McVicars and Clyde Gibson, members of the coal company's rescue crew, who entered the mine last mining inspectors had given up work for the night. When McVicars and Gibson had reached a point two and heard a faint cry, towards which they groped, and discovered the two miners in what is known as room 10 or Bad Man Husband entry 20. The men were barely conscious and had to be practically dragged through the long tunnels to the opening. It was considered miraculous that they had survived at all, for the explosion and poisonous gas had al-

"I entered the mine at 6:20 Wednesday morning," he said. "Legler and I were eating lunch in the room where we were found, when shortly after 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon we heard a dull explosion which seemed to be far away. We continued eating, and finished our lunch. I began to get nervous when I did not hear the other miners at work, and I went to investigate. I found dead miners lying around and then I knew what the explosion had been.
