

BUSINESS POINTERS.

Bells and organs. There is naturally an association between bells and organs. The bells are placed in the tower, and the organs in the choir loft. The bells invite the worshippers, and the organs furnish them with music. This is probably why the Bells of Guelph are so popular with congregations which use organs. It is more than probable why the Bells of Guelph have been able to keep up the music in their shops during dull times. Churches buy organs from the Bells. Societies buy from them. Private citizens buy from them. Canadians, Britons, Germans, Australians, all manner of men, buy the Bell organs. It is not so very long ago since the Bells started in Guelph in a modest way. It is in witness to the memory of many residents of Guelph, and W. Bell himself likes to refer to it. Their progress has been swift, unintermitted, and deserved. Their institution is one in which Guelph takes pardonable pride, and all the more so because a son of the family has proved himself worthy of the British agent for the firm. It says not a little for Young Canada when he is capable of meeting the business agents of the world in the markets of the world. The features of the bells features about W. Bell & Co. are that they do not seek to hide their light under a bushel; they are open to inspection, and guarantee satisfaction. Perhaps the risk they run in offering such a guarantee is not very great, as they have not yet been called upon to pay a forfeit.

Canadian Springs in Other Latitudes. Once upon a time a stranger entered a St. Louis hotel. He proposed to stop there all night. The reason he wanted to stay there all night was because his home was far away in Canada. He could not walk to Guelph that night, being tired and travel stained. The diamond-decked hotel clerk handed him a gold pen, and he inscribed his name on it. "I am," responded the stranger. "And you also make the best sleighing in your springs in Canada of any country in the world. I wish you could have a ride in one of your Canadian cutters." "That being impossible in St. Louis mud," replied Armstrong, "you can ride in a buggy fitted up with our springs." It was the idle boast. The Armstrong Manufacturing Company of Guelph has introduced Canadian springs to many distant climes.

A Household Word. The name of Thos. Worwick has long been a household word in Guelph and the district round about. Years ago he became the pioneer of high speed engines in western Canada, and the position then achieved is still maintained. The working of an engine is like the eating of a pudding—the proof is in the pudding. The Brown engine, with Worwick's improvements, has been put to the proof by many large firms in this and other cities, including Gooderham & Worts, Crip, Peabody & Co., Queen's wharf elevator, and others. Montreal and other Quebec cities, Brandon, Man., and, in short, dozens of manufacturing centres in all the provinces, furnish similar references. It used to be said some years ago that Canada could not manufacture for herself. That theory is now exploded, because Canada does manufacture for herself, thanks to the energy and enterprise of such men as Thomas Worwick.

Is the Dog's Hair Bristled to the Money? From the Court Journal. A wealthy lady in Russia at her death placed her pet dog Gypsy in the hands of a friend, with the request to provide for her with the annual interest on 1000 roubles, set aside for that purpose in her testament. The other day Gypsy died, and the lady who had charge of her took it for granted that the money was now her own. Another lady, however, appeared on the scene, who owned a son of Gypsy, and who claimed that her dog was heir to the income of the 1000 roubles, since nothing was said in the testament regarding the disposal of this money after the death of Gypsy. In some places in Russia pet dogs have visiting cards, calling lists and receipt books.

Why He Refused Plea. From the New York Journal. "Johnny, will you have some pie?" asked a small boy's mother at a dinner party. "No, no, thank you," he replied, testily, with a sly look at the pantry. "Why," said one of the guests to the little fellow, "don't you like pie?" "Oh, yes, sir; I like it, but—" He stopped short as he saw his mother eyeing him sternly.

"Well, ma told me before dinner that I mustn't take any pie if she asked me, 'cause there's only enough for the company. That's all."

—Jas. Shannon, Leaskdale, writes: For many years my wife was troubled with chilblains, and could not walk. I used about two years ago; she was then unable to walk, and the pain was then so excruciating that she could not sleep at night. Your agent was then here on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could cure her. He told her Dr. Hogg's Electric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and judge of her astonishment when in a few days, the pain was allayed and the foot restored to its natural position. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever used.

—Furred tongue and impure breath are two concomitants of biliousness remedied by Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Deobiliary and Dyspeptic Cure. Heartburn, which harasses the dyspeptic after meals, and all the perplexing and changeable symptoms of established indigestion, are relieved by this salutary corrective tonic and celebrated blood purifier.

A Famous English Actress. From the London World. I hear with much regret that Mrs. Alfred Mellon is quite broken down in health and that she is mentally, as well as physically, afflicted. Those of us who have passed the brow of the hill and have begun to descend upon the shady side, treasure among the brightest and pleasantest of our theatrical recollections the good old Adelphi days, when clever and generous Mrs. Mellon held a foremost place in our affections. To the new generation of playgoers Mrs. Alfred Mellon is not so well known, but she has not been kind to her in her later years; but she deserves to be remembered not only as one of the most popular actresses of her day, but as one who has borne, throughout a long theatrical career, a name that no breath of scandal has ever ventured to assail.

The Discovery of Langtry. From Town Topics. The statement copied into some of our daily journals, that the Duke of Bedford was the discoverer of the lovely Lily of Jersey Island is incorrect. The Duke of Bedford is not an explorer of that kind, does not belong to the Prince of Wales' set, and is a staid and sensible gentleman, and "cannot" possibly find a fever in his, as in Child Harold's sight. On the Lily's own authority, which, it is presumed, is the best, she was presented to the prince by his brother Leopold, Duke of Albany, who was very fond of strolling around studios, and met her at a painter's, to whom she was sitting for her picture, on a short visit to Babylon with her husband. He was struck with her Grecian style of beauty and spoke of her to his brother, who came, saw, and was conquered.

—You need not cough all night and disturb your friends; there is no occasion for you rubbing the risk of contracting inflammation of the lungs or consumption while you can get Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. This medicine cures, coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs and all throat and chest troubles. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, which immediately relieves the throat and lungs from violent phlegm.

New Mexican News Gama. From the Albuquerque (N.M.) Democrat. All three of our justices have been indicted for embezzlement. This looks like a slap in the face of justice itself.

A friend of Cass Vanandie says that the man who says that the latter has a wife in Ogden, Utah, or anywhere else, is a liar. The numerous homes on the local "press" this paper from outside towns were furnished by a retired reporter for the Democrat. They are fresh and reliable.
