

THE NAVY LEAGUE APPEAL

CONTINUES TODAY

How the Money is Spent

CASE No. 1---A St. John seaman lost his life in a merchant steamer torpedoed by the Germans. He left a widow and four very young children utterly destitute. The moment the Navy League heard of this she was given a gratuity; and the case reported to Head Office when she was granted an annuity; and by the efforts of the Navy League, The Shipping Federation, London, gave her a substantial sum now invested with a Trust Company.

CASE No. 2---Another St. John sailor was on a schooner never heard of since sailing. His widow on application was granted a pension.

CASE No. 3---A seaman laid up in Hospital by an accident, his family kept by the Navy League all that time.

Last week a young sailor who had been here in Hospital for weeks was sent to his home in England at the expense of the Navy League. Many similar instances can be given.

When the S. S. "Princess Sophia" was lost last year on the coast of British Columbia, twenty-six sailors' widows were left, besides numerous children. The Navy League provided for every one of them.

Could money be better spent?
