

Other Provisions for Instruction.

Elementary Instruction.

Pupils will be admitted to the Seminary who are not prepared to enter on the regular course, or to work with any of the classes. Suitable provision will be made for them so that they can be prepared in the shortest time possible for work in the regular classes.

Selected Studies.

Students who do not wish to take either of the courses of study will be permitted to select such studies from the course as, after consultation with the Principal, may seem best for them. It is advisable, however, for all pupils to conform their work as far as possible, to one of the courses of study.

All students residing in the Seminary are required to take at least two literary studies, besides the specialties in music and painting that they may be pursuing.

Special Instruction in Modern Languages.

Provision is made for special instruction in French and German for those desiring it.

Violin.

Instruction in violin is given by a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Leipsig, a teacher of repute as well as a musical artist.

Shorthand and Typewriting.

It is hoped that many students will avail themselves of the excellent opportunities the school affords for a preparation in a line of work that is daily becoming more popular for young ladies.

The course includes Stenography, Typewriting, Book-keeping and Commercial Correspondence.
