TO HAVE PAROLE BOARD AT NEW CENTRAL PRISON

Important Innovation Decided Upon by Provincial Secretary and Approved by Minister of Justice.

A parole board is to be constituted in connection with the new Central Prison at Guelph, and while the personnel of the board has been decided upon by the provincial secretary, he prefers not to make the names public until they have been consulted and have consented to act.

The work will involve some time and attention, and does not carry with it remuneration beyond repayment of out-of-pocket expenses. The board's duties do not involve in any sense a transfer of the function of the department of justice to the parole board, but simply leaves the department to act on recommendations that the board may make. Should these recommendations be made only after the care and consideration that I expect will be given them, they will generally, no doubt, be adopted at Ottawa.

CANADIAN CIVICS ARE DISCUSSED BY DR. CHOWN

Duty of Municipal Authorities to Seek the Best, Instead of the Cheapest, School Teachers.

Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, commenced a series of five addresses at Victoria University last night, on Canadian civics. The course is a portion of the winter course of the citizenship department of the educational night classes.

Dr. Chown explained that his opening address was to outline the problems, duties and opportunities of Canadian citizens and to examine the methods of federal, provincial and municipal government, so that their discussion in the press and elsewhere could be more thoroughly appreciated.

The lecturer gave a comprehensive historical review of different forms of government, and the evolution of the present Canadian method of government. He pointed out the special difficulties and importance of meeting the problems as they arose, and increased in the Dominion, owing to the differences of race and religion in the older, and stages of development in the newer provinces.

As an illustration, Dr. Chown said the history of the Manitoba schools afforded ample evidence that such problems as that of the education of the youth of the country were of paramount importance and demanded the most careful study. He regarded the educational issue as second to none in its importance, and believed that when the vital need of adequate instruction for the boys and girls of Canada was more generally recognized, municipal authorities would see to it that the present false economy of endeavoring to get school teachers at the cheapest possible rates would be abandoned, and the men and women possible for this fundamental civic obligation.

Dr. Chown will deal with some other specific phase of Canadian citizenship next Thursday evening, when an address will follow by Field Secretary J. W. Atkins of the department of temperance and moral reform.

R. W. Aikin, M.A., secretary of the Anglican S.S. Commission, has just returned from a visit to Ottawa and Montreal. Mr. Archer, and Canon Kittson, were also present at the latter meeting.

NEW COMMERCIAL SCHOOL SHOULD TEACH LANGUAGES

As Well as Business Law—Dr. Embree's Suggestions to Trustees—P. S. Principal Resigns.

Dr. Embree, inspector of high schools, reported to the school management yesterday that night sessions of technical school work be held in schools in all parts of the city, instead of at one centre only, as at present. He was glad to see that preparations for such work were being started in both Riv. redale and Humber-side colleges.

He also declared that the present method of teaching commercial work in the Technical School should be discontinued, and hoped that when the commercial high school project was finally realized the teaching would be strictly of a business, and not of a literary kind. Especially should the teaching of the languages be of a practical nature. "Some time ago," said Dr. Embree, "a German invoice came to my notice. I showed it to many of our high school graduates, and none of them could decipher it. Eventually it was translated with the aid of some dictionaries in the college library."

He also hoped the commercial class would be a culture class, and would teach business law and the French, German and Spanish languages. Then the graduate would be well equipped for every kind of work.

After Dr. Embree had finished reading his report, it was decided to let the matter stand until Tuesday evening.

Because he is now getting $1600 a year, John M. Field, principal of Godrich Collegiate, declined to teach history and geography here at a salary commencing at $1400. Dr. Embree favored raising the minimum to $1500, but it was decided to advertise the vacancy again.

Harry Gray, principal of the St. Clair Avenue Public School, asked that his resignation be accepted and that he be made assistant principal in some other school. The committee decided to relieve him of his duties immediately, continuing his full salary until Dec. 31. P. G. Might, assistant principal of Lansdowne School, was appointed in his place. Inspector Hughes said it was hard to get a good man to stay in so small a school permanently, but he could easily get a woman to fill the place.

Mr. Schofield of Hamilton will be asked to fill Mr. Might's place at Lansdowne at an initial salary of $1100. A large number of old geographers will be given to the children as "souvenirs."

A letter was read from a lady who wanted to study cabinet-making after school hours with her friends, twice a week, in the Wellesley School. Mr. Baker, a teacher in the school, had promised to give the lessons. The request was granted. It was decided to open new rooms in Earls-court, Kent and Howard schools.

Dr. Conroy, waiting in the school board of education laws that a dentist's certificate be accepted in case of a teacher being compelled to stay away from her work from illness arising from dental trouble. At present an M.D.'s certificate must be presented, causing the person with the tooth-ache to pay two bills. The matter was referred to the board of education, and it was agreed that nurses should receive salaries during sickness, in the same manner as teachers, that is, by the presentation of a doctor's certificate.

HORSES WITHOUT DRIVERS.

Results of Training Them to Do Routine Work.

Horses, marching sedately and without the direction of a driver from one end of a block to the other, receiving a load of concrete at one end, turning without an order and drawing the load to the other end of the block, where it was needed for street repairing work, kept a crowd constantly on the watch in Ridgeway-avenue, near West Twenty-sixth-street. The work was being repeated at that point and half a dozen of these self-driven horses were at work for several days.

They were grey old codgers, most of them, and their intelligence was the result of many years of work. In the middle of the street, half-way between the point where the dumping carts were loaded and where the paving was going on, stood a man who kept the line going up one side of the street and down the other with a few words to each horse as it went by.

"It's all a matter of practice and training," said J. R. Hoyes, who kept the line moving from his position in the centre of the street. "We have had those same animals working for us for several years and after a horse finds out what is wanted, why, he'll do it all right so long as it isn't anything awfully hard. Now that horse, there, pointing to a dappled animal, he didn't catch on for a good while, but he knows his business now, all right. But the one behind him there learned fast. They are just like people that way."

"The only trouble is that if we ever drive them down this way again they would want to start in that back and forth business again, and you'd probably have to use the whip to get them out of the block."—Chicago Daily News.
