Mimie War.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—The maneuvers at Glucksburg yesterday presented a brilliant spectacle. Divisions of invaders covered by the fire from their eight iron clads effected landings from the island of Alsen at four different points in 50 minutes, and stormed the heights of Duppel. Emperor William and Count Von Moltke were highly pleased. The Empress also witnessed them. The use of smokeless powder proved of more advantage to the defending than the attacking forces. At the Welsh Eisteddfed.

London, Sept. 9.—Carmen Silva, Queen of Roumania, had a great day at the Welsh Eisteddfod at Bangor. She was admitted into the Bardic Circle, initiated into the mysteries of Welsh bardism and invested with the blue ribbon of the order by a venerable Archdruid. Later, when the victorious bard was crowned, she laid her hand with those of the other bards upon a gleaming sword held by the Archdruid, whereat the multitude assembled shouted and danced with joy. The Queen went through the whole proceedings with zest, and listened with apparent interest to the rendering of many Welsh poems. She declared she had for years taken great interest in Cymric history, and, to prove it, read a little thing of her own dated from Llandudno, composed on the same day. In spite of the presence of the Queen of Roumania, however, the Welshmen felt the absence of Stanley severely. It was a somewhat singular coincidence that the Rev. John Rowlands, who presided over the Welsh National, is a namesake of Stanley, John Rowlands, who presided over the Welsh National, is a namesake of Stanley, John Rowlands being the explorer's name before he changed it to that of his adopted father and benefactor, and the one that he inscribed in the visitors' book in Dudley Castle when on a visit to his mother after his first trip to America.

Continuation of the Debate in the U.S.

Continuation of the Debate in the U. S.
Senate on Mr. Sherman's Motion.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—Indications point strongly to the defeat of Mr. Sherman's reciprocity resolution by the Republican majority in the Senate. In fact, the members seem to consider that it would be love and labor lost to make an offer of the kind at any time so long as a high tariff and high Tory Administration controls the situation at Ottawa. The bitterness exhibited towards Sir John Macdonald's Government arises solely from the conviction that it is hostile to the United States, and that Sir John does not wish, for party reasons, to reach a fair and equitable settlement of the open questions now irritating the two countries. It was not until 10 o'clock last night that the debate on reciprocity opened. Mr. Callom, of Illimois, made the first speech. His argument was directed more to reciprocity with the countries to the South than with Canada. The general tone of his speech so far as Canada was concerned was unfriendly. He charged the Tory Government of the Dominion with being hostile to the United States. He read long extracts from testimony taken by the Committee on Interstate Commerce, of which he is chairman, which he said showed that the Dominion Government was hostile. The general drift of his speech, so far as Canada was concerned, was in a high degree unirfendly to the Government.

A little after midnight Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin, made a speech. At 12:30 Mr. Evarts took the floor and spoke against the Hale amendment, which virtually proposes to give the President discretion to make a proclamation of reciprocity whenever, in his opinion, any foreign Government shall have placed tiself in a position where it can offer like advantageous terms to the United States. Mr. Evarts' opposes this on the ground that such a large discretion ought not be vested in the Executive, while he doubts the constitutionality of Congress.

The Senate adjourned at the conclusion of Mr. Evarts' speech without having reached a vote on the reciproc

This created some surprise amongst the representatives of the importing interest, as Oct. 1 is only three weeks in the future.

Doesn't See How to Exclude the elestials—Strike of 'Longshoremen at Montreal—Glass Workers Threaten to Withdraw from the K. of L.

At Ottawa on Monday, the Premier received a deputation from the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress — Messrs. Salmon, Ingram, Bartley, Cowan, McLean and Macdonald—who were commissioned to draw the Government's attention to the resolutions passed by the congress, calling (1) for the exclusion of Chinese from Canada, and (2) for their exclusion from the mines. Sir John said that Canada was unable, owing to the obligations of imperial treaties, to exclude the Chinese, and that as China was about to shut her gates in retaliation on the United States, Cenada stood a good chance of securing the trade the United States would lose. We could, he said, increase the pol! tax on the Chinese, and personally he was in favor of doing that. Mr. Salmon laid before Sir John the case of the miners in British Columbia, where he himself works as a miner. He said that the presence of Chinese in the mines was the cause of many explosions and loss of life. Sir John said he did not see how they could admit Chinese into the country and exclude them from the mines, but if Mr. Salmon furnished him with statistics in support of his representations he would lay the matter before his colleagues.

SECESSION FROM THE K. OF L. THERATENED.

PITTSEURG, Sept. 9.—The window glass workers and bottle blowers have decided to leave the Knights of Labor if Powderly is re-elected master workman. Together they number 10,000 men. Their new stand has come out through the refusal of the window glass workers at their last meeting to honor a request of Powderly for a loan of $500. In the discussion that followed the presentation of the request, it was divulged that during the strike on the Reading Railroad the window glass workers had given the general officers $100,000 to carry on the fight. This has been returned in installments, and the window glass workers now have $200,000 in their treasury. Powderly was denounced as being responsible for the mismanagement that has reduced what was a great army of Knights in 1887 to a mere skeleton in 1890.

Evidence That John R. Potter Was Murdered at Stratford—No Clue to the Assassin.

STRATFORD, Sept. 9.—The adjourned inquest as to the cause of the mysterious death of John R. Potter was proceeded with yesterday. The medical evidence shows that the man was murdered—choked quest as to the cause of the mysterious death of John R. Potter was proceeded with yesterday. The medical evidence shows that the man was murdered—choked to death—but the testimony so far fails to fasten the crime upon anyone in particular. The police expect to make out a case strong enough to justify the arrest of the suspected, but have been unable to trace Potter's movements on the Monday evening that he was killed.

After the medical mea were called to prove the cause of death two young women, Fanny and Bridget Gallagher, were put on the stand. It may be remembered that the Piner family, with whom the murdered mans resided for a couple of weeks, strenuously denied having seen Potter after he left their house on Monday morning, and although one of the small boys said that Potter had returned to the house that night, yet the mother and grown-up daughters, Maria and Marry, stuck to it that they had not gone out of the weeking. The Gallagher girls, who were out walking with their beaux near the Queen's Park on the night of the murder, had a different story to tell, and swear that at least one of them recognized Maria Piner walking with an elderly man answering to the description of the deceased, between 10 and 11 o'clock on the night in question, and were proceeding in the direction of the Piner proceeding in the direction of the Piner proceeding in the direction of the Piner should be keeping company with such an old man.

The inquest has been adjourned for two old man.

weeks. Caleb Piner is said to have had a row with Potter Monday night, but he had not been called as a witness nor put upon his defense, though represented by counsel. It appears that Mrs. Bottrill was in the habit of receiving frequent visits from friends or alleged friends of her well-encircled husband, who themselves had minated in the former's death. The Piner girls are rather pretty, black-eyed lassies. Caleb is about 22 years of age, of an easy going disposition, and is unable to either read or write. Edward Piner is a well-built, stout young chap of 19. There is also some evidence that Potter wrote, or said he wrote, a letter demanding "blood money" from some person unknown a few days before his death, and it is surmised that when he was seen apparently looking for somebody in the Queen's Park he was expecting a reply in person to his letter. Oa the other hand, he may have been looking for the person he found.

Attempted Train-Wrecking.

POUGHIKEE'SIE, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A desperate attempt was made last night to wreck the fast St. Louis and Chicago express, which leaves for New York on the Central road at 6 p.m. The train was stopped for a danger signal south of Old Troy, 500 yards south of New Hamburg drawbridge. Two minutes previous the flagmen discovered several ties standing in the culvert near Old Roy, and when he took hold of one of them to remove it he was fired upon from the bushes on the east side of the track. Knowing that the fast express was nearly due he ran southward, and set the danger signal, which stopped the train. There were eight ties on the up main track. There were also two ties placed alongside of the rail toward the south, so as to ditch the train. The train included eight sleepers, two coaches and baggage car.

POUCKERSER, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Tim Dunwoody, the flagman who first found the obstruction on the track south of New Hamburg last night, and who flagged the upbound express, has gone to Albany in charge of Detective Doad to tell his story to Superintendent Bissell. There is a strong feeling that the so-called attempt to wreck the express was a bogue affair, and that Dunwoody knows more about it than he has yet told.
