

THE MEDICAL MUSEUM
MCGILL UNIVERSITY

MONTREAL, Jan. 6th, 1925.

ADMINISTRATION, CONT'D.

Under one management, specimens would be placed in their proper departments, preventing all overlapping, while maintaining with due respect the wishes of individual donors. Under a central administration, no additional expense need be incurred until funds be made available for such a purpose.

For the general administration of McGill University Museums, there should be a committee of the Principal, Bursar and Museum Director, to whom the various curators of museums should be responsible, in this way controlling both the financial and general museum policy of the University by one central committee, which would greatly improve all museum efficiency.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

In a city like Montreal, McGill with her vast amount of material already available, could do much to educate the general public, while at the same time give them a living interest in the affairs of the University.

In other countries, millions of dollars are being given for scientific public museums. Is it not possible, therefore, for McGill to attract public attention through the proper use of her vast Museum collections, which at present are being overlooked, while great opportunity is being lost.

Believe me,

Yours sincerely,
