in Toronto. Toronto, Feb. 4.-The annual meeting of the Game and Fish Commission

Dunnville, presided. The principal suggestion as to an amendment to the law governing deer shooting, was to the effect that the clause prohibiting the shooting of deer in the water be expunged. The time limit for the shooting of ducks each day has been from one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset. It is proposed that the law be changed to read from sunrise to sunset, and also that blinds or hides be allowed only within 100 yards o either shore. This latter change would prevent the ducks from being driven entirely out of bays, etc. The recommendation as to quail shooting will be that the open season done is estimated to amount to $250,- be made six weeks instead of two

Out of respect to a vigorous agita-tion from farmers, there has been no close season for cottontails. It has been found, however, that many huntsmen go out ostensibly to shoot these animals, but often manage to bring down an odd partridge or quail during the season in which the latter are protected. Accordingly it was suggested that an amendment be made providing that the carrying of firearms to hunt cottontails during the close season for other game be prohib-

was also thought advisable that the license to shoot deer imposed upon bona fide settlers be reduced to the nominal sum of 25 cents.

Mr. Edward Cronyn's Views - Six Months Devoted to Personal Investigation-To Investors.

Having just concluded six months' personal investigation of mines and mining in the great gold and silver camps of Rossland and the Slocan, I submit as follows: My investigation was made from the standpoint of an investor, also from that of one who might be asked, or feel disposed, to advise the investment of money by others who have not the opportunity to personally visit the mines. In addition to actual examination of the mines, I have gone very carefully into the different methods of company organization, plans of opera tion and the character of individuals forming boards of management o companies prominently before the pub lie with their shares. But a very short stay in Rossland or the Slocar is required to convince the most skeptical that the great gold and silver mines are not only destined to enrich Canada, but to create many individual fortunes. My especial purpose, therefore, soon became the determination as to what kind of organization, operation and men "at the helm" were best calculated to assure profitable results to investors, assuming that a good mining property had first been secured. I submit briefly the conclusions at which I have arrived:

A. Given a first-class property, the company mining or operating it must be properly organized under some incorporation law sufficiently well established by the highest judicial decisions, to enable the shareholders and officers to know precisely what their powers, privileges and responsibilities are.

B. Given a first-class organization be sacrificed, let it not be honesty, for

C. In any event, ample working capithe property be, as is usually the case, undeveloped, for time and money are necessary to enable the opening up and equipment of the best of mines before the ore can be extracted economically and profitably. D. Reasoning backward, if the incor-poration law under which the company is formed be defective, or vague and untried, litigation and loss are possible at every stage; or, if the management be unsound, the profits may be absorbed by excessive salaries or wasted by reckless, extravagant expenditures; or, if sufficient provision is not made in the beginning for procuring ample working capital as required, the company may have to suspend operations before the property become productive, until the shareholders can be assessed voluntarily, or otherwise, to procure more funds. Becoming fully satisfied that the shares of companies coming up to requirements A, B, C and D, operating either in the Rossland or Slocan districts would, at a reasonable price per share, afford a sound and remunerative investment, I was very much pleased to have placed at my disposal. of shares of the treasury stock of a company developing first-class prop-Having thoroughly investigated the property, organization and management of this company, I am prepared to vouch for it in every particular. Saunders, an exhibition of the process of and materials used in manufacturing MILLED TOILET SOAP by the London Soap Company, who and materials used in manufacturing MILLED TOILET SOAP by the London Soap Company, who have, at considerable expense, installed the necessary plant to manufacture that perfection of the soapmaker's art, Milled Toilet Soap. The brand exhibited is called "Buttermilk Complexion Soap." Beginning with the edible fat, or suet, and cochin cocoanut oil, there follows the lye, glycerine, witch-hazel, buttermilk, perfume of lavender, geranium, rose, carsway (patchouli), and then these combined into bars of white soap, then seap chips, soap in shavings or milled, then squeezed by a tremendous screw power into solid pole-shaped lengths, which are cut into little pieces that are then pressed by a stamping press into perfect cakes ready to be wrapped in elegant wrappers and boxed for sale. Altogether the exhibit is a most interesting one, and something never shown here before.
