GERMANS ABANDON EQUIPMENTS

PARIS, Sept. 15. (Official.) During the 14th and 15th our pursuing forces came in contact with the German rear guards. The latter were compelled to show fight after being reinforced by some of their main armies. The enemy is offering battle on the whole line certain points of which they have most strongly fortified. This German battle front runs along the region of Noyon, the heights north of Vic-sur-Aisne, Soissons, Laon, the heights north of Ville-sur-Tourbe, thence continuing beyond the Argonne Mountains, passing north of Verdun—this point has fallen into the hands of the allies—and reaches the river Meuse near the forest of Forges north of Verdun. During the pursuit effected after the battle of the Marne, the Germans abandoned considerable equipments and numerous prisoners were taken. The War Office has not given an estimate of the number, but says it will only publish the same when exact figures can be procured.

AUSTRIANS STILL RETREATING.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 16. Our operations in the region of Lublin and Kholm are completing the Russian successes against the Austrians who are still retreating. At Radom a division of the Landwehr and Germans who came to the rescue of the Austrians, were defeated by Russian cavalry. The latter took 125 prisoners. The Serbs are occupying Visegrad.

SITUATION FAVORABLE TO ALLIES.

LONDON, Sept. 16. The official statement says the situation continues favorable to the allies. The Germans are slowly drawing back. Several attacks have been repulsed with heavy German losses. The British have captured two thousand prisoners.

GERMAN ATROCITIES AND BELGIAN PROTEST.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. The Belgian bill of complaint against the German Army was this afternoon laid before President Wilson in the historic east room of the White House. The President received the delegation of Commissioners appointed by the King of Belgium to protest against alleged outrages in Belgium by German troops. A carefully prepared response by the President awaited the Commissioners, who were accompanied by and introduced by Secretary of State Lansing. The Belgian Minister and attaches of the Belgian legation were also present.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S REPLY TO THE GERMAN EMPEROR.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. President Wilson, yesterday, replied to Emperor William's protest that the Allies were using dum-dum bullets. The President's reply follows closely the statement made to the Belgian Commissioners protesting against alleged German atrocities. His reply to President Poincaré's message will follow along the same lines. The text of the President's reply to Emperor William is as follows: "I received your imperial Majesty's important communication of the 7th, and have read it with the gravest interest and concern. I am honored that you should have turned to me for an impartial judgment as the representative of a people truly disinterested in regard to the present war, and truly desirous of knowing and accepting the truth. You will, I am sure, not expect me to say more, presently. I pray God that very soon this war will be over. The day of accounting will then come, when I take it for granted that the nations of Europe will assemble and determine a settlement, where the wrongs committed and their consequences, and their responsibility involved will be assessed. The nations of the world, fortunately, by agreement, have made plans for such a reckoning and settlement. It would be unwise, it would be premature, for a single Government however fortunately separated from the present struggle, and it would even be inconsistent with the neutral position of any nation which, like this, has no part in the contest, to form or express final judgment. I speak thus frankly because I know that you will expect and wish me to do so as one friend should to another, because I feel sure that such reservation of judgment until the end of the war, when all its events and circumstances can be set in their entirety and their true relation, will commend itself to you as a true expression of sincere neutrality." (Signed) Woodrow Wilson.

BATTLE RAGING NEAR NOYON.

PARIS, Sept. 16. Noyon, the birthplace of Voltaire and also celebrated for its connection with Charlemagne, formed to-day the extreme left of the allied line, which for twelve days has not lost its close and constant contact with the Germans, and has done brilliant work in driving them back. From Noyon the line of battle sweeps southwards, then north to Laon fortress, forming a half circle, and from the fortress stretches east to the Meuse north of the first fort of Verdun, where, it is stated, the Allies' right wing is pushing the Germans northwards. The fact that the battle is raging within short distance of Paris passes almost unperceived at the French capital. Trains filled with prisoners or wounded do not pass through the city, but pass around over the belt railway. Those of the wounded able to converse, declare the fighting fierce, but that the Allies feel that success in the end is certain.

SUSPENSION BILL PASSES LORDS.

LONDON, Sept. 16. The House of Lords, to-day, passed through all its stages the bill suspending operations of the Home Rule and Welsh Disestablishment Bills.

STATES PROTESTS TO TURKEY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. The United States Ambassador at Constantinople was instructed to protest to the Turkish Government against its abrogation of the capitulations (relative to the status of foreigners in Turkey). Secretary Bryan announced to-day.

GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED.

LONDON, this a.m. The Official Press Bureau, yesterday, gave out a statement, which says that the general position along the Aisne River continues very favorable. The enemy has delivered many counter attacks, especially against our front lines. These have been repulsed, and the Germans have given way slightly before our troops, and the French armies on our right and left have been very heavily engaged and we have taken 200 prisoners.

GERMAN CRUISER TORPEDOED.

LONDON, this a.m. The Admiralty announces that the submarine E. 9, Lieut.-Commander Horton, has returned safely after having torpedoed a German cruiser six miles south of Heligoland. It is believed the cruiser was the Hele.

AUSTRIANS TERRIBLE LOSSES.

LONDON, this a.m. The Official Press Bureau issued the following announcement last night: It is stated from Russian official sources that the rout of the Austrians in Galicia is complete though full details have not been received. The Austrian loss since the taking of Lemberg, is estimated at 250,000 killed and wounded, 100,000 prisoners and 400 guns, many colors and vast quantities of stores. The Germans made desperate efforts to save the Austrian army, but failed completely. At one point the Germans lost 36 pieces of heavy artillery, and at another several dozen pieces of siege artillery.

NOTHING NEW FROM FRENCH SOURCES.

PARIS, this a.m. The French official statement issued to-night, announces that headquarters sent no new details of the action now being fought along the Aisne River. Up to 6 o'clock to-night we have not weakened on any point.

Rheumatism Goes Quickly its Virus Forever Destroyed

EVERY CASE IS CURABLE.

Good-bye to Rheumatism! Your aching joints, your stiff, sore muscles, those sleepless nights and suffering days—good-bye forever—your day is gone. Sufferer, cheer up, and read the good news below.

"A man met me a month ago, and said, 'don't stay crippled, quit complaining, limber up.' My answer was, 'I'm rheumatic, I can't do it.' He looked me over in a playing sort of way and told me to go to the nearest drug store for Neville's and Ferrero's. The combination had cured me. I was convinced of his sincerity and followed his instructions. I rubbed on Neville's three times every day—rubbed it right into my aching joints. The pain quickly lessened, and I became more limber and active. To draw the virus of the disease from my blood I took two Ferrero's Tablets with every meal. I am well to-day, not an ache, not a pain and no sign of stiffness at all."

What Neville's can do in a case like this it can do for you too. For nearly forty years Neville's has been recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica and Lame Back. It is the one remedy that never disappoints.

Divorced Life

By Helen Hanson Fuesler

One Woman's Tragedy

All that week Marian scanned the newspaper columns with anxious concern, and much to her gratification she beheld no story of Calhoun's suicide. Nights the brooding clouds of apprehension kept recurring insistently, and the philosophy of Mrs. McCarrens, to whom she had begun to feel very close, helped greatly in enabling her to keep her balance.

Early the next week came a picture post card from Atlantic City. The only writing upon it was "From the Foolish Boy." While it was not entirely reassuring, it relieved Marian immensely.

"What did I tell you," laughed Mrs. McCarrens, when Marian showed it to her. "He'll be playing about the same coppers in Atlantic City, I presume. He's not grown up yet by a great deal."

"What makes a man so angry to be called a boy?" mused Marian aloud. "It's his egotism, replied the older woman. 'Egotism is the cause of nine-tenths of all the trouble between men and women. It's the cause of all the trouble between women. I mean the sort of egotism that tries to lord it over another. The pity of it is that it's natural. My own egotism, for instance, has made my life a tragedy. Try as I will and do, I seem unable to overcome it. I'm a living example of what I condemn in others,'" she smiled sadly.

"I shouldn't call you an egotist," but in Marian anxious to hear the revelation of self which she anticipated her companion was about to make.

"But I know that I am," was the answer. "And I am paying the penalty for it every day. I'm miserable because I want my son to grow up in accordance with my ideals of manhood. I'm miserable because I'm afraid he will fall frightfully short of

Speaking of Peace.

Mysterious hints are cropping out in a variety of quarters touching the coming of peace in Europe. It's a delightful thought, welcomed by every one. The armies in the field, soldiers' relatives outside, levelled cities, untilled fields, suffering women and children, all cry for peace.

Last, but by no means least, the disturbed and in some instances wrecked conditions of business demand it.

But it is no use "saying peace, peace, when there is no peace." Desirable as it's advent would be, peace must come in such shape that, so far as human mind can compass it, there will be no possibility of any fire-brand again suddenly setting a goodly portion of the world by the ears.

It is feared some now prating of peace have the Nobel Prize, with its monetary value, honors and attendant advertising, in view.

Above all, it must be remembered peace in Europe will come when France, Russia, Great Britain and Japan say so and not till then.—N. Y. Telegram.

Seize 30 Germans Asleep in Barn.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—During the third day's fighting in the battle on the Marne a detachment of the French which had chased the enemy out of a village was halted by an old woman, who led them to a barn where there was still thirty Germans, telling them to make no noise, as they were asleep.

A man crept noiselessly into the barn and found the Germans sleeping so soundly that it took half an hour and a tremendous shaking to wake them. One explained that he had not slept for three days. They had been harassed by the French and English and the evening before they had entered the barn, where all fell asleep from sheer exhaustion.

"Take Me Back."

Lovers of music who attended the popular Crescent last night were impressed by Miss Clark's singing of Irving Berlin's latest success, "Take Me Back," and pronounced it to be one of the favorite prima donna's best numbers. The feature picture, "The End of the Road" is a very interesting drama with a pathetic story. "The Plaything" is one of those high class society dramas that is full of dramatic situations and is intensely interesting. "Betty's Bandit," a frontier western comedy, is just the opposite of the other two, plenty of life and vim and laughter. The same bill is repeated to-night.

The great Jewish feature, "The Jews' Christmas" is on the way.
