

LOCAL AUTHOR'S POEM CORDIALLY RECEIVED

By Canadian Club at St. John,
N.B.—Favorable Comment
From the Press

According to information received from St. John, N.B., the patriotic poem, the author of which is Wellington J. Dowler, of this city, and which has been dedicated to the Canadian Club of Canada, was warmly received by the members of the branch of that organization in that city. The occasion of the gathering was an address by H. B. Ames, M.P., of Montreal, on the Canadian West. The song was "exceedingly well received and was favorably commented on by the press."

The St. John Telegraph of the 22nd inst. contains the following:

"At the conclusion of the luncheon President Walker arose and in a few words extended the club's welcome to the distinguished Canadian Dr. Walker observed that Mr. Ames was bringing to the east a message from the west, and expressed the hope that Mr. Ames would return to the west with a message from the east. We had spent a considerable amount of money here, and the speaker thought that after Mr. Ames had looked over our harbor and its improvements, he would say to the west that St. John was the place to which the products of the west should be brought, and shipped across the sea. Dr. Walker stated that the club was in receipt of a letter from the Canadian Club of Victoria, B.C., in which the St. John club was asked to co-operate in having a song which accompanied the letter made the national song of Canada. The song, entitled Canada's Song of Freedom, was dedicated to the Canadian Club throughout the Dominion. The words were by Wellington Dowler and the music by George Werners."

"At the conclusion of the president's remarks the new song was rendered by Sidney Beckley in an excellent manner. The words are very patriotic and the air quite catchy. Prof. Dr. Arnold Fox, accompanied Mr. Beckley."

TO START WORK ON THE MILL BAY ROAD

Construction Will Commence
in Couple of Months—Surveyor Busy on Location

A start will be made on the construction of the new roadway from Goldstream to Mill Bay, a distance of approximately seventeen miles, in the course of a few months. During the last session of the Provincial Legislature $20,000 was placed in the estimates for this undertaking. About the same time a general survey was submitted by Dennis Harris. The latter now has a party in the field doing location work, and as soon as it is completed, which will be in something like two months, active operations will be started and will be carried forward as expeditiously as possible.

The proposed new thoroughfare is a convenience, not only for the residents of the district in the vicinity of Mill Bay, but which will be greatly appreciated by all interested in the welfare of Victoria and the Cowichan valley and all districts to the immediate north in closer touch with the city, thus permitting the interchange of business without the difficulty now experienced.

At present those driving from the north to Victoria have to climb the Sooke Hills, a route involving both a heavy grade and a greater distance than is necessary. The proposed new roadway, that surveyed by Mr. Harris and pronounced by him to be in every way practicable, will eliminate the hill and also cut down the distance many miles.

W. H. Hayward, M. P. for Cowichan, who is in the city in connection with this project, states that when Mr. Harris' final report is ready, it is probable that the Government will provide for the commencement of work both from Goldstream and from Mill Bay. The road, he says, will be constructed north and south as far as possible with the money at the disposal of the authorities—in other words, as long as the Government is willing to contribute. Then it will be possible to form an estimate of what expenditure will be needed for the remainder of the road, and doubtless provision will be made accordingly.

The route to be adopted, Mr. Hayward asserts, is along the Skanich Inlet between the E. & N. railway and the water for a considerable distance, thus following the use of that road but over the summit only on a lower grade. The advantage of this could easily be seen by any one possessed of a knowledge of the country. As stated, it would mean less climbing and a shorter journey to those who wished to drive from the adjacent agricultural sections to Victoria or vice versa.

Referring to conditions in the Cowichan valley, Mr. Hayward said that they were exceedingly promising. He looked for an exceptional year. People were coming in from the outside constantly, taking up small and large farms, and as a rule, going in for mixed farming. The district was becoming settled rapidly, the value of property was rising and tourists were beginning to seek out the Cowichan lake and river for a holiday during which the best of sport might be enjoyed. The forthcoming season, he believed, would be much more prosperous than heretofore.

APRIL FIRE LOSS

Property Valued at Eighty-Five Thousand Dollars Went Up in Smoke

The April fire loss in Victoria totaled $85,000, according to figures compiled by Fire Chief Thomas Watson. During the month there was a total of fourteen alarms, and the loss was not as large as in the previous month. The conflagration in the Shell block, when damage to the building was $10,000 was done, and also that at the plant of the Victoria Brick company, where the loss is estimated to have been $10,000 practically covered the whole of the loss for the month, the other losses being small in amount.

Winnipeg to Duluth

Fort Francis, Ont., April 29.—The first train to enter this town over the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railway pulled into the Canadian Northern station last evening at 6:30. On board was a party of about 20 prominent citizens of Duluth, Minn. and St. Paul. The coming of this train into Fort Francis was made possible by the completion of the bridge over the Rainy river between Rainier on the American side and Fisher's Point on the Canadian side.

Another Landslide Victim. Buckingham, April 30.—With the discovery to-day that another child of August E. Krivier's is numbered among the landslide victims the number of deaths is increased to 34. Ten of the Krivier family are dead. The search for bodies continues.

Nanaimo Statistics. Nanaimo, April 30.—During the present month there were 13 births registered, 5 marriages and 14 deaths. Eight certificates of work were registered and 23 returns for this district for April were $5,492.20.

Immigrant's Sudden Death. Toronto, April 30.—Heart trouble was the cause of death of E. C. George, whose body was found in front of the Salvation Army. The Salvation Army was responsible for bringing the man out to Canada, and if his wife, who is in London, had heard from him they would look after the interment of the body.

BANK CLEARINGS ARE STEADILY INCREASING

April Figures Indicate the Expansion of the City's Business

Local bank clearings for the month of April continue to show the satisfactory growth of the previous three months. Last month's figures were $4,634,088, compared with $4,290,782 for the month of March and $4,554,411 for the corresponding month a year ago. For the first four months of the present year the aggregate clearings were $17,656,678, as compared with $16,774,249 for the same four months last year.

The growth in local bank clearings is all the more satisfactory when it is considered that practically every other city in the Dominion shows a falling off in the bank figures as compared with the same period a year ago. Bank clearings are generally considered to be one of the best illustrations of the growth of business and the fact that every month this year has shown a substantial increase over the corresponding month a year ago is indicative of a steady growth in local business circles.

The monthly returns so far this year, compared with those for the same time a year ago, were as follows:

Month	1908	1907
January	$4,491,095	$3,909,569
February	$4,772,711	$4,282,831
March	$4,290,782	$4,059,507
April	$4,634,088	$4,554,411
Four months	$17,656,678	$16,774,249

FEW VACANT HOUSES AVAILABLE IN CITY

Real Estate Agents Tell of Victoria's Remarkable Growth in Population

(From Friday's Daily.)

"Have you got any houses to rent?" This query is made many times a day at practically every real estate office in Victoria by diligent, and oftentimes disappointed, searchers for homes.

When an agent is asked whether there are any vacant houses in the city, he replies in the affirmative. Almost invariably he continues for the purpose of qualifying the statement.

"Yes," he says, "there are houses but the rent is high. It is the raising of rents to a considerable extent. Thus it is difficult for us to satisfy all applicants. There is no denying the fact that good homes are at a premium."

Yesterday, in conversation, a prominent local real estate man explained the situation very clearly. He said that he received dozens of applications daily for houses. He had a list at present vacant, but these he would have no trouble in filling. A few months ago he had been in the custom to take the names and addresses of those who desired reference in the raising of rents to a considerable extent. Thus it is difficult for us to satisfy all applicants. There is no denying the fact that good homes are at a premium."

Another interesting incident, betokening the rapidity with which Victoria is being populated, is told of the E. C. Land & Investment Agency. Last year the manager of that concern made a note of the number of vacant houses on his books, and which he had little hope of renting, and found that there were ninety-seven at present every one of these is tenanted.

And not the least remarkable feature of this congestion is the opinion of the majority of those in the real estate business, is the fact that it is not only in the business districts but in all residential sections of the city. They are a unit in predicting that the forthcoming twelve months will witness an unprecedented growth throughout Victoria.

Acetylene Explosion

Winnipeg, April 29.—Dugald McLennan, a workman employed at the C. N. R. shops, narrowly escaped death when a gas explosion completely wrecked the company's big generating plant and caused damage to the building. McLennan was at his usual work, feeding the acetylene into the generating plant, and without his being aware there was a terrific report and he was hurled across the room and banged against the wall. McLennan will recover, but the cause of the explosion cannot be ascertained.

Ask for Ashcroft solid leather foot-wear.

PROVINCIAL PARTY IS WELL ORGANIZED

B. C. Conservatives Ready to Enter Pending Campaign Enthusiastically

After a tour of British Columbia occupying almost two months, L. S. Eaton, organizer for the Provincial Conservative Association, returned last night full of enthusiasm and confident that the next federal election will witness a pronounced turning of the tables and the return of the full Conservative ticket in place of the "solid seven" now seated at the capital of the Dominion.

"The party is thoroughly organized throughout Yale-Cariboo and the Kootenays," he said, "and everywhere, even in the most sparsely populated sections, the Conservatives are filled with the present administration as a result of their attitude on the Oriental question, the passage of the Alien Act, and the position with regard to British Columbia's claim for better terms, and other matters of general policy. Where there is not a distinct split in the Liberal ranks their work is markedly apathetic, while the Conservatives are filled with vim and waiting eagerly the opportunity to enter the fray."

At Kamloops, Mr. Eaton said, the party foregoes expansion on the condition prevailing at Ashcroft. There the workers were exceptionally active while there was dissatisfaction in the opposing camp. "As near perfect as possible" was not an exaggerated comment on the state of affairs in the Okanagan in regard to the Conservative Association. Although there was not an exception in the voters' list in the Similkameen, members of the party were displaying creditable energy in getting things in proper shape for a possible contest on August 3rd, at the outset, speaking generally, the organization all through British Columbia was well equipped with the supporters of the Conservative cause stood shoulder to shoulder, all ready and anxious to take an active part in the fight which was expected would take place in the near future.

The recent nomination of Martin Burrell for Yale-Cariboo had created much enthusiasm. It was accepted as a foregone conclusion that on both sides of the fence that he would be returned, against the most likely Liberal candidate, namely, Duncan Ross, the present member by an overwhelming majority. There was no force in the argument that because Mr. Burrell had been defeated by Ross previously, that the same would occur again. Apart from the fact that Ross had been defeated by Burrell, it had to be remembered that at that time the Conservative standard was comparatively little known. Since then he had become acquainted all through the constituency and wherever known his winning personality, acknowledged talent, and "speaking of the possible candidates for the Yale-Cariboo seat," Mr. Eaton stated that several names were mentioned as possible representatives of the Conservative cause. Among these were W. A. Macdonald, E. L. Schofield. These acknowledged to be in the running on the other side were S. J. Dean, S. O. Buchanan, Dr. King. It was his candid opinion that whoever was chosen by the Liberals would have a very strong opposition. The federal government's position with regard to Oriental immigration had created a bitter feeling in all the communities, as well as in the agricultural sections of the Kootenays and there was no doubt that large numbers of those, who had faithfully supported the Laurier administration, were now in a state of government when the opportunity presented itself.

The eagerness with which the prospective candidates for the Yale-Cariboo seat were anticipated by the people of Yale-Cariboo was not surprising. It was a matter of course that the people would have to travel miles to the hall.

Mr. Eaton believed that the issues of the pending Dominion election campaign would have both a local and a federal significance. He thought that the two were so closely intertwined that they could not be separated. To illustrate his point he mentioned the Oriental question and that of better terms for British Columbia. Under the jurisdiction of the Ottawa authorities, were provincial in character. Undoubtedly the federal policy in respect to these two issues had aroused the general public to such a pitch of indignation that the Liberal candidates would have to contend with a very strong opposition.

Mr. Eaton was in the city for a few days for the purpose of visiting the Comox-Atlin district. His itinerary will take him to all the most thickly settled portions of the province, and he plans to perfect the Conservative organization throughout the district.

OAK BAY COUNCIL TRANSACTS BUSINESS

Important Matters Dealt With at Meeting of Roads and Sewers Yesterday

The roads, sewers and bridges committee of the Oak Bay council met yesterday afternoon in the office of the clerk on Langley street and much important business was transacted. The following members of the committee were present: Reeve, Oliver, and Councillors Fernie, Noble, Newton and Macdonald.

The tenders which had been called for were opened, E. G. Prior & Co. being the lowest bidder for the hardware and tools, theirs being the lowest tender. The lowest tender for the material to be used in the construction of the new bridge over the Mill Creek was awarded to Messrs. Raymond and Sons, acting for the Victoria Portland Cement Co., secured the contract for furnishing the cement that will be used by the municipality this year.

The engineer reported the estimate that had been made of the cost of laying water mains on Hampshire road, Monterey avenue and Saratoga avenue and these amounts were passed, the usual course to be taken in doing the work. The engineer also submitted estimates of the cost of the new bridge on Beach drive, near the Oak Bay hotel, which were passed and the work ordered to be done.

The report of the pathmaster with an estimate of the amount of drain pipe that would be required, was adopted and the work ordered to be done to make the necessary purchase.

The report of the sanitary officer was dealt with and the various items referred to the engineer.

The petitions which had been received asking for sidewalks on Paul Bay road, north of Oak Bay avenue, and for the grading of Deal street and Hampshire road were referred to the engineer for estimates.

The request of the school trustees that a by-law be prepared to raise $10,000 for a new school building was dealt with and a by-law ordered to be prepared.

The reeve was instructed to appoint a committee to meet the joint committee of the E. & N. and the C.P.R. to discuss the advisability of having a public abattoir.

The building by-law was received from the solicitor and referred to the engineer to report. Much routine business was dealt with and a number of motions referred to various committees.

A special meeting of the council has been called for Monday afternoon at 7 o'clock, at which time the council will meet to meet the board of school trustees in regard to a site for the new school.

BEAUTY OF VICTORIA EXTORTS HIS PRAISE

John Willy Speaks Appreciatively of the Climate and Attractions Here

The beauty of Victoria and its surroundings, its fine hotel and invigorating climate were John Willy's constant theme yesterday while conversing with a Colonist reporter at the Dominion hotel. Mr. Willy is the proprietor and publisher of the Hotel Monthly, a journal devoted to the beauties of the city and its surroundings. He is a constant traveler and his business keeps him constantly on the move, with the result that there is no other place in the world better qualified to judge of such matters. Consequently his praise of the big hotel is disinterested.

"I have been in the city of 35-people," said Mr. Willy, "I never saw anything finer anywhere than the hotel and office, while the dining room is superb. When eating my breakfast in the morning I could not take my eyes off the Australian rosewood paneling and the woodwork generally. The service is the most perfect. When traveling I always eat the same breakfast for the purpose of being able to pay the bill as it would be to this five-star hotel. I have been to the first-class hotels in Los Angeles, San Francisco, and San Diego, and I have never seen a hotel so well equipped as the Hotel Monthly. I have been to the Pacific coast from California and am now on my way home to Chicago. The hotel is a first-class hotel. There was just that something, unobtrusive service which made the hotel a place to go to in the States."

"I noticed the foundations of the new wing already prepared. The hotel is a first-class hotel. There was just that something, unobtrusive service which made the hotel a place to go to in the States."

Mr. Willy had originally from Somersville, although he has been twenty-six years in the States, which, perhaps is one of the reasons why he was so delighted with Victoria. "I drove round this city this morning, and it was just like a trip home," he said. "The architecture, the trees, the hedges, the fruit trees in blossom all remind me of home. I am so sorry that I have to leave tomorrow, but I must go. I have been much struck by the invigorating quality of the air. I feel just as if I were in my own home. I feel like a new man."

"With your beautiful city, delightful climate, and the fact that you have a large proportion of the wealthy American traveling public, you should not merely to pass a day or so but to spend a summer holiday. The hotel is a first-class hotel. There was just that something, unobtrusive service which made the hotel a place to go to in the States."

Mr. Willy leaves in the morning for Chicago over the W. & N. P. R.R., but hopes to return for a more extended visit at an early date.

Edmonton, Citizen's Death

Edmonton, April 30.—One of the most brilliant scholars and linguists of the West, who had been in the city last night in the person of Chas. Dew Macdonald, a well-known citizen of Edmonton for the past ten years. This late Mr. Macdonald, who was 54 years of age, had been in failing health for some time, and during the past few weeks his end was expected at any time.

Socialist Candidates

Toronto, April 30.—Eight Socialist candidates have been chosen by the party at "A" and "B" meetings in the four Toronto seats. They are: West Toronto, Phillips, Thomson and Macdonald; North Toronto, James, Dallas and James Simpson; South Toronto, Leon, Tredler and Luigi Del Toro; East Toronto, W. G. Gable and E. A. Drury. In East and West York respectively the candidates are W. L. Auger and W. M. Pez.

Spectacles to See Backward

Paris, April 28.—Paris detectives will be called to see who goes on behind them if the police department adopts the invention which has been offered by the Electric Railway company. The device consists of a pair of spectacles fitted with a prismatic arrangement that makes it possible for the wearer to see behind him. It is said to be the work of a Frenchman.

Hamilton Man Disappears

Hamilton, April 30.—Harry Cooley, employed by Chas. and Wm. Bushner, disappeared nine days ago at a place called the "Cave of the Unknown," and has not been heard of since. He was a steady and industrious worker. He disappeared in his work clothes, and left a bank book showing a deposit of $500.

GAME RESERVE OF ALL E. & N. LANDS

R. Marpole Makes Important Announcement Regarding Railway's Plans

(From Friday's Daily.)

The establishment of a game preserve on the E. & N. lands obtained by the C.P.R. in the purchase of the former railway, the immediate clearing of many acres of the districts adjacent to Duncan, Ladysmith and Qualicum for settlement, the inauguration of a double daily service over the island line, to say nothing of the construction of a road from Nanossee bay to Alberni, are the plans which the C.P.R. will carry into effect without delay in the development of their holdings on Vancouver Island.

This statement was made last evening by R. Marpole, general executive assistant to the C.P.R. and vice-president of the E. & N. railway. Accompanied by H. J. Cambie, consulting engineer of the E. & N., and R. Palmer, provincial horticultural commissioner, he arrived in Victoria for a tour of inspection. They travelled in Mr. Marpole's private car, the Brunswick, and made a short stay at Duncan, afterwards going to Nanaimo from where they took an automobile along the road of the construction work in progress as far as practicable.

While in the Cowichan valley Mr. Marpole took occasion to visit Sahtlam, an Indian village situated on the Cowichan river some miles from the town of Duncan. He stated that it was the intention of his company to construct a foot bridge across the waterway at that point for the convenience of visiting disciples of Nimrod. For the same purpose a trail would be built along the bank of the river to the head waters. This would permit the game preserve to reach desirable waters for the obtaining of sport without the difficulties which, at the present conditions, they must experience. He could not say definitely, what amount would be spent in this work but he could give his assurance that it would be done thoroughly.

Game Preserve Projected

The object of the proposal outlined, Mr. Marpole said, was easily explained. It would have to be first understood that it was the intention to make a hunting reserve of all the E. & N. lands, and to specially preserve that in the Cowichan district. Unless some such step were taken it would not be long before the stream would become depleted and, of course, lose its present popularity among those who delighted in the sport.

He did not think it would be difficult to carry out the company's wishes in this respect. Notices would be posted to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion one or two prosecutions would convince the general public that the threat was not an idle one. In this he referred more especially to the Cowichan river. Not as much attention would be paid to the game preserve as to the effect that trespassers would be prosecuted. In his opinion