ONTARIO IS FAVORED.
With hurricanes and tornadoes tearing up the conformation of the earth in various parts; with volcanoes belching out whole counties; with sleet and snow breaking all weather records in many parts; all these drive home the fact of the desirability of Central Ontario for a farm residential zone.

There is no more favored belt of land, no place freer from destructive storms and elemental wars than in our own lake-girt land around Toronto. Here the happy farmers every year make a return, and here they rest secure from the visitations recently seen in the distance. The World advocates the life in Ontario. Ontario is good enough for anyone. It is the land where envious peoples will yet crowd back for a chance to own a foot of its land. The stream of empire seems to be westward just now, but there is a tide coming and he is a wise man who sees it.

Consequently it is well to own a farm here. Investors must see the advantage of an Ontario farm. And when such is in the market The World wants to see a good man get it.

PURITY OF FEEDING STUFFS.
Farmers, the province over, are interested in the question of purity in feeding stuffs. The grain commission recently sitting in Toronto, found that there was a dissatisfaction among the farmers over the quality of bran and shorts served out to them. What is sold the farmer now as shorts is nothing more or less than ground-over bran. The price is not "ground-over," tho, and $20 is paid for this stuff.

Again there are many preparations such as balanced rations, etc., coming on to the market. Some feeders have purchased these articles, but unless there is some guarantee that pure ingredients of recognized value are being used, the farmers should let such feeds severely alone. The demand for cheaper feed has led to adulteration and if these firms are selling a mixture for less than the price of the grain it must be evident that fraud is being practiced. A cheap substitute can be used that is almost impossible to detect. But the feeding value is greatly impaired.

The Dominion analyst recently issued his reports on the examination of meals obtained in the country. It seems that oil cake is largely adulterated also. What the farmers want is a government that will spend money on its time hunting for ways and means to alleviate the burdens and to increase the possibilities of successful expansion for the farmer.

What is our department of agriculture doing? What moves have been made of recent date to keep in the van of agricultural progress? If the agricultural class are the intensely interesting parties that they appear to be around election times, why is it we do not see the politicians tumbling over each other to do something that is of real merit? The government makes much haste to quarantine a county if a pauper case of hog cholera breaks out, but in the question of mill feeds, the purity of feeding stuffs and the protection of the farmer against fraud, a snail pace is acquired. The farmer has been fooled long enough in his political adhesions. Now it is time to vote for the general good and the alleviations of the burdens on the largest section of the community.

THE DEVIL TAKE THE HINDMOST.

According to The Montreal Trade Bulletin there are some rascals in London, England. In speaking of the Baltic as a grain exchange in London, where cargoes of wheat and maize are sold from all parts of the world, and where arbitrations are going on all the time on account of contracts not being lived up to, this journal says: "Operators on that exchange make no bones about taking advantage of traders whenever the opportunity comes. It is a tremendous job of exchange do not hesitate to tell the truth, although they are by no means the best judges of the grain they are dealing in. In fact, they are often deceived in judgment. It is a pity that the members have been known to take two samples from the same bag, in each hand, and have gone to the scales to see if it is a fair sample, and he has awarded one handful of more than the other, although they belonged to one and the same sack."

BLACKSTOCK'S FARM.

It will be noted that a fine farm is being advertised for sale near Newmarket, lately owned by the late T. G. Blackstock. The World calls attention of this rare chance to investors or stockmen. Go and see it. It is a snap and just what a stockman wants.

APPRECIATIVE.

The World is the best daily newspaper published in Canada from the farmer's standpoint. In the matter of politics, the farmers are often duped. I was a stiff party man once, but I am beginning to see all there is in party. Our farmers must put their heads together and be like The World—unable to be bought by gold.

WHAT STEERS WILL IT PAY TO BUY?

A Low Down, Big Hearted, Silky Skinned Animal Talks in Dollars.

Just now many of our farmers are putting in feeding animals for the winter. The great desideratum of gain lies entirely on the part of the buyer's animal directly under his hat. Let John Jones err in judgment either in weight of feeding calves of his herd and he comes out a poorer man, but not always a wiser one. Like many of the superstitious inhabitants of a former age, they attribute their failure to make money to luck, misfortune or the will of God. Unfortunately, this belief panders to a laziness that is death to progress, just as all such theories originate in the dislike man has to introspect for the primal causes. But failure generally is due to thoughtlessness and bad judgment. The way of common sense and good judgment is invariably a slow feeder. This and any wayfarer men can readily attain thereto.

It looks as if Christmas beef were going to be a handsome figure this year, at least the early feeding is going to pay. Therefore he who can get the right animal at right prices and knows how to "shove them," will make money without doubt.

In regard to this choosing of the animal, the Ontario Experimental Station will be of some use. In his book on Profitable Stock Feeding he says: "The man who buys cattle for the feed lot, there are certain external qualities which serve as an index to feeding capacity. (1) The abdominal cavity, occupying the middle of the animal, should be roomy. A steer, slender and tucked up in body, is unable to utilize a large amount of feed and therefore cannot make heavy gains. There should be not only good depth and breadth of body in the abdominal region, but the breadth and depth should extend forward to include the chest cavity. (2) A lack of width thru the chest would indicate the lungs and heart, are restricted in development. An animal having poor chest development is invariably a slow feeder. It seems reasonable in view of the fact that the lungs and heart play so important a part in purifying the blood, and in circulating it through the entire system. The blood, being the medium which carries off worn-out tissue and replaces it with fresh matter, is the most important factor in digestion and assimilation. If there is a lack of lung development, the slender neck at the base and small nostrils—the oxidation, or purification, of the blood must be correspondingly slow. (3) An active, healthy circulation of the blood and active digestion and assimilation are also indicated by the character of the skin and the condition of the inner skin, which constitutes the stomach and the intestines. If the outer skin is dry and harsh, and the inner skin is tight and wrinkled, indicating in pliability, we may expect a poorly nourished inner skin. A soft, pliable skin, covered with fine hair, oily in growth, is almost a certain indication of active digestion and assimilation of food. Dandruff, the skin, between the thumb and forefinger is the surest way of determining its handling quality. In buying steers for the feed lot, however, it is often possible to secure a healthy and sound animal, because of the long experience learns to associate a bright, healthy coat of hair with a good, healthy animal. He learns to avoid the skin having the appearance of being drawn tightly over the body. These are qualities which may be observed by the eye."

THE FARMER'S ERA.

The joys of farm life have often been extolled in the pages of The World. And not only in the press is the enviable lot of the happy farmer beginning to be felt, but business men of all degrees of activity long for the good old days down on the farm. The reasons for this are becoming more potent to all who feel the necessities of a modern and hectic life. A recent issue of The Farmers' Journal of Chicago says:

"In this age of strenuousness, in which each man is often plying his trade, it is killing off men faster than they were ever killed in war in the ages of the past, the well-located farmer has been able to conserve his health and his occupation. He should respect his occupation above that of any other class of industry, and he should be able to give his judgment on the two samples, and he has awarded one handful of more than the other, although they belonged to one and the same sack."

"The finest triumphs of the next fifty years, results that will far outstrip all other efforts of the human mind, will be won on the farm. There is a science of soil culture and the art that is to be based upon it will open the door to men of the highest refinement. The men who seek this science and employ it have opportunities in the possession and cultivation of the soil that are open to no other class of men. There are pleasures and comforts of the farm that the city man cannot have, try as he may. It is the farmer's own era. He should make the best of it."

A SOUND BANK FOR INVESTORS.

The World goes into more farm homes than any other daily in Ontario.

The Daily World looks after the interests of the farmer and live stock advertiser. Results are reported daily by those people who are advertising in The World.

Farmers in Ontario have a glorious heritage, and investors look to The World for bargains.

Live stock men all carry a World in their pockets.

That means, if you want to advertise, put it in The World and have it on the farm page. See!

THE HAY TRADE.

Offerings Scarce, The Stocks in First Hands Are Not Small.

The present comparatively small offerings of hay are the result of a great scarcity of cars caused by unusually large number being sent west for the movement of grain, and also on account of many farmers holding for higher prices, as well as some reports claiming that the hay is better than it was in the spring. There are some sections of the country that are so bare of hay that dealers have been compelled to bring in hay from the north and other portions of the province. On the whole there is no doubt a short crop, but there is an impression in the trade here that it is not so bad as is represented. Take, for instance, the section south of St. Johns, Que., where the crop is said to be considerable. It will sell at 25 to 50 per cent. over. This, of course, is very largely offset by the very poor yield in most sections of the Ontario Valley. The north shore districts have also a poor crop, as well as many sections in eastern Ontario. During the past week some high prices have been paid in this market as well as in the country, and cattlemen say they have had great difficulty in getting all they wanted. It is surprising how little hay is being put in sympathy with Buffalo market, where prices are quoted much lower than they have been. Lambs sold at $3.50 per cwt. for those on sale. Good quality calves are in demand and command $5.00 to $7 per cwt.

LIVE STOCK IN ENGLAND.

Cattle Have Increased During the Past Year—Scotland Decreases.

The return of live stock in the several countries of England, issued a few days ago by the board of agriculture, shows that a decrease in horses was found in twenty-six out of the forty-three counties. In Scotland, however, one for each riding of Yorkshire and one for London. Cattle have increased in all but thirteen counties. In some of the counties the increase is trifling. The exceptions are Chester, Cumberland, Dorset, Durham, Leicestershire, London, Monmouth, Northumberland, Shropshire, Stafford, Warwick, Westmoreland, and the North Riding. There are six counties in which the increase is more than 100 per cent. In sheep, namely, Bedford, Berks, Dorset, Durham, Gloucestershire, Hants, Herts, London, Middlesex, Somerset, and the East Riding. The decrease in pigs is very general. Chester, Lancaster, London, Shropshire, Somerset, and Dorset being the counties in which the decrease is most marked. In Wales as a whole there is an increase in horses as well as in cattle and sheep, and a decrease in pigs. In the twelve counties, show increases, while only four have decreases in horses. In Scotland, however, there is a decrease in each of the four classes of live stock—London Live Stock Journal.

ENGLISH HAY MARKET.

Advices from England are very firm both by letter and cable. Says The Trade Bulletin, and the other sources of information, the hay crop of France is short, and very little if any French hay will find its way to the English market. Between the two countries, next crop. Exporters have had some good remunerative returns from Liverpool, London and Glasgow of late. The hay is being sold in large quantities, and may continue to do so to the close of navigation.

THE FARMER'S WAD.

The Uxbridge Journal tells of a good pocket watch, which was found on one of the day's trip to that town. "To Adam Gibson of Scott belongs the distinction of having drawn to Uxbridge market the most stock ever marketed by one farmer in a single day. He had 24 lambs and ten hogs. Three trips from his home, four miles away, were necessary to market them, and the last load was at the scales at two o'clock. Mr. Dobie paid Mr. Gibson $560 for the lot."

FARMERS HAVE A POWER.

In view of the refusal of the government to receive the delegation appointed to state the views of farmers on the tariff and subsidy questions, the farmers have decided to carry on the agitation locally. Every farmer interested in these matters should write the member for his constituency. The delegation should be filled with letters, and all subordinate branches and branches of the Farmers' Association should pass formal resolutions to be sent to the members of the delegation, in which they should state the views of the farmers on the tariff and subsidy questions. CLOVER YIELDS SMALL.

J. E. Disney of Greenwood reports to The World a yield of 21 bushels of red clover from ten acres. He says that other returns in that vicinity are also as light and lighter. He made a sale of some of his seed in Uxbridge at $7.50 per bushel. The small yields and the failure of the eastern crops will likely strengthen prices somewhat during the fall.

105 LOADS AT JUNCTION. FAT CATTLE QUALITY POOR.

Trade Active—Prices Easy—Hogs 25c Per Hundredweight Lower.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 105 car loads, composed of 2307 cattle, 32 sheep, 20 calves and 100 mules. The mules were in transit to South Africa, being fed and watered and not for sale.

The quality of fat cattle generally was poor from being good, in both butcher and export grades. The market was not very active, and prices were not much better.

Butchers.
Prices ranged from $4.25 to $4.80, the bulk selling at $4.25 to $4.40; export bulls, at $3.05 to $4.25 per cwt.

Exporters.
The bulk of the butcher cattle were of poor quality, very few good to choice animals being offered. Picked butchers' stock at $4.40 to $4.80; loads of good, $4 to $4.40; at $3.25 to $3.80; best stockers, $2.50 to $3.00; cullers, $1.50 to $2 per cwt.

Feeding and Stockers.
There was a fairly large trade in stockers and feeders transacted as nearly all the largest buyers and feeders were operating. V. H. Murty, H. H. Hunslett, L. H. Hunslett and Halligan and Dunn Bros., as well as several farmers. Trade in this line was active and prices ruled as follows: stockers, 1200 to 1250 lbs. each, at $1 to $1.25; best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $1.25 to $1.50; best stockers, 600 to 800 lbs. each, at $1 to $1.25; common stockers, 500 to 600 lbs. each, at $1.25 to $2.00.

Calves.
The quality of the calves offered was of first-class and prices were high. At $3.50 per cwt. for those on sale. Good quality calves are in demand and command $5.00 to $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.
Trade in sheep and lambs is not quite so hot as it was a few days ago, but prices are still high. Lambs sold at $3.50 per cwt. for those on sale. Good quality lambs are in demand and command $5.00 to $7 per cwt.

Hogs.
H. P. Kennedy reports prices easy at $2.25 to $2.50, and $3 for light fairs.
