SHE HAD TWO HUSBANDS ALIVE.

One in the Lunatic Asylum, of Whom the Other Never Heard—She Died With Her Secret—Other Law Cases.

The master in chambers yesterday made an order at the instance of the Metropolitan Manufacturing Company, directing the Sheriff of Toronto to replevy certain household goods now in the possession of the Rev. Dr. Wad-el-Ward, which the company claims. An affidavit was filed in which it was stated that the goods are of the value of $500, that the defendant is about to remove the goods, and that unless replevied the company will, it is believed, loose the amount.

Mrs. Mary A. Millard, formerly a resident of Toronto, removed to Cleveland, taking with her an infant daughter. The daughter was entitled to certain moneys in court here. Not, long ago she died, aged is years, but before doing so made a will in favor of her mother, and yesterday an order was made for payment of the money out to the mother. It was shown that a female of is years of age is capable of making a will in the state of Ohio and probate of the will was produced.

Mrs. James A. Gibney of East Gwillimbury died leaving a small estate of personalty and reaity, the latter being at the town of Orillia, where she formerly lived. The Toronto General Trusts Co. was administering the estate, but during the course of the proceedings it came to light that Mrs. Gibney's first husband was still alive and was an inmate of the Hamilton asylum. Mr. Gibney obtained from the brothers and sisters of Mrs. Gibney a release of their interest in her real estate, and would have been undisputed owner thereof had not a claim been filed on behalf of William Smith, the first husband. Smith has been an inmate of the ago. An order was made for the administration of the extate and judgment reserved as to the appointment of Tr. Hoskin, official guardian, to represent the lunatic's interests in the matter.

Mr. R. L. Fraser, acting for George B. Foster, a tenant in the new building at the corner of Gerrard and Yonge-streets, yesterday issued against Mrs. Annie H. Kerr, executrix of the late W. H. C. It seems that the trouble arises from the leasing of the hall at nights to private parties and societies for the purpose of holding dances, and this, it is alleged, has been carried to such an extent that tenants cannot enjoy the quiet possession covenanted for cannot enjoy the quiet possession covenanted for.

REDUCING ASSESSMENTS. some Big Reductions Made in All Direc-

The youngest ward in the city had the fewest appeals. Yesterday morning's session of the Court of Revision was devoted to St. Alban's Ward.
Harriet R. Steele, executrix for Thomas Steele, objected to an assessment of $5981 on 86 to 96 Lansdowne-avenue. The assessment

86 to 96 Lansdowne-avenue. The assessment was reduced to the even $5000. William Harder was assessed for $2000 income. He said that it was earned outside of the city and it-was accordingly struck off. Frederick Whimbey was willing to take $1200 apiece for two houses that were assessed for $1463. The court reduced it by $526. Lieutenant-Colonal George Taylor Denison was present with a large load of assessment rolls and a larger load of grievances. He complained of his assessments and grew eloquent in his wail. One hour was devoted to his case. He made good use of his time. He carried the memories of the court back to 1857 and predicted the future of the city for everal generations. Like the woman of old before the unjust judge he was at length heard for his importunity, and succeeded in having his assessment reduced by $5250.

Then came Col. Fred. C. Denison, M.P., and just 40 minutes of the court was taken Then came: Col. Fred. C. Denison, M.F., and just 40 minutes of the court was taken up with his wrongs. He also succeeded in having his assessment reduced by $8310.

James Armstrong appeared to appeal against the assessment against some vacant lots owned by him in Dufferin-street and Emerson-avenue. He managed to convince the court that there was really a depreciation in the value of his land, and accordingly the assessment on the Dufferin-street lots was reduced by $1 per foot, and in Emerson-avenue by $2 per foot.

George Doherty owns some property that he described as a bog, where snipes have been feeding all summer. "What will you give me, Mr. Chairman," he asked, "for collecting rent if I should hand the property over to the city?" His assessment on his land reduced by $400.

Alexander Burns had the assessment on his land reduced by $4 per foot. The property is stuated in Dundar-street. Dr. J. A. Todd had the assessment on his vacant lots in College-street reduced by $10 per foot, amounting in all to $1550. Richard Guthrey had the assessment against his property in Dundas-street reduced from $41,865 to $35,000. Thomas Bolard, 642 Brock-avenue, had a reduction of $1930 made on his property in Symington-avenue. Thomas Bolard had $600 taken off the assessment against his property in Bloor-street. J. M. Delamere had $1500 deducted from the assessment against several lots in Rusholme-road. There was a reduction made on the land of $5 per foot.
