nd Again Concord Congregational Church is in Full Swing-The Preacher-Concord Congregational Church may once again consistently retain its name. The payment of the debt of $4350 which some two months ago occasioned the closing of its doors, has been guaranteed by six bondsmen. The men who have thus gone security for the debt, the $400 unpaid interest having been thrown off by the mortgagees, are ex-Aid. Bailey, Ald. Bell, Rev. J. C. Madill, and Messrs. DR. WILD PREACHES.

In the evening Dr. Wild preached what ill be his final sermon before his departure r California and the Islands of the Padic, where he will spend the winter resperating. Although there were many who ere forced to stand at the back of the aurch, yet, so greatly was his audience trapt up with the weird fascination of his iscourse, that not a shuffle was heard hroughout. The text was taken from lenesis, and the subject might be termed 'A Theory As To Creation." The speaker began by a reference to the geological changes which are perpetually taking place in the earth's formation. These were so great that in time one world was completely destroyed and another took its place. It was the same, as the telescope plainty proved, in the worlds in space. Each of these periods between the several world destructions was termed an epoch, and of these epochs there had been five before the present one, or six in all. After the burning and purifying of the present world, for, said he, it will burn, we are to have the seventh or perfect world. Each world the seventh or perfect world.

by Miners on Texada Island, Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 12.—Take a map of the northern coast of British Columbia, and locate upon it the long, narrow island, running northwest and southeast, marked Texada. This is the island upon which exists one of the greatest natural wonders ever discovered on the coast. Towards the northern extremity of the island quartz mining operations are being carried on. It is here the Van Anda and Volunteer claims are situated, and it was while the development work was being done here a few months ago that there was discovered a series of caves which have puzzled geologists, and which contain the bones of animals not yet classified by the naturalists of the continent. Regarding the effects that would be produced in the rebel ranks and among Tebel sympathizers by the death of Maceo, the Captain-General said it would be demoralizing, since Maceo's prestige among them was very great. "The news does not surprise me, because the first reports were so contradictory that I read a mystery. I was inclined to believe that the news was false at first, but finally concluded that if Maceo was dead it was by the assassin's knife. It seems now that he has been murdered.

"General Weyler, in addressing the crowd from the balcony of the palace, seemed anxious to shirk the credit for the responsibility of Maceo's death, when he said that victory was clearly due to Ahumada. Perhaps his conscience begins to feel remorse. This representation of the Spanish General proves the straits of the Spanish General proves the straits of the Spanish army. They must resort to treachery.

"They did not face Maceo. They stabbed him in the back. Let me ask where is the Spanish chivalry of which they boast so much?"

MACEO WAS SUSPICIOUS.

The actions of the Spanish troops were so suspicious that Maceo felt that they had him cruelly trapped, and his suspicions were confirmed when a permember of the suspicions was poured into the little band of patriots, who, although hemmed in on all sides, outnumbered almost one hundred to one, struck spurs to their horses, and, with cries of 'Cuba libre,' rode gallantly to their death.

"Maceo is reported to have fallen at the first fire with a bullet through his head, breaking his jaw. Another hit him in the abdomen. Both were fatal. Gomez was the next to fall, and in a few moments a number of bloody corpses, shot almost beyond recogni-

"From this day Cuba will fight harder than ever before. This will be a sad day for Spain.

"I do not know who will succeed Maceo, but I think it will be Rios Rivera, a brewe and intalligant and interest in a few moments a number, of bloody corpses, shot almost beyond recognition, were all that remained of the gallant Cubans who trusted to Spanish honor.

"Only one member of the staff escaped, and that was Dr. Zertucha. The corpses were buried on the field, and the campaign in general he said that be a change that would modify some waspects of the situation.

of his operations in Pinar Del Rio, are replied that he was pleased with the
