A CRABAPPLE PIPE.

Not of the Wood, but of the Fruit itself.

"Did you ever hear of a crabapple pipe?" said a New Orleans man who is an ardent lover of Lady Nicotine and who possesses a collection of smoker's tools that runs all the way from a black "cuddy" of Fingal to a huge porcelain furnace that has seen service at Heidelberg. "Yes, I mean exactly what I say," he continued, "a crabapple pipe! You never heard of such a thing? Well, no more did I until I paid a visit to an old uncle of mine who has a farm on the Missouri side of the river a little above Cairo.

"The old man is a great smoker himself, and while he doesn't put on any particular style he is about as good a judge of the weed as you would care to run across. His favorite mixture is a combination of light golden leaf with just enough plug cut to give it a body, and the pipe he likes best is an old fashioned clay bowl on a long reed stem.

"On the afternoon of my arrival he took me out to the extreme end of his farm to show me some fancy stock, and while climbing over a fence the bowl of his pipe came off, and, of course, hit the only stone in the whole field and was broken into a thousand pieces. I was distressed, because I knew how much my uncle enjoyed his smoke, and suggested that we return to the house for a new bowl. 'Oh, that isn't necessary,' he replied, 'I'll fix up one in a minute right here.'

"Several early crabapple trees were standing near by, heavily laden with fruit. To my amusement the old man pulled down a limb, selected an extra large, perfectly sound apple and proceeded to scoop out the core with his knife, leaving a cup shaped cavity in the top. Then he pushed the reed stem through the side, cleaned it out with a straw, loaded the machine from his tobacco pouch and in a moment more was puffing away as happy as a king.

"The apple was of the yellow variety, hard and about the size of a large egg plum. It was very juicy; but, strange to say, that had no apparent effect on the burning of the tobacco, nor did it, as far as I was able to discover, impart any peculiar taste to the smoke. My uncle laughed heartily at my surprise and assured me that crabapple pies were frequently indulged in by all old timers in the Missouri valley region. I tried one myself that night and found it tip-top."

THE POINT OF VIEW.

Things Appear Differently to Different Eyes.

One of the essential things for one that would influence others is the ability to see things as they look to those whom he addresses. A lack of this ability has been responsible for the failure of many persons who would otherwise have been successful as teachers, missionaries, lawyers before juries and even orators and statesmen.

Striking illustrations of the different aspects things wear in the eyes of different people are constantly coming to light. A party of American travelers, journeying leisurely up the Nile, expressed a desire to celebrate Washington's birthday in some appropriate manner. Their chief accordingly prepared a great frosted cake, upon which he executed in confectionery a representation of George Washington after having familiarized himself with the life and achievements of his subject.

As represented in sugar Washington wore a turban on his head and a great sash across his breast. He was smoking a long pipe, and before him some dancing girls were performing. This was "Colonel Medley's Discovery" will cure the worst ailments originating in diseases of the stomach. It almost always cures. To cure constipation use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're safe.

MERIT AND WORTH

Are Ever Recognized by an Intelligent Public.

Deceptions and Frauds Find the Fate They Deserve.

Paine's Celery Compound

Still on the Highest Round of the Ladder of Fame.

Genuine merit and worth must be the strong and lasting characteristics of a medicine in order to make it a chosen home friend.

Speculators and imitators may, for a brief time, create a demand for their deceptive pills and liquid preparations, by freely using newspaper space, but unerring human experience soon pronounces the judgment—"Tried and found wanting." The year just closed has marked the death of many worthless and deceptive medicines, which, for a time, robbed the sick and afflicted of money and aggravated their burdens.

Paine's Celery Compound has, in the past year, added thousands of victories to its established record as a disease banisher and health-giver. Many of the cures effected by Paine's Celery Compound have been so marvellous and striking that able and prominent physicians have, without hesitation, openly praised and recommended the life-saver.

No other medicine in the world has ever been accorded such glowing praise by medical men, people of influence and the triers of our country. Paine's Celery Compound has never yet disappointed sick and suffering men and women. In every case where fairly used, it has accomplished its work of banishing sickness and giving a new lease of life.

If disease is wasting your system, if you are weak or nerve tired, unfitted for business or the daily work of life, be assured Paine's Celery Compound will bestow nerve energy, health and strength—the blessings you are longing for. Test the virtues of one bottle and be convinced.

One principal reason why men are so often useless is that they divide and shift their attention among a multiplicity of objects and pursuits.—Emmons.

When a horse picks up a nail in his foot what does the driver do? Does he whip the limping, lagging animal and force him along? Not unless he wants to ruin the horse. At the first sign of lameness he jumps down, examines the foot and carefully removes the cause of the lameness. What is called "weak stomach" is like the lameness of the horse, only to be cured by removing the cause of the trouble. If you stimulate the stomach with whiskey medicines you keep it going, but every day the condition is growing worse. A few doses sometimes of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will put the disordered stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition in perfect condition. Ninety-eight times in every hundred cases "Whiskey Medical Discovery" will cure the worst ailments originating in diseases of the stomach. It almost always cures. To cure constipation use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're safe.
