CODY PUTS THRU EDUCATIONAL MENU UNDER HOT FIRE

From Sam Carter and Studholme, Who Would Raise Age Limit.

DEFINITION OF CREAM

Henry's Bill Would Change Relative Term to Standard Meaning.

Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education, got his educational menu thru committee yesterday after a hard fight with Allan Studholme and Sam Carter to have the compulsory school age raised to fifteen or sixteen years. They lost.

Other government bills and a list of private bills were also advanced and the house adjourned shortly after six. Wm. McDonald asked why counties could not arrange for a consolidation of jails on the line of Dr. Cody's consolidation of rural schools. Nothing done.

Allan Studholme went for Rev. Dr. Cody without gloves during consideration of the bill regulating school attendance. Allan Studholme said the effect of the bill is to take children from school at fourteen years of age.

Dr. Cody replied the school age is dealt with in another bill. Allan Studholme retorted that the school age in Britain was no guide. The bill gets no further than the committee. Dr. Cody: I have got it all drafted, but it is a difficult and comprehensive question.

Hon. Mr. Henry secured the second reading of his bill regulating the purchase of cream. The bill provides for tests on the request of cream producers and the cream purchased by the public is a relative term.

Mr. Proudfoot: Does the bill guarantee a reduction in the price of butter and cream?

Hon. Mr. Henry: No guarantee. Thomas Hook: Where is cream sold?

Hon. Mr. Henry: In Toronto. (Signs of incredulity).

Hon. Mr. Henry's bill to amend the veterinary college act by providing a degree similar to the veterinary surgeons' degree in the United States was also put thru committee.

Mr. Proudfoot said the additional letter in the degree after 1916 should apply to all practicing at that time.

Hon. Mr. Henry: This is a university degree.

BOARD OF TRADE AT RAILWAY COMMITTEE

Representatives Will Appear Before Body at Ottawa at Same Time as Municipal Delegations.

Ottawa, April 10.—A request from the Toronto Board of Trade that representatives of that body be given opportunity on a fixed date to appear before the special committee dealing with the consolidated railway act, was presented by W. P. Cockshutt, member for Brantford, when the committee met today. The request was supported by Dr. Sheard, member for South Toronto.

After some discussion, it was agreed that the board of trade can be heard at the time the municipalities make their case for the re-insertion in the bill of the contentious clauses, relating to control of streets eliminated by the senate. This will not be until after the Easter recess.

WEST TORONTO IS BEHIND RESERVIST

West Toronto Ratepayers' Association to have heard an address last night from J. J. Shanahan, a prominent member of the 3rd Battalion, with respect to the tribulations of the imperial reservist in Canada, but was prevented from delivering his address thru illness. His absence did not, however, prevent action in the matter, and following short and crisp addresses from D'Arcy Hinds, Ald. Ryding, Mrs. Kehoe and others a resolution was immediately carried to urge upon the government the need of a reservist at the earliest moment, so that both he and his dependents are especially his widow may receive pensions and other payments on a basis of equality with every other soldier who left Canada to fight the battle of democracy for the Dominion. D'Arcy Hinds points out that the reservist was really a volunteer himself, in that he had enlisted long before war was declared between Britain and Germany. He had always, prior to the war, been considered a citizen of Canada, and none was so deserving of the title of citizenship, a fact which was evidenced in that epic, the battle of Ypres of December, 1917, when 140,000 contemptible heroically kept at bay more than 875,000 Huns on the outskirts of the most famous battlefield of history.

J. J. Shanahan, who is in charge of arrangements for the reception to the 3rd Battalion, asks the citizens of the men to be patient and reasonable in their demands for seats at the grand stand.

West Toronto G.W.V.A. reports adjustments totaling $3,512.30, and covering the period from Oct. 21, 1918 to April 9, 1919. Of this amount $1,217.10 was adjusted with respect to pensions, and $1,295 with respect to separation allowances.

SOLDIERS' INSURANCE.

Returned soldiers interviewed yesterday, relative to the matter of Jas. Smart, who was refused insurance with respect to her son on the ground that he enlisted during the operation of the military service act, unanimously affirmed their opinion that the necessary amendment to the bylaw to validate civic insurance on behalf of those who enlisted during this period could be made.

Next session of the city council will ease provided the council comprised men sufficiently whole-souled to appreciate the factor of enlistment as a sense of voluntary attachment to the cause of the allies.

Hon. Dr. Cody, H. J. Jarvis, field secretary for the advisory board of the repatriation committee, and other well-known speakers, will address the meeting which will be held on Thursday night at Odafellow's Hall, Broadview avenue, near Queen.

RETURN THANKS.

Central branch, G.W.V.A., has expressed its thanks for the splendid response made to appeals sent out in behalf of Mrs. H. J. Glass of the 74th Battalion, who fell on the battlefield. Mrs. Glass has suffered the loss of two children in the war. She was more expected to die, and one other child suspected of having the dreaded malady. Subscriptions have closed, more than $174 having been received.

A monument to be erected in the school grounds of Parkdale Collegiate Institute at a cost of probably $15,000 in memory of the nearly 500 students and graduates of the school who answered the call of King and country—of whom every one gave their lives—is the aim and intention of the staff, pupils and friends of the school.

KILTIES HERE SOON.

A cablegram was received yesterday from Captain Frank Smith of the 15th Battalion, who is now getting into a prisoner of war in Germany, stating that he had rejoined the battalion and would come home with it, sailing on or about the 15th inst. This is the first intimation received in regard to the date of sailing of the Kilties. The message was received by Captain Smith's mother, Mrs. R. A. Smith, of Huron street.

A cablegram was sent yesterday by the officers of the 48th Highlanders to the 15th Battalion, commanding the 15th Battalion C.E.F., authorizing the plans for the proposed big celebration in honor of the return of the gallant Kilties. A request was made for suggestions as to anything the battalion would like and a reply is expected in the course of a day or so.

It is the intention of the 48th to make the reception to its overseas battalion in the history of Toronto. The committee is now getting into touch with as many as possible of the men of the 15th who have returned from overseas. The numbers runs up in the thousands, but an effort will be made to have them all participate in the festivities. All former members of the battalion are requested to register at the 48th Highlanders' sergeants' mess at the armories.

Now that the officers' committee of the 48th have information in regard to the billing of the battalion they are going right ahead with arrangements for a great two days' celebration.

HELPING THE WIDOW.

The central branch of the G.W.V.A. has at last succeeded in its efforts to have the case of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Carter of 50 St. James avenue adjusted. Her son enlisted with the 126th Battalion and the mother has been receiving separation allowance until July 21, 1918, when it was cut off. The authorities claiming that her son Cecil was in a position to give her necessary financial support. The branch immediately set to work to prove the fallacy of this claim, producing doctors' certificates and other data, and yesterday the secretary, Comrade Brockbank, received word that the authorities had decided to pay separation allowances to Mrs. Carter until July 1, 1919, payment to be retroactive from July 31, 1918. A cheque for $260 has been sent to the happy mother to cover the back pay up to March 31, 1919.

R. J. Roberts last night expressed his gratification for the patronage of

COLONEL MACKLEM IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Arrested for Alleged Breach of War Charities Act.

CHEAP ENGRAVINGS

Sold Supposedly to Benefit War Widows and Orphans.

For purporting to be representing the war widows and orphans' committee, when he did not hold the authority from the government to do so, Colonel Omar L. Macklem was arrested on a charge of breach of the war charities act, by Detectives McConnell and Stewart, in his office, room 618, Continental Life Building, corner Bay and Richmond streets, yesterday afternoon. It was not until the detectives entered his office that they knew who the occupant was.

It is alleged that Macklem had six sales girls in his employ who were making a canvass from house to house selling a neatly printed khaki card, entitled "The Sword of Britain," bearing the name of O. L. Macklem, for which a charge of fifty cents was made. Attached to each card was a slip of white paper bearing the following: "All funds contributed are to be used for the benefit of war widows and orphans—War Widows and Orphans' Committee."

Macklem did not resist arrest, and when his sales girls came into the office they found the detectives in charge. It is stated that each girl received thirty cents for every two cards sold, leaving seventy cents for Macklem. The cost of the cards would not exceed four cents each.

In the issue of April 2 of The Telegram an advertisement for sales ladies appeared, and directed all applicants to apply at Room 618, Continental Life Building, the office occupied by Macklem.

Furniture Paid For. Bills and receipts were found by the detectives showing that all the office furniture was paid for. No books were kept, however, although it is said that the sum of $120 was paid.
