

Hillmer, Norman and Stevenson, Garth (eds.)

A Foremost Nation: Canadian Foreign Policy and a Changing World, Toronto, McClelland and Stewart, (Carleton Contemporaries), 1977

Essays on a variety of aspects of Canada's external relations of concern in the mid-1970's.

Holmes, John W.

The Better Part of Valour: Essays on Canadian Diplomacy, Toronto, McClelland and Stewart, (Carleton Library Series), 1970

Holmes, John W.

Canada: A Middle-Aged Power, Toronto, McClelland and Stewart, (Carleton Library Series), 1976

Thoughtful and graceful essays on Canadian foreign policy by a leading student of the subject and a former senior official in the Department of External Affairs.

Ogelsby, J.C.M.

Gringos from the Far North: Essays in the History of Canadian-Latin American Relations, 1866-1968, Toronto, Macmillan, 1976

A neglected subject explored by essays in a variety of fields:
diplomacy, trade, investment, missionary activity.

Stacey, C.P.

Canada and the Age of Conflict, I, 1867-1921, Toronto, Macmillan of Canada, 1977

The most recent general history of Canada's foreign relations, based on much new material and written by Canada's foremost military historian. A second volume is planned to take the account to the outbreak of the Second World War.

Stanley, G.F.G.

Canada's Soldiers, The Military History of an Unmilitary People, Toronto, Macmillan, 1954; 3rd ed., 1974

A popular history of Canada's defence forces and the wars in which they have been engaged.