It cannot compel nations capable of self-defense to give up their autonomy or existence and fade out of history. War cannot do this, neither can a narrow and jealous system of diplomacy. Strong nations, once conquered, have always at hand one remedy—that is, revenge. They must bide their time, however; prepare with intent purpose, and by honest, earnest effort then win the victory over the once triumphant enemy."

LONDON, July 25.—The great Ulster convention, at which the sentiment of the Protestants of the Province were voiced sgainst home rule, cost its promoters $6,000. Such a large sum had been subscribed to the guarantee fund, however, that the £6,000 amounts to only 6: $3 in the pound as an assessment upon the contributors.

Mary Anderson Won't Return to the Stage.

London, July 25.—There appears to be no doubt that Mr. Gladstone is most earnestly resolved to proceed with the Home Rule Bill with the least possible delay. A vote of want of confidence in the present Government will be moved and pressed to a division as quickly as the forms of Parliament permit, and as soon as the new Ministry has been formed Parliament will be procycued, in order that the Liberal members may have a much-needed holday previous to commencing, probably in November, the hard work of passing the Home Rule Bill in the face of a determined, unscrupulous opposition, and the obstruction of Tories and Mugwumps. Contrary to expectation, Mr. Gladstone proceeded direct to Hawarden from Scotland, and according to present arrangements he will not come to London before the middle of next week. There is really no need for him to come to town carlier, now that the Government has determined to wait until the assembling of Parliament before resigning.
