HORWOOD LUMBER CO.,
Limited,
DISTRIBUTOR.*Peddled Soap;
Now a Millionaire.Marshall Burns Lloyd, who years ago sold soap and soap on the streets of Toronto, is a millionaire three times over. After leaving Toronto, Mr. Lloyd carried a mail out to Port Arthur, Ont., on a dog sled. Then hebecame a waiter. Finally he bought a piece of land for $150 and sold it for $30,000. With this capital he experimented with inventions. Discovery of a process for making wicker work by machinery resulted. Then came the baby carriage business, which he sold recently for $200,000.
Mr. Lloyd, who is 70 years of age, was married in New York on April 14.Wife's Voice Worth $1,250.A jury in the Supreme Court on April 17 returned a verdict frankly acknowledging that a woman's voice is of monetary value, and that the temporary loss of it is worth money to her, when they awarded Mrs. Barker $1,250 against the N. B. & T. Railway.
The Barkers, who live in Merriton, were in a street car accident last June. Mrs. Barker received injuries to her neck which caused temporary loss of voice. Since the accident she has only been able to converse in a "whisper," and gave her evidence before the jury in whispering tones. Dr. W.
J. Macdonald, of St. Catharines, in his evidence, gave it as his opinion that the subtle connection between the woman's will to do and power to do had been broken in some way by the accident, though her vocal organs seem to be unimpaired. Witnesses for the defence declared Mrs. Barker was shamming, as they alleged she had spoken in ordinary voice since the accident.Judge Advises Beating for Annoyer."If this man annoys your wife, as she claims and you affirm, you have two remedies; one is to sue him for damages and the other is to beat him up," was the judicial decision Recorder Goldenberg handed down in his court, at Atlantic City, on April 14, after he had heard Mrs. Webster Risley accuse Thomas Curtis of accusing her on the street, writing letters in which he made unfounded accusations to her husband, and of making scenes in public places when they met."It looks to me as if you were big enough to settle the controversy by beating him up, and while you are at it I would suggest that you give him a good licking," added the Recorder.Curtis is a janitor in an uptown apartment house. The husband is employed at a beachfront hotel."I'll know what to do in the future.
You won't be troubled again, Judge," the husband declared on leaving the court room.Forests for Great Britain.A shipment of seven hundred pounds of Douglas fir seed was recently forwarded from the Dominion Forestry seed-extracting plant at New Westminster, B.C., to Great Britain. This is the final shipment of seed collected in 1921. The total quantity of each kind of seed shipped for the season was: Douglas fir, 4,000 pounds; Sitka spruce, 3,000 pounds; and western hemlock, 100 pounds. As tree seed is very small and light, ranging from an average of forty-five thousand seeds to the pound of Douglas fir to four hundred thousand seeds to the pound of Sitka spruce it will be seen that many millions of seedlings for planting in the extensive reforestation scheme which the British Forestry Committee has in hand.6

Refused to Live Without Wife.Seventy-five years of age and unable to hear the thoughts of spending the rest of his life without the companionship of his sixty-nine-year-old wife, Wesley Fuleon, of Selkirk, Ont., died a weight to his neck, and threw himself in the creek running near his house, dying in less than three feet of water. The husband had been bereaved the previous day. His wife had just returned from a two-week's visit to her daughter at Niagara Falls, when she was stricken with acute appendicitis. The aged husband and the wife he mourned so bitterly were buried together on April 16.Nurse Marries to Cheer Dying Patient.In order that he may die happy, Miss Martha Louise Scott, a nurse at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, obtained a marriage license late on April 14 to wed Samuel R. Fleet, whom she has been nursing at the hospital for some time. Fleet is expected to die within ten days, the doctors say. In applying for the marriage license, Miss Scott told the clerk that as soon as her "husband" dies she will ask the Probate Court to restore her married name. Both Mr. Fleet and Miss Scott are 59 years of age.The Tartar's Burglar Device.In Tibet the Tartars have what is possibly the oldest burglar trap in the world. It was invented, says Tit-Bits, to prevent people from robbing the tombs.Whenever a royal personage died in Tibet he was buried with all his jewels and his royal robes. To add a still higher tribute, the most beautiful young women of his court were suffocated and embalmed on the day of his funeral. With their beauty thus preserved they were placed in a standing position round the tomb of their master, each holding some trinket that the royal personage had used during his lifetime.In order to protect these treasures from vandals the Tibetans erected an arch in which rested sharply pointed arrows, and under which was a release that discharged the arrows in quick succession. Whoever tried to enter the tomb was robbed no more.When You'd Weigh Nothing.If the earth turned round in about an hour and a half instead of in twenty-four hours, things would have practically no weight at the Equator.
The reason is that everything would have a tendency to fly off the ground in the way that sparks fly from a rapidly revolving wheel.At present the equatorial regions spin round at the rate of about a thousand miles an hour; but if the speed were increased to eight or nine thousand miles an hour, a twelve-stone man would find himself weighing only six stone; while if it were increased to about seventeen thousand miles per hour, his "weight" would practically disappear, and he would only just be able to keep himself on the ground.It would be somewhat awkward for him if, when in his light-as-air condition, a wild elephant seized him in its trunk and tossed him in the air.It is to be feared he would make a thrilling exit from our globe, for he certainly would never come down again. The possibility of his clutching at branches of a tree on his upward flight and arresting his motion is much too remote to bear discussion.On the other hand, were he set upon by a lion or tiger, he would have no difficulty in hurling the savage beast sky-high, and have the satisfaction of seeing it sail aloft until it vanished from sight.Don't forget the Card Party
