She stopped, breathless and pale with motion, but not so pale as Lord Cecil. White as death his face looked in the soft gift of the shaded lanterns.

He had wronged her then? Great Heaven, what should he do?

But as Zenobia murnurs his name again and in accents full of tender, pleading love, Carrie, with a stiffed cry, turns to go back. Then, woman-like, the stops, and obeying an irresistible impulse, glides behind the thick cove of ferns at the back of them, and alas! for her future happiness, listens.

"Cecil," murmurs the voice that had charmed the heart out of his bosom the first time he heard it. "Are you angry with me? Do you doubt me? Ah, no, you cannot do that? Why do you not speak to me and tell me that I am forgiven?"

"Lady or gentleman, princess?" he asked, "Can you ask?" she replied, with a brillant smire; and Carrie watched her gide away, laughing softly, as if there were no such person as Lord Ceeil.

Pale and trembling, Carrie emerged from her hiding-place.

The fernery had cleared again, and utterly unable to face the bail-room, she sank into the seat from which Cecil and Zenobia had just risen, and sat with her hands clasped, her eyes fixed like one in mental agony.

What had happened she scarcely realized; she felt as if the heart within her had suddenly grown cold and dead—as if a dark cloud of bereavement had fallen upon and crushed her.

TABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a very severe cough, had a virulent sore on my lips, was had with dyspepsia, to constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman s Vegetable Discovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilicus habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little affect. But since using three hottles of the Vegetable Discovery the billousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years o'd. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know." 3

JOHANNA RULED THE SHIP,

The Mate of New York's Great Gorilla at Sea.

She Made Things Lively for the Passengers on the Dona Maria.

(New York Tribune.)

She had been the center of attraction on the voyage, and as she rat in deep meditation yesterday on the steamer Dona Maria, she pondered on her triumphs on the deep. She was young, fair to look upon (according to certain standards), and her raven-black hair—short though it was—looked as lustrous as silk. Her eyes gleamed and her ivory-white teeth glistened in the gloom that surrounded her. Around her were gathered many of the passengers, but it was not of them she was dreaming. Her name is Johanna. Many miles across the deep, from fair gardens at Lisbon, where her youthful life had been spent, she had come to meet her betrothed.

She had an apartment for her sole use, and the only breach of etiquette she would commit was to sit cross-legged on the floor, and for hours gaze into space. But she, on one occasion, caused discord on board the ship, and of the facts relating to this discord this story, as taken from the captain's lips, is a record.

The Portuguese steamer Dona Maris, Capt. Marreiros, sailed from Lisbon on Nov. 29, and arrived here yesterday. On board the Dona Maria was Johanna is only 9 years old, but she weighs 150 pounds, and stands 5 feet 10 inches in her stockings, when she wears them.
