

LOCAL LABOR ON SPRINKLERS IN WEST END SHEDS

Mayor Urges City Workers and Factories Get Benefit

CLASH COMES OVER GASOLINE TANK

Commissioner Harding Tells Conferees He Will Make No Report

A suggestion by Mayor White that the matter of providing employment for Saint John labor and factories be kept in mind and that the Common Council consider the matter of doing the job by day's work under the supervision of the city engineer marked discussion this morning at a committee meeting of the council when the proposed installation of fire sprinklers in the West End sheds was under consideration.

Commissioner Harding told the council when an application for a permit to install a gasoline tank in West Saint John was referred to him for a report that it would be in his office and they would not get any report.

Before the council opened, His Worship asked what had been the procedure in arranging for fire sprinklers and was informed that had been left in the Mayor's hands. He said he had received some communications which he would bring up at the council meeting tomorrow.

FOR SPRINKLERS.

Commissioner Bullock presented the draft of specifications for the fire sprinklers in the West End sheds which it was proposed to submit to the Board of Fire Underwriters for their approval, if the council approved of them.

In answer to Commissioner Harding's question the city engineer said the specifications were the standard specifications.

His Worship asked if the specifications were so drawn that Saint John people would get a chance, or would all the material and labor be imported. He thought every effort should be made to provide work, and if this could be done by the city, even at a slightly increased cost over the tender system, it would be well for the city to undertake it on day's work.

The city engineer said the job could be done by day's work if the city decided, and in the specification it was provided that all goods must be purchased from local firms or brokers, supplied by Jack Garson at the Millers, Reuben Freeman, saxophone; Joseph Gas, barjo; and Morris Tassman, piano.

At the ninth annual Judean social at the synagogue on Carleton street a very enjoyable evening was spent in dancing and games. Music was supplied by Jack Garson at the Millers, Reuben Freeman, saxophone; Joseph Gas, barjo; and Morris Tassman, piano.

URGES HOME PRODUCT.

The Mayor said it seemed unfortunate to him that practically everything had to be imported either from the United States or Ontario, and he would like to see used something made here, even if it was only a small part of the material.

Commissioner Bullock said the work could be done by day's labor if it was any benefit, but the work would probably have to go over another stage. He would be willing to have it go over if it was decided the city do the work themselves, as we would be no worse off than for many years.

Commissioner Wignmore said he was satisfied the city could do the work if it was possible to purchase the patented valves and he felt a special effort should be made to have the work done by local labor.

Commissioner Frink said it might be possible that the Board of Fire Underwriters might not give the promised reduction in rates if the city installed its own system of sprinklers. He thought the specification should be submitted to the city solicitor for his opinion.

On motion it was decided to refer the specification to the city solicitor and the Board of Fire Underwriters for approval.

INSURANCE MATTERS.

After the motion passed His Worship asked what would happen if the Board of Fire Underwriters should veto the proposal that the city install its own sprinkler system, and Commissioner Frink replied, "There is a way to kill that cat," and Commissioner Wignmore said "Carry our own insurance."

CLASH OVER GAS TANKS.

The common clerk read an application from E. G. Howard, 220 Tower street, West Saint John, for permission to install a gasoline tank on his premises. It was moved the application be referred to Commissioner Harding for a report. Commissioner Harding reported "Why to me? These tanks are all installed under Board of Fire Underwriters."

He said it was no use to refer it to him. The proposed tank was in a residential section and he did not favor it. The Mayor said he felt the application should go to the safety department and if the commissioner did not approve let him report against it.

Commissioner Bullock said there should be a report from the safety department whether this tank was for a private or public garage.

The motion to refer the application to the Commissioner of Safety for a report carried.

As the Mayor was declaring it carried Commissioner Harding remarked: "You won't get any report from me; I will let it lie in my office."

SIGN PERMIT.

C. A. Ross was heard in connection with his application for permission to install a sign on the roof of the "Maggie" building, Charlotte street. This sign, he said, was to be all metal and the electric wiring would be in conduit. It was decided to allow the erection of the sign, provided it was set up to the satisfaction of the chief of the fire department, city engineer and city electrician.

POLICE FINDS.

A wrench found yesterday in King street and a dog tag license No. 185, are at the Central Police Station.
