CLEANLINESS IN DENTISTRY. If people knew the frightful risk they run of infection from unclean dentistry they would better realize the awful chances they take and what a mighty important factor cleanliness is. No one has ever disputed the fact that there are no cleaner offices in Canada than ours. This is worthy of consideration.

SERGEANT HIPWELL IS DEAD

Veteran of the Police Force Passed Away Today

AN HONORABLE CAREER

Had Served Nearly 59 Years Under Three Chiefs and Was Never Reprimanded - Had Splendid Record and Will be Much Missed

Another link in the chain which binds St. John with the past was severed this morning in the death of Police Sergeant John Hipwell, which occurred after an illness of less than a week about 7.45 o'clock at his home in Elmouthe street. Death came peacefully to the "grand old man" of the St. John police force, and with its coming, there passed away one of the best known men in the city, and one who had served the citizens well in his duties as an officer of the law. His friends were numerous, and were numbered among all classes of people, and well and truly did he deserve the name of "Honest John," which was applied to him in some circles.

His record as a guardian of law and righteousness in this city, is above reproach, and is, indeed, an enviable one. For fifty-eight years he was one of the most popular members of the police force, beside being one of the most capable and efficient, and on his retirement about two years ago, the city regretted, and the citizens realized that they had lost one of their cleverest officials.

Sergeant Hipwell was in his 57th year at the time of his death, and was married and two sons. His wife is his second spouse, and before her marriage to him was Mrs. Sarah Griffith, while the daughters are: Mrs. Frederick Wain, and Mrs. Stephen Morris, of Lynn, Mass. William and David, of this city, are the sons. The old sergeant was the father of eleven children, but with the four exceptions, these have gone before him. Fourteen grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren also survive him.

The funeral will take place on Monday next at 3 o'clock from his late residence, in Elmouthe street to the Church of England burial ground. It is expected that some of his old friends on the police force will act as pallbearers.

Sergeant Hipwell was the descendant of an English family, who crossed the channel with Cromwell when he made his invasion of the Emerald Isle, and in return for their services in the war, the lord protector granted to them a fine farm near Ballyfin, where the descendants still reap the profits of that farm. It was in the year 1894 that John Hipwell came into this world, but he was not content with following the plough on the farm at Ballyfin, and determined as soon as he could do so, to try his fortune in the land beyond the sea. After over two years spent as a loyal member of the Royal Canadian stabulary, young Hipwell set sail for Canada, and after a six week's voyage across the Atlantic, landed at the age of twenty at Reed's Point, St. John.

His first venture in the way of employment in the new world was in a saw-mill up the river, where he worked for a few months. The following year he became a member of the police force of St. John, and during the history of the city the duties of a bluecoat were far more strenuous than they are at present, and many were the adventures which befell the lot of the police official in those days, which are practically unheard of now. At some sections of the city the task of a policeman was particularly hard. This was especially so in the vicinity of York Point, where a guardian of the peace had to run the gauntlet of a mob of riotous youths. In addition to a stout club of wood, the police in the fifties were armed as well with a cutlass, and it was well that this was so, for it frequently aided them in quelling a lawless crowd, which became frightened to a certain extent at the sight of the cold steel.

For ten years, under the domain as chief of George H. Schooner, John Hipwell served the city as patrolman, and at the end of that time he was rewarded with the "three stripes," which he wore with honor and distinction during his lengthy term of service, receiving words of praise from the three chiefs under whose direction he helped protect the rights of the citizens: Geo. H. Schooner, J. R. Marshall and W. W. Clark.

Sergeant Hipwell was instrumental in running to justice many noted offenders, and among other great arrests in which he assisted was that of notorious "Bob" Reynolds who was afterwards hung for murder in Toronto. Although he frequently was employed on delicate and arduous duties, the grand old man of the brass buttons and bluecoat, conducted himself always in such a capable manner that he never was reprimanded. He leaves behind him a record which is indeed hard to excel as well as a host of friends who will hear with regret of his passing away.

JOHN JOHNSON HAS "COME BACK"

He Gets His Wish—Six Months in Jail With Hard Labor

John Johnson has again "come back." He was in the police court this morning, and Judge Ritchie took kindly to his request to go to jail, which he expressed last week, as he gave him a sentence of six months with hard labor in the jail squad. It will be remembered that Johnson was found last week sleeping in the bell tower in King street east, and being charged with vagrancy, was allowed to go with a warning to leave town, but inside of half an hour, he had returned to the police court, and despite the fact that he was ejected several times, continued to "come back" at intervals, until last night he was "brought back" by policeman Henry again on a charge of vagrancy. The case against Murray Northrup charged with violating the rules applying to hackmen at the Union depot, was dismissed.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Seaman's Institute will hold a meeting Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Institute rooms, Prince William street. A full attendance is requested.

Comparison Will Prove That It Pays to Buy Suits Here

In order to fully appreciate the value of our Suits you must compare them with Suits sold elsewhere. There are three questions that enter in when you begin to compare prices of clothing, they are, first quality, second, fit, and third, style. If you can get all these equal, then prices count. You cannot tell by looking at a garment through the window whether it contains all these qualities or not. You must get your fingers on the goods, examine the linings, and try one on. If you will compare our suits in this way with others, you will then understand why this has been the biggest Suit year we have ever had, and that our Suits have no equal at the prices.

Men's Tweed and Fancy Worsted Suits, $9.00, $7.50, $8.75, $10.00, $12.00, $13.50, $15.00, $16.50, $18.00 and $20.00. Men's Blue and Black Suits at $7.00, $10.00, $12.00, $13.50, $15.00, $16.50, 18.00 to $20.00.

Are You Ready For The Winter?

The chilly mornings and evenings make one think that once more we must prepare to keep warm through the coming winter. This can only be done by having the right kind of a stove in the right place. A Glenwood Oak Heater will warm your house and throw the heat to the floor and you can burn wood as well as coal. They are made with nickel trimmings and, like our Glenwood Ranges, the nickel can all be removed for cleaning. They can't be beat in parlor, sitting room or hall, and will give you satisfaction. We make them in two sizes, 14 and 16. Call and examine them for yourself. All made in St. John by St. John men.
