WEDDINGS

Emery-Race
A wedding of interest to many friends in St. John took place on Tuesday, July 7, in Minneapolis, when George E. Emery, formerly of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Emery of 50 Cliff street, was united in marriage to Miss Gladys L. Race of that city. The wedding was solemnized in the presence of a gathering of friends at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Race, by Rev. G. Wilson. The bride wore white crepe de chine trimmed with real lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She wore also a necklace of pearls, a gift from Mr. Emery. After a wedding luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Emery left on a honeymoon trip, intending to spend a week at Annapolis, Minn., later returning to their home, 1,000 24th Avenue, Minneapolis.
Mr. Emery has numerous friends in St. John who will wish him and his bride happiness and prosperity in their married life in the west. He has been located there about five years.

Orchard-Saulnier
An interesting wedding took place yesterday in this city, when Rev. Dr. Raymond, rector of St. Mary's church, united in marriage Miss Lydia May Saulnier and Avar Lee Orchard, both of St. John. The groom is a member of the staff of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Ltd. Mr. and Mrs. Orchard will reside at 305 Germain street.
Ames-Campbell
At Saint Ann's Parish Church, Fredericton, last week, Miss Mae Campbell and Frank Ames, both of that city were united in marriage by Rev. Canon Cowie.
Wharton-Allen
At the Methodist Parsonage, Fredericton, on Saturday, Miss Ruby Allan of Lower Hainesville, and James J. Wharton, Parish of Bright, York Co., were united in marriage by Rev. Thos. Marshall.

GOOD PROPORTION OF ST. JOHN POPULATION RESIDING IN KENT, ENG.

Q. M. S. Frank Jennings Writes About Meeting Some More Local Men—Depot May Be Moved to France

In a letter received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. F. L. Jennings, East St. John, from her son, Mr. M. S. Frank Jennings, Q. M. S. with the 38th artillery battery, Shorncliffe, England, told of reinforcements arriving from the 21st and 7th brigades still in Canada, which swelled the force of artillery at the camp to more than a thousand. "We have been sent a draft to the firing line for some time," he wrote, "but I expect there will be no going soon. Recently there has been talk of our depot being moved to France to make room for the establishment of a reserve depot for the Second Canadian Division. I understand that all the men we sent from here to the firing line have been doing well and I thus far have come through safely. I have heard from some of them and from what they wrote, inferred that everything was now moving nicely. I had a nice letter from Will Woods, formerly with the St. John Railway, now with the 1st Field Ambulance in France. He got my address from a 25c stamp paper. "All the Canadians in this command were inspected on Saturday by Sir R. L. Borden and Major General Hughes. They numbered about 25,000. The big plain, about a square mile in area was just covered with soldiers lined up in companies or batteries. The inspecting party went through the lines and then we marched past. Altogether the review lasted about three hours, and although threatening clouds hung overhead the whole time, we had only a small shower.

There is a good proportion of the population of St. John now residing in Kent county, including the 28th Battalion, and the D. A. C. from Fredericton. I was up to the reserve camp at Otterpool, last Sunday and saw Will Ryan, Wylie Spicer, Capt. Geo. Gamblin and several other St. John boys. I have also talked to Percy Phillips, Chas. Richardson and Frank Cotter of the 29th and all seem to be getting along well. I had a chat with Baptist Cronin of the 46th Battalion, from Edmonton, also.

During the last few weeks I have been able to see much of Kent county, thanks to the kindness of a man whom I met some time ago. Folkestone and Canterbury, the seat of the famous Cathedral, and to Ashford, where the Canadian Ordnance Corps is located, and from where I am taking all our clothing and equipment. I have been over nearly all the country except the north-east coast, and expect to go up that way soon.

SUPPORT SUGGESTION OF SOUVENIRS OF OLD BRIDGE FOR THE FUND

Two Other Ideas Are Put Forward in This Connection by Readers of Times

Regarding the suggestion in the Times on Saturday that pieces from the Suspension Bridge be sent to the Patriotic Fund, a correspondent writes strongly approving. He also suggests the purchase of photographs of the old and new bridge mounted together or of the old bridge alone. "If I think there would be greater interest if the photo were available in addition to parts of the bridge as mementos of it, and that more money could thus be secured, I am sure you would be glad to accept the suggestion that the squares on the wood bear a picture of the bridge. This could be done by making a metal die and burning impressions into the wood.

S. D. SCOTT HONORED

At a recent meeting at San Francisco at which the formal organization of the International Press Conference was completed, S. D. Scott formerly editor of the St. John Sun, was named as one of the vice presidents for Canada. Mr. Scott is now editor of the News Advertiser in Vancouver.
At San Francisco delegates were present from forty-five of the states of the American union and from twenty-eight other countries. There were there about 1,000 press men present. Mr. Scott spoke as the representative of Canadian newspapers.
In a recent letter to his brother, J. O. Scott of River Hebert, Mr. Scott writes interestingly of the great Panama Exposition. It includes, he says, from fifty to 100 buildings and covers many acres of ground. Everything imaginable has been done to beautify the grounds and buildings and it is said that no less than $50,000,000 was expended in preparing for the fair.

TENNIS

An interesting and well contested tennis match took place on the afternoon of last Saturday between Drury's Cove and Renforth, on the courts of the latter, resulting in the victory for the latter players, they winning all the events. Despite the appearance of the one-sided score, 4 to 0, considerable "class" was displayed by the visitors who, however, proved to be good losers. Following is a list of the events.—H. S. Morton and A. G. Burnham (R.) defeated T. F. Drummond and T. E. Simpson (D.C.), 1-4, 6-1. Mr. Halliday and A. G. Shatford (R.) defeated Mr. Clark and H. L. Christie (D.C.), 6-4, 6-1. O. A. Burnham and F. S. Smythe (R.) defeated Mr. Dishart and Mr. Wilson (D.C.), 6-2, 6-2, and H. S. Morton and O. A. Burnham (R.) defeated W. L. Bagnall and Mr. Thorne (D.C.), 6-4, 6-4.

THROWN HIGH IN AIR WHEN SHELL BURST

Colonel Guthrie's First Letter Telling of Injuries

FELT DEATH WAS NEAR

Hobbled 150 Yards and Fell—Stretcher Bearer Found Him and One Had Leg Blown Off While Handling Him

The first story of Lieut. Col. Percy A. Guthrie's experiences at Festubert from his own pen was received in Fredericton on Saturday in a letter to his wife written from Lieut. Col. Shillington's Hospital at Le Touquet, France. The letter, written on July 14th, is in part as follows:
"Here I am again with a few lines. I was up today in my 'shell-hole' for a couple of hours and was out to the sitting room where all the crutches gather just soon after they are able. After this they intend having me sit up in the forenoon as well in the afternoon. In the evening they will give me strength and then try the crutches. As soon as I am able to be on the crutches, I will be sent to England and there a board of officers will sit on me to decide if I am any further use to His Majesty. I am sure they will decide that I will be able to fight again. I could, even with a stiff foot, get along with a battalion, and help to do up a few more Hunns. The medical men tell me it will take two and perhaps three months before I can walk with a cane. The board may decide to send me to Canada during the time I am getting well.

Made Three Attacks

"All my wounds are healed and I am sound as a dollar. I would like to tell you all about my 'war days' and nights' fighting at Festubert. How the dear old tenth, composed of men from the 1st and 2nd New Brunswickers, and who joined us from the 19th, charged the Germans in the darkness! We made from scratch, taking all our own trench-cases at one time, 225 yards, another morning early and 225 yards, another night. It was a great joy, the greatest of my life, to lead those men as we charged over their trenches despite their fire and bombs and put them to the bayonet. The cheers of my dear boys shall ever ring in my ears, but I hope to forget the death cries of the enemy which often woke me in the night. I could there are no fighters just like me. One of my comrades was killed. They fling themselves forward, a wall of mud humanity, and they have not yet successfully resisted in a charge. I will tell you again about it all and the many brave things I saw our boys do. They are almost unbelievable and I might say incomprehensible.

His Wounds

"I will write you a full account later of how I got blown up by the 'coal-bag' of a sixty-pound high explosive lit at my foot and up I went in the air. When I came down I hit in the hole the explosion made and gathered myself together. Afterwards I came to and was hobbled about 150 yards towards a dressing station. Then from the loss of blood I fell in the great grassy wood. I felt my time had come, so I repeated the Lord's Prayer and commended my soul to Him and asked Him to care for and protect yourself and little ones. Then I fell asleep and was aroused by the stretcher bearer, God bless them. One lost a leg from a shell that burst while they were putting me on a stretcher so two men carried me in. It is a long story to tell you how the doctor, a London regiment officer, dressed my wounds, and how I passed from hospital to hospital until I landed at No. 2 Stationary Hospital. They have used me fine and taken so much trouble with me I can never repay Colonel Shillington and Sister Graham for their work with my wounds, or Capt. Penabaz for bringing back the sight of my eyes, which I nearly lost at Ypres. I kept this from you as the doctors at that time told me I should gradually grow blind and I was, I know, getting worse until I came here. As I feel myself getting a little weak I shall say good night."

MRS. MARGARET WILLIAMS

On July 31, the death of Margaret Williams of Springfield, Kings county, widow of George Williams, took place at the age of eighty-two years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Sprague, 133 Erie street. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. Lane of the Elmwood street Methodist church. The burial took place in Fernhill. Mrs. Williams leaves four sons and four daughters, and many other relatives and friends to mourn. The daughters are Mrs. Annie Sprague and Mrs. Jacob Sprague of the city; Mrs. Beverly B. Smith of Hampton Village, and Mrs. Elmer Vassie of Lewiston. Thomas, of this city, and Charles, William and James of Conway, N. H., are the sons.

GONE TO TORONTO

Rev. W. H. Barracough, accompanied by his son Reg, will leave today for Toronto and will spend a month there and in the vicinity. His pulpit will be occupied during his absence by Rev. C. L. McIrvine, of the First Methodist church, Berlin, Ont., and Rev. Mr. Barracough will preach in his church.

Imports Less Important

"Imported" is a less important word this Fall than usual. We have learned by necessity how to do many things for ourselves. The new goods will be doubly interesting because they carry with them this note of self-improvement. If you watch the advertising from day to day in The Telegraph and Times you will see the trend of the times. Buy at home the things made at home—coming to be a sort of a slogan of the times.
