THE COURIER.

An old Irishman called at our office yesterday, and going on with us, that while we were almost every day saying something about Ireland...

two men at his head, they would not get with each other—not a very unusual case of one who so confidently asserts that he has all the truth on his side...

THE NEW QUEEN TO QUEEN. AMBROSE & ROBERT. We have received this handsome little volume, which is so very useful that it neither tells the name of the author nor the printer...

THE LITTLE GUIDE BOOK. Besides describing the several buildings of the city, and pointing out the situations from which the most favorable views can be had, contains several very interesting notices...

THE LEGEND OF THE GOLDEN DOG. This is a nice little story, and is an object worthy of historical associations. It is an object worthy of historical associations...
