Lancer suspension lifted

The Windsor Lancers may be eligible to play Sunday's Central Bowl, as a result of a decision by the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union board of directors.

A two-year suspension imposed on the Lancers by the CIAU earlier this year has been lifted but at press time it was not clear whether or not that would permit the Lancers to play in the Central Bowl.

The powerful Ottawa Gee-Gees were to have met the Sir Wilfred Laurier Golden Hawks in the game, to be played at Lansdowne Park in Ottawa. As of Tuesday night, however, CIAU executive director Robert Pugh had still not informed either Windsor or Laurier which of the two teams will meet Ottawa in the game, but unofficially it appeared that Windsor would get the nod.

In September, the CIAU imposed a two-year suspension on the Windsor Lancers because they have allowed quarterback Dave Pickett to play, in contravention of the CIAU five years of combined sport eligibility ruling.

(Pickett played three years of football and two years of basketball at the University of Saskatchewan before coming to Windsor.) Since the OUAA rules are more lenient, allowing five years of eligibility per sport, it appears that Windsor was within its rights in letting Pickett play.

Yesterday, Windsor sought a court order from the Supreme Court of Ontario, ruling that the Lancers are eligible for the College Bowl since the CIAU acted unlawfully when it imposed the suspension.

At the press time, it was not known whether that attempt was successful. If not, the Laurier team will meet Ottawa on Sunday.

Laurier lost 65-8 to the Lancers in the Ontario-Quebec Intercollegiate finals.
