

IRISH AMBUSH PARTY KILLS FOUR POLICEMEN NEAR DUBLIN

BOARD OF EDUCATION TANGLE
OVER COLLEGE BUSES
COST CITY SOME $6,000

Above Amount Covers Interest Only—Cost of Structure Will Also Be Advanced Several Thousand Dollars, in Opinion of A. A. Langford.

Failure of the board of education to get its estimate prepared by the end of this month as a result of the supporters of the central high school scheme to stick to their word will probably cost the city considerably more than the $6,000 additional interest, which will have to be paid to carry on the city's business," said Trustee A. A. Langford in conversation with an Advertiser reporter today.

"The delay will also mean in all probability that the cost of the building will be increased by several thousands of dollars owing to the advance of the building season. Any building contractor will tell you that contracts placed early are less costly than those placed after the contractor has planned his season's work.

"Can you understand men going back on a definite compromise agreement, made possible by those of us who honestly believe the unit system the one which will give the citizens the best results, according to the building of a 16-roomed school on the central site in order to break the deadlock? I cannot," said Mr. Langford to the reporter.

In order to try and overcome the serious situation created at the meeting of the board on Tuesday, when the whole question of high school accommodation was referred back to No. 3 committee as early as possible, Trustee Langford, chairman of the committee, is arranging a meeting of the committee for tomorrow. Should the meeting be arranged for Friday it will probably have to be held in the forenoon as the afternoon is already booked for the regular monthly meeting of No. 1 committee.
