

THOMAS C. DeWOLF

Director, Market Opportunities Development

Thomas C. DeWolf holds a B.A. in Political Science from Trinity College, University of Toronto, and a B.Ed. from Dalhousie University. Thomas launched his career as a naval officer before pursuing a long-standing interest in international relations. As a Foreign Service Officer with External Affairs, he was posted to The Hague, Hong Kong and Singapore.

In 1990, Tom joined the Union Chase Group of Companies, living and working in Asia and Europe. As the Commercial and Managing Director, he developed and managed international commercial projects related to infrastructure and technology, including the redevelopment of Chengdu Airport; he represented European companies exporting to China in a range of industry sectors. Returning to Canada in late 2000, Tom joined the CCC in March 2001 in his present capacity as Director of Market Opportunities and responsible for CCC's seven regional representatives.

Fluent in English and French, Thomas has a conversational knowledge of Spanish and Dutch and some Cantonese.
