

ears are put on for amusement, solely to relieve its great expanse of cheek. The places where its eyebrows ought to be are there, but the eyebrows have not yet arrived, which gives rise to a suspicion that babies are bare-faced creatures.

It has eyes, which eyes it chiefly uses to express astonishment—evoked, no doubt, by the antics and language of those about. It has a mouth, too, which it uses for putting its hands and feet into, together with keys, pencils, coins, pieces of coal and other odds and ends that it may find lying about. A baby's mouth is by far the most useful of its possessions.

Babies wear clothes. The chief object aimed at in dressing a baby is to lose the baby among the clothes. If you have a foot and a half or two feet of baby you will require from forty to fifty yards of clothes to dress it properly.—BY A BACHELOR.

Notes from Ste. Rose du Lac.

A most successful concert (musical and dramatic) was held in the new church now under construction on the evening of the 13th of July. The proceeds are towards paying for the windows and doors. During the evening refreshments were sold, and a sheep, given for the purpose by Mr. Shannon, was raffled, the lucky winner being Mrs. H. Houde. The amount realized over and above the expenses is about $80.

The scene was tastefully decorated with festoons, bulrushes and branches interspersed with flags, a Union Jack occupying the place of honor above the Queen's portrait. The program, which was long and varied, French and English, was ably carried out by the Misses C. A., H. F. Tucker and the Messrs J. A. Hamelin, C. Jacob, D. Neault, W. Tucker, J. Spence, E. and J. Houde and J. Robinson. Miss Shannon presided at the organ and accompanied the violin duets by Messrs J. Neault and songs by M. Castel F. Bertrand, Mrs. N. Adam and Miss N. Shannon.

A French play entitled "L'Archiduc Casimir," "Advertising for a servant" and the "Tableaux vivants" deserve especial mention.

A WEIRD JUNGLE STORY.

TWO SPORTSMEN, AN EARTH-QUAKE, AND A RHINOCEROS.

London Daily Mail.

A correspondent, whose veracity has hitherto been above suspicion, writes from Ha-Flong, in Assam, relating a story of the recent earth-quake there, which is best given without further comment than the above testimonial. It is as follows:—

Two residents of Ha-Flong, were out shooting rhinoceros forty-eight miles away from the station. They had been following up the spoor of one of these pachyderms, and finally came upon it quietly browsing in a valley. The first sportsman, waiting his opportunity, took careful aim, and was on the point of firing, when the quickwitted animal spotted him and charged just as the shikar pulled the trigger, the earth began to tremble violently, and the bullet missed its mark.

The marksman was thrown to the ground by the rocking of the of the earth-crust, and the rhinoceros, wobbling about through the same cause, charged on to its helpless victim. But providence opened a yawning chasm between them, into which the pachyderm fell and was engulfed. At the time of the animal being swallowed up by the gigantic earth-crack, the sportsman's companion fired at the beast, but the oscillation made him aim so badly that he shot his already prostrate friend, and when the smoke cleared away could scarcely believe his senses, which told him the rhinoceros was defunct.

However, sportsman No. 2 summoned some hill men, and improvising a dhoohy, or stretcher, had his wounded companion carried in to Ha-Flong, where he as at present being attended to by the resident surgeon, and brought slowly back to life by the nursing of his fiancée.

"About 1730," says Dr. Ashe "Porter has first manufactured in the City of London" This name was given to the beverage, because the principal consumers, were the Stalwart Porters of the day, who found its invigorating properties most beneficial, under their strain of work.

The names of Porter or Stout (as used by the public) are synonymous. We wish to mention our STOUT. Made from pure Malt and Hops it is most nourishing to the Invalid, because of its peculiar, aromatic flavour.

It is grateful to the Jaded Palate, because of its TONIC QUALITIES.

It creates a healthy appetite, and builds up the system.

All sized bottles from half pints.
