THE EMIGRATION of French Canadians from some parts of Lower Canada continues. A Quebec paper says that on Wednesday of last week seventy-seven, and on Thursday one hundred persons embarked on the Grand Trunk at Levis for the States, amid the tears and lamentations of their friends and connections. We hear periodically of this sort of exodus, but somehow these fortune-hunters find their way back again before long, as was shown in Parliament the other day.

A MR. JOHN DONAHOE, whose wife has been carrying on a millinery business in Hamilton, which, judging from the liabilities, must have been on a rather extended scale, has recently absconded. Now that he feels he can parley at a safe distance, he offers to compromise with his creditors. This is another illustration of what results from granting indiscriminate credit; some of the creditors are said to have been bitten pretty badly.

MR. WILLIAM MITCHELL who has been doing business as a retail dry-goods merchant, on King street, Toronto, for over fifteen years, is, we understand, retiring from business. He does not take with him a competency, but leaves in compliance with the wishes of friends who feel that his retention in business is rather too burdensome on their pockets. His assets will not, it is believed, pay one half of his liabilities. This now fashionable feat, he has succeeded in accomplishing within the last three years.

A BANK AGENT at Perth, Ontario (Mr. Stewart of the Montreal Bank there), made a somewhat novel use of a holiday this day week. On Good Friday he left, ostensibly to visit his wife, but really to step over the border into the States with several thousand pounds of the Bank's funds. The influences which induced this step are variously stated as "temporary insanity," delirium tremens, &c., &c. At all events the unhappy man was well connected, and hitherto stood well, and it is difficult for his friends to believe that he was deliberately dishonest. He was promptly followed up, overtaken at Rome, N. Y., and most, if not all, of the money recovered from him. What further has been and will be done in the case we do not learn.

A WRITER in Chambers Journal introduces a lengthened article on the credit system by this humorous and pithy allusion to the origin of credit and bankruptcy:—The first occasion on which we hear of an organized system of credit is when Joseph mortgaged the cattle, land, and even the persons of all the Egyptian people, in order to pay for the corn he supplied them from the granaries. The end of the seven years' famine found the Egyptians not only paupers, but bondsmen, sowing Pharaoh's corn on Pharaoh's land, and compelled to pay for the privilege of doing it twenty per cent. of the crop to Pharaoh's treasury for ever, without equity of redemption. The Egyptians had had no previous experience of Jews. Excepting Abraham, a quiet, inoffensive old patriarch, who came to Egypt because he was hungry—and he got Pharaoh into trouble—they
