course, intimate connection with the pros-of the mother country in the dominion play a very important part in the improvement of inter-trade relations, and to that extent yield something more to sus than the mere interest. The Canadians, to do them justice, have never been slow to recognize this and to support a trade policy that benefits the old country from which new capital is derived."

(Coal Age, May 2)

Contracting in the Pittsburgh district continues slowly on the same basis as last year with but little shading, although prompt and short-term business. A good water stage is permitting full operation at the river mines, while stocks generally are being liquidated, but the lake trade promises to be slow, and more men are returning to work than it will be possible to use. Shipments in Ohio are now reduced to a minimum, but consumers still have plentiful supplies as a r sult of the restricted operations in gen-eral industrial lines, and there is some slight demand for steam grades. The lake trade is open, but entirely devoid of any activity.

Business at Hampton Road is confined principally to shipments on contract, local yards, although this will probably

Better Feeling In Regard to Canadian Investment Prevails

(Times Special Correspondence.) London, April 28-As a reliable index of the financial position of Canada, the budget speech of the dominion minister of finance was awaited here with great interest. Indeed it is not too much to say that attention was almost equally divided between Mr. White's review of the sitlation and the still expected budget speech of our own chancellor of the

This was significant as indicating not only the increased interest in Canada as a result of the increased amount of British capital employed in the dominion, but as an indication of the unsettled feeling which oppressed large investors, as to the future of Canada. A more

THE COAL TRADE

Although the anthracite trade is experiencing a certain spring activity, it is becoming more apparent all the time that there is an absence of the customary snap and urgency. As usual all companies will carry some of the April orders over into May, particularly for stove coal, and this paucity of supplies is being accentuated by a recurrence of the incipient "button" strikes, which has threatened to materially restrict production. The trade is most active in the line business; the situation at tidewater is business; the situation at indewater is showing a tendency to drag and lake shipping is slow in getting under way. The large output of domestic coal is also threatening to develop a surplus of the

The demand for prompt bitumine has disappeared almost entirely. Prices are weakening, and coal of all kinds continues to pile up. The movement is confined entirely to contracts, requisitions on which are heavily curtailed as a result of the large stocks accumulated in anticipation of labor difficulties, and also anticipation of labor dimensities, and asso in part to the general industrial curtail-ment. Much demurrage coal is being forced on the market, indicating consid-erable speculation on the labor agree-ment, and the situation will be further aggravated by the general resumption of operations in the central Pennsylvania district.

Mack service begins with an analysis of your delivery problems, the furnishing of accurate and interesting data regarding the experiences of business men whose transportation problems are similar to yours.

And Mack service ends when the truck wears out-how long this will be we do not know, for the first Mack Truck built, 14 years ago, is still doing reliable work at Tucson, Arizona. The strength of the company behind the truck should be as carefully investigated as the strength of the truck itself. Address your own little girl will be a blushing bride? And don't you hope that when she marries, "Daddy's Gift" will be such as will add much to her happiness?

Well then, why not commence now to provide for her dowry by means of an Imperial Endowment Policy on your life? You'll scarcely miss the small yearly savings required to maintain it. In this way you can make sure of having available when she reaches a marriageable age any sum you may choose. And, if you should die in the meantime, the full amount of the policy will be paid to her or to her guardian immediately.

We'll tell you all about Imperial Endowments if you'll send us your name and address. And your asking for the information will not place you under any obligation whatever.
