly similar to those found after the recent explosion in Glasgow.

Parnell declares that the Irish party is absolutely innocent of all cases for blame in connection with the recent explosion. The Irish party, he says, is honestly endeavoring to secure remedial legislation through the regular course of Parliament. It has no need to resort to such acts of public violence, and has every reason to refrain from such illegal acts. Notwithstanding all the troubles of the Irish people, there is as much bitter war in England and Scotland, and as much bitter hostility among the poor and idle of both countries against those lodged in power, as there ever was in Ireland. The Irish are struggling for fair politics. They are accustomed to being hungry and ill-housed and clad, and are not interested in the success of the laborers in Scotland and England, who are idle, hungry, and dangerously impatient.

It is stated that Parnell started for Paris yesterday evening.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It is the love of one's country, and it is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot. It is the love of one's country that makes a man a patriot.

ALL QUIET IN PARIS.

The Anarchists Fail to Meet—A Demonstration at Geneva.

PARIS, March 18.—It is stated that Louis Michel fled to Switzerland. Resounding telegrams have been received from the prefects throughout the country.

Up to 3.30 this afternoon the day was quiet. The anarchists failed to meet at the usual hour at the Champ de Mars, where a meeting of communists was announced, where many communists were buried. And why have we not this situation now? Because they say Ireland is not capable of governing herself.

He then read the following editorial from Saturday's Telegram:

It does not need the return of St. Patrick's day to call the attention of the people to the fact that the terrible outrages of the past year have not only driven the Irish people from the principles and the policy pursued by the Government, but have also driven the Irish people from the honor of mankind. The chivalry and the honor of mankind are not to be despised. Patriotism is not a mere name, but a reality. It