SEVENTEENTH YEAR

AND STILL NO VOICE

Members are Bound on the Remedial Bill

SIR DONALD GIVES HIS VIEWS Explaining His Recent Visit to Mr. Greenway.

He Did Not Go to Winnipeg at the Instance of the Dominion Government, But Went There After Confering with the Governor-General. The Manitoba Premier Was Most Anxious to Have the Question Settled—Nothing in the Statement Made by the C.P.R. Was to Lead—Harris' Reply to the Members Are Waiting Away Home.

Ottawa, March 19.—(Special.)—Zem-morable indeed, the session of Parliament has already been, it is rendered more so by the decision of the Government to close the Remedial Bill debate at Wednesday's sitting of the House, with 25 members still desirous of speaking, who are still desirous of speaking.

Mr. Edwards spoke briefly, and declared in favor of a conference between the Dominion and Manitoba governments.

At 2:45 Mr. Flinn was found perfectly willing to accept of Mr. Edwards' place. He expressed his full accord with Mr. Laurier's policy. Referring to the school system of New Brunswick, Mr. Flinn continued after 4 o'clock this morning.

The Old Commissioner Has Fun.
Some diversion during the time was afforded by Commodore Welsh, who wandered around the sleeping members and tickled them under the chin, much to his own amusement and the amusement of the House.

Mr. Cuckburn on the Floor.
After Mr. Flinn had concluded, Mr.
Cuckburn succeeded in getting a chance, like Mr. Coad, Mr. Coad burn regretted that he found it necessary to differ with his colleagues. He expressed himself as being unfavorably disposed to the bill, and criticized its provisions without stint. Up to the time of his conclusion, Mr. Cuckburn's speech at 4:45 in the morning, the House had been reasonably wide awake, but after a few of the members could keep from sleeping in their seats. Many enunciated themselves strongly in their chairs, and some were found with their hats down over their heads, and some with their eyes snoozed quite comfortably. Others, however, finding that the proceedings in the House did not afford the restaurant below stairs, and started a "symposium" on the subject of the restaurant for a smoking concert. This symposium, by the way, commenced almost simultaneously with a series of speeches, and speeches, and Mr. Pean and Sam Barnett of Toronto, waxed rich as a result thereof. Song, speech and a concert followed almost without interruption from 5 until 9 o'clock. The debate was given by Mr. Davis, the member for Alberta, in true Pean style, his many years of experience among Indians having made him an expert at Indian customs and habits.

In the Chamber the French members magnificently the time. Speaker White and Clerk Booth had retired to get a little rest. Mr. Hazen of St. John holding the fort well for the speaker, while Assistant Clerk Booth, who ably held down the clerk's desk by placing his head upon it.

Mr. Brunneau Spoke Four Hours.
Mr. Brunneau, who held the floor about 5 o'clock, and held it until nearly 9. He opened out with an account of his connection with the World's Fair, holding that the matter for Centre Toronto was not qualified to an vote in the House, having received from the Dominion the amount of his expenses at Chicago. For Ireland and personal remarks, Mr. Brunneau was called to order. Once, in attempting to take his seat, he missed the chair and shot out of sight, meanwhile the speaker, who had paid some attention to Mr. Cuckburn, called attention to Mr. Cuckburn.

Col. Amoy at this time stroled into the Chamber, pipe in hand, and interrupting Mr. Brunneau called forth on his devoted head a torrent of invective.

A Stranger With Nerve.
About this time a stranger was discovered in the seat near Mr. Leclair.
Most of the members in the House were too drowsy to notice him, and so he remained on sacred ground until a member who had been sitting in the adjacent row, saw the stranger, and and had him ejected.

Day began to dawn and the electric lights were turned down. The speaker then was a sight for gods and men.
Everything was out of order, the littered with a mass of papers; there was nothing to inspire the onlooker with the dignity of parliamentary proceedings.

After Mr. Brunneau came Mr. Bellefleur of Chicoutimi, his object being to prove that the Remedial Bill was all right.

Then at 3:15 the dapper little Frenchman from Chicoutimi, who had come to wit, took the floor to make his maiden speech. He talked dead against the bill and ended up by announcing that he would vote for it. He is, therefore, the fourth Liberal who has expressed himself as determined to vote for the Government's policy.

Matters in the House about this time began to brighten up. Members who had their breakfast fresh and ready for a new day's work, while the others, who had been holding the fort, hurried to their hotels and boarding houses to refresh the inner man.

Following Mr. Angers came Mr. Leclair, another Frenchman, and then Mr. Stubbins, who had been holding the fort, hurried to their hotels and
man.

Mr. Stubbins' illustration in English against the Remedial Bill, was a sterling ring of homely but the speech, which commended the judgment of the members.
The Government's method of dealing with questions was like putting the off horse on the high side.
He eulogized the Government as one of considerable growth, and predicted that the Conservatives who voted for this bill would never return to the House again, possibly some of them might die a soft death.

This remark evoked Liberal cheers.
Mr. James Grant followed Mr. Stubbins with a eulogy of Sir Charles Tupper and the French-Canadians and made an earnest and eloquent plea for toleration and justice to the Catholics of Manitoba.

Mr. Patterson of Brant roused the House by the vigor of his language.
His speech was characterized by a somewhat severe attack upon Sir Charles Tupper, who, he said, had given the schools to Nova Scotia, but who was now attempting to strangle the National school system of Manitoba.
This led to a statement by Sir Charles that the Nova Scotia School Bill was not a precedent, with the exception of the Roman Catholic members and hierarchy.

Three o'clock arrived.
Lunch hour had arrived while Mr.
Patterson was still speaking, and the House thinned out. When 3 o'clock arrived the usual hour for prayers was reached, no prayers were said, though certainly there was as much prayer as in any of the previous sessions. The members had again filled up to overflowing, and the attendance of members was not less than 100.

Mr. Wallace embraced the new opportunity offered him to speak and defended himself against the charges which had been passed on him during the debate. At 4 o'clock Mr. Wallace still had a few minutes to spare.
At 4:15 a.m. Mr. Charbonneau's amendment was disposed of.

THE LATEST FROM OTTAWA.

Father Lacombe Will Participate in the Conference at Winnipeg—His Views on the School Question.

Ottawa, March 19.—(Special.)—Police Com. Sherwood of the Dominion Police has received a cable message today, from Inspector O'Leary, in London, Eng., acquainting him with the fact that Mr. Boyd, who was wanted in Montreal on a charge of forgery, has been acquitted by the old country authorities.

A delegation interviewed Sir A. P.
Caron to-day on behalf of the Exhibition Association, asking for special privileges in regard to the transportation of mail matter. The complaint is that the postage rate on posters and other lithographic matter is excessive and high.

Father Lacombe received a despatch from Winnipeg to-day, summoning him there to attend a conference of the bishops on the school question.
This is supposed to be in connection with the proposed conference between the Dominion and Local Governments on the matter.

A Halifax deputation had an interview with the Government to-day, when they presented their case for their share of Government aid to develop the winter trade of Canada.

O. THE PITY OF IT!
There is no reliance on the Electric March Weather.

Talk about the glorious uncertainty of the law, of sports and of war, it is nothing to be compared to the moonshine of the weather. One thing is however, constant—that there is no reliance on the weather.

The regular monthly meeting of the Public School Board was held last night.

Mr. Fitzgerald gave notice that the Supply Committee be authorized to purchase a sufficient number of school flags to decorate the class rooms throughout the city.

Mr. Fitzgerald also gave notice that this board strongly approves the section of the Consolidated School Bill providing that no part of the school fund shall be permitted to vote in school board elections.

That, in the opinion of this board, an effort should be made to reduce the cost of maintaining Public schools, and that with this view the three first forms in the High schools, together with text books and supplies, should be free to the pupils of Public schools in grades beyond the senior fourth.

It was also proposed that a scheme providing a superannuation fund for teachers be formed.

The report of the Finance Committee recommending the payment of accounts to the amount of $151, was adopted. The report showed the amount paid in salaries for the month of January to be $33,442.

WHICH WILL SURRENDER?

REPLICATION AS TO THE RESULT OF THE CONFERENCE.

Either the Federal or Manitoba's Government Must Give in—Premier Greenway's Statement in the Legislature—Some Manitoba Members Anxiously Waiting for a Possibility of Settlement.

Winnipeg, March 18.—(Special.)—There were many interested attendants at the Legislature this afternoon to hear the reasons why an adjournment was being made until April 18. They were very much disappointed. They expected some disclosure of the semi-official negotiations leading up to the formation of the Federal Government to be made at this time. The motion was of course carried.

Mr. Patterson then assented to the bills passed and the Legislature adjourned.

There are very general expressions of hope that the conference may result in an amicable settlement, those who have been in the conference, however, are anxious to see how it can be effected. The Manitoba Legislature has repeatedly demanded its determination to maintain the national school system and not to re-establish separate schools. The Hebert bill just passed and the Legislature adjourned.
