

look askance at me. That comes from the eye and the wrist. You have it or have it not. It is a gift of the Lord! Even the fencing-masters come and challenge me from jealousy. The 1st of last July, before leaving Valenciennes, the staff of the regiment had betted on me against that of the regiment of Conti (infantry). Their fencing-master, Bayard, a dark little man from the South, always called me 'the Alsatian.' That irritated me. I sent two prévôts to call him out. It was all settled, and the next day we were paraded in the park. He jumped about like a cat; but in the third attack I ran him through, just under the right nipple, very neatly. He had not time to say, 'Hit!' All was over.
