Careful Investments.

A perusal of some of the estates that are put up for probate reveals the fact that there must be a great shrinkage in some-in fact the great majority-of them when the heirs investments.

Stocks of all sorts and varieties, many of them highly speculative, seem to form a large proportion of many of the holdings.

Then there are others that would require the careful watching and manipulation of the man who bought them to realize anything. Some of them are also of that class that MAY amount to something some time, but if dependents want to liquidate quickly they have to throw them on the market for what they can get.

Then comes the time of disappointment, especially if the estate is not heart-breaking and disappointing.

If the railway were secured the nower would soon be forthcoming. Gowganda, for instance, is the future hope of Ontario's silver production, with Cobalt on the wane. Twenty-eight miles of railway are needed to open up this camp. There must be 50 excellent mines standing idle in that camp waiting for railway facilities. Fort Matachewan, 27 miles north of the terminus of the Elk Lake branch, is another promising gold camp, while-from Swastika in through several townships to the Quebec border there is a string of wonderful gold mining properties that would thrive if there were a
