SUBSTITUTES!

The public are cautioned against a custom which is growing quite common of late among a certain class of medicine dealers, and which is this: When asked for a bottle of Pain-Killer, they suddenly discover that they are "sold out," "but have another article just as good, if not better," which they will supply at the same price. The object of this deception is transparent. These substitutes are made up to sell on the great reputation of the Pain-Killer; and being compounded of the vilest and cheapest drugs, are bought by the dealer at about half what he pays for the genuine Pain-Killer, which enables him therefore to realize a few cents more profit per bottle upon the imitation article than he can on the genuine.

For CHOLERA, MORBUS, CRAMPS, ALL SUMMER OR FEVER COMPLAINTS, PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER IS UNEQUALLED. IT CURES ALMOST INSTANTLY. The PAIN-KILLER is put upon 2oz. and 5oz. bottles, retailing at 25 and 50 cents respectively. Bottles are therefore cheapest.

SEA WATER GARGLE IN CHRONIC CATARRH.—Professor Mosler says, in the Berlin "Weekly Clinic," that he has for some years most successfully treated patients with chronic catarrh of the throat by gargling with sea water. Special rooms for gargling have been erected on the seashore in some watering places, according to his directions. It is, however, essential that the patients should be given special directions how to gargle. As the affection is generally located in the naso-pharyngeal space, it is necessary that part of the water should come in contact with the nasal cavity. In order to attain this, the gargling movements must be combined with movements of deglutition. A marked improvement in the state of the patient follows as soon as the latter has acquired this particular art of gargling.

HOW CANDIES ARE MADE.—It is an easy matter to drop a luscious chocolate cream or crystal candy into one's mouth, but the process by which the morsel is produced is not so small a matter. Take a chocolate cream for instance. First, a half barrel of sugar is put into a caldron with a little water, and placed over a slow fire until it assumes a paste-like consistency. Then it is put on a marble slab and worked, like butter, until it is smooth and plastic. That paste forms the basis of all cream candies. The flavouring is put in afterward—vanilla, orange, lemon, strawberry, pine-apple—anything, in fact, that may be desired. The chocolate used comes in huge cakes, is melted, and the creams covered with it by dipping them in rapidly. The crystallizing of candies requires more work, and it is thus that an especially prepared apparatus is used. First, the form of the candy is secured by mouldings in finely-ground starch. Then the candy, flavoured and prepared according to taste, is reduced to a syrup and poured in the moulds, and placed in a closet to cool slowly. These closets are kept at a certain temperature, and it requires from three hours to several days to bring the candy to the right consistency. When it is taken out the starch is removed with a brush, and the candies are ready for sale. Each kind requires a different mode of treatment.

THE TREATMENT OF EXCITEMENT.—At the close of an article on the treatment of nervous and mental excitement of various kinds, Dr. J. A. Campbell gives, in the "Lancet," a summary, as follows: That in excitement sedative treatment during the day is at times necessary, to render patients manageable. I, however, think that when used for any length of time the patient remains somewhat longer in a stupid or mentally clouded state after the excitement passes off. That in acutely excited patients, where exercise does not cause sleep at night, it is well to induce it artificially, so as to prevent injury to health from exhaustion; but this form of treatment should only be used for short periods. That I have found chloral a most certain sleep producer, and harmless. That with excitement and sleeplessness in chronic patients it is at times necessary, for the quiet of an asylum, to give sleep producers, but the necessity may be much diminished by open-air exercise and employment. That careful, frequently repeated feeding is as necessary in the treatment of excitement as in that of any other acute and exhausting disease; that its neglect may induce dementia. That in the vast majority of cases of acute excitement prolonged exercise in the open air does away with the necessity for sedative treatment or the use of sleep producers, and in a great measure obviates recourse to seclusion, but involves extra supervision and more attendants. That, after a six years' use of bromide of potassium in epilepsy, I am in a position to corroborate the evidence of others as to its efficacy in the treatment of epilepsy, by reducing the number of fits and allaying the irritability almost always concomitant with epilepsy. The arranging the dose to suit the case, and at intervals examining the patient, as in any other form of treatment, must not be overlooked. That the morning shower bath is an important auxiliary in the treatment of excitement in the young of both sexes. That in some cases, where excitement appears due to ovarian irritation, blistering over the ovaries appears to do good, and that this subject is worthy of attention.
