TWELFTH YEAR.

Comrades Feasted.

Hours Elapsed Before the Imprisoned the field and those who, on being over-taken, were captured, were immediately Dense Volumes of Smoke Which Poured executed. From the Mouth of the Mine and the

All the other imprisoned men perished, owever, 73 in all. The wives, children nbed miners still nd the mouth of the pit. At m

LIKE THE EYRAUD CASE. The Archibald McNeill Murder Mystery At Last Cleared Up.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The body of Archibald McNeill, a well-known and popular journalist, was found on the sands at Boulogne in Jan., 1888. All the evidence pointed to in Jan., 1888. All the evidence pointed to foul play, but long and patient investigation led to nothing. The case caused a sensation, but the police were finally compelled to acknowledge themselves beaten.

To-day a tailor living in Boulogne went to the office of the Procureur and declared the crime was committed by his brother and his sister-in-law, who desired to obtain Manually reliables. The woman enticed .The woman enticed upon by her husband, and together they murdered and robbed him. The accused are both of evil repute. The Procureur has

McNeill went to France to report the Smith, Kirain prize fight in Jan., 1888. He was known to have had in his possession coin, Bank of England notes, and a watch, all of which were missing when his body was found. Several five pound notes of his had subsequently been cashed

MY COUNTRY. 'TIS OF THEE!

Dom Pedro's Dying Injunction to His Daughter and Heiress, Countess d'Eu. Paris, Dec. 6.—Dom Pedro was conscious to the end. At almost the last moment he exhorted the Duchess d'Eu and her husband to bear up against sorrow and to pray with him for the greatness and prosperity of Brazil. Immediately after the ex-Em-peror had breathed his last, all the persons person has breathed his last, all the persons present in the room knelt and kissed the hand of the Countess d'Eu, who, upon her father's death, instantly became invested with all his rights to the throne of Brazil. protest to the Brazilian Government against her exile from the country, but she main-tains all her rights in relation to the crown. She says she is ready to return to Brazil at met with no official recognition in the Brazilian capital. A number of merchants and shopkeepers in Rio Janeiro closed their places of business for the day cut of respect for the ex-Emperor, but otherwise the the Mayority and aldermanic candidates. The members will meet later on to review the Mayority and aldermanic candidates. places of business for the day cut of respect for the ex-Emperor, but otherwise the death of the former ruler of Brazil was marked by no demonstration of any kind. perty he had will be divided between the Countes d'Eu and children of the deceased's daughter, Princess Leopoldine of Saxe-Coburg.

The King of Portugal has offered the use of the yault of the Braganza family for the throat with a pocket knife. It is as yet unof the vault of the Braganza family for the burial of the ex-Emperor. Dom Pedro was fully possessed of his mental faculties till the end. The funeral

Army Service in France. Paris, Dec. 6.—The members of the Superior Council of War have had a con-

OVER THE GUARDIAN WALL THE SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL Chinese Rebels Meet With a Crush ing Defeat—Eleven Hundred of the

Marauders Slain. LONDON, Dec. 7 .- The Chronicle's Shar

Appalling Disaster in a French Colliery.

London, Dec. 7.—The Chronicle's Shanghai correspondent telegraphs that the rebels have met a complete crushing defeat. He says 4500 Imperial troops met a force of 3000 rebels at a point 15 miles from Chaovang. The latter were very daring and had better cavalry than the Imperial forces, who were at first compelled to move back somewhat. The conflict which ensued was long and stubborn. Finally there was a spirited charge from the Imperial side. This threw the rebels into confusion and they began retreating, keeping up a running of Her Maiestry's High Court of Justice Jenne and a jury in the Divorce Division.

bour nothing could be done to aid the unfortunate miners in the pit.

At length, the shaft was sufficiently cleared to enable the rescuers to descend in the cage and begin the work of exploration, but at the very outset the rescuers encountered a Erious obstacle, for the main gallery was found to have collapsed, thus preventing access to the imprisoned men. After working several hours in relays the party of rescuers had cleared away a portion of the debris, and a few minutes later they came across the bodies of four miners. The men, although unconscious, were the men, although unconscious, were affect, where they soon revived.

While the rescuers were at work several doctors and a number of ambulances had been summoned from St. Etienne.

A short time afterwards another rescuing party which had entered the connecting pit, sent to the surface four more of the victims all of whom were quickly restored to consciousness.

All the other imprisoned men perished.

All the other imprisoned men perished.

All the other imprisoned men perished.

To such a such a summon of from $2.000 conditions the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandoning also his scheme for 10 the proposes a more elastic system of note issue, and abandonin

he first summons sent her.

Cable despatches from Rio Janeiro say Marshall was elected president for the enember of the enembe that the news of the death of Dom Pedro suing year. A discussion sprang up on Sun- change carried off.

A Lodger Cuts His Throat, SHAKESPEARE, Ont., Dec. 5.—A stranger about 45 years of age, who gave his name as T. B. Wallace, stopped at a farm house last night a short distance from this place, at his certain whether he can recover. No reason

"Something Funny" and copiously illustrated, "Christmas Puck," "Christmas Judge," 1892. Winnifrith Bros., 6 Torontostraet

The Dakota Storm.

ENGLAND HAS STILL ANOTHER SALACIOUS DIVORCE SUIT.

This threw the rebels into confusion and they began retreating, keeping up a running fight, however. No quarter was given. Eleven hundred rebels were slaughtered on the field and those who, on being over-the field and those who, on being over-the field and those who, improved the second of the field and those who, improved the second of the field and those who, on being over-the second of the field and those who, improved the second of the field and those who, improved the second of the field and those who, in being over-the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the field and those who, in the second of the sec brought to offset a similar suit instituted against her by Marius. He alleges that his wife has had improper relations with Arthur Cohen, sub-editor of The Financial News.

From the Mouth of the Mine and the Frot That the Main Gallery Had Collepsed—Only S Escape Alive From the Subterranean Tomb—Terrible Scenes Around the Mine.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—An explosion occurred at moon to-day in the Puits de la Manufacture, belonging to the St. Etienne Colliery Company, lumediately after the explosion dense volumes of evil-smelling smoke issued from the mouths of this and a connecting pit, and in a short time crowds of relatives—and friends of the imprisoned workingmen gathered about the entrance to the pit and prepared for the work of rescue.

Fortunately to-day was being observed as a fete day, and a comparatively small number of men was at work in the mine.

The Work of Rescue Impeded.

When the first attempt was made to rescue the imprisoned men the rescuers were driven back by the foul fumes that poured from the shaft, and for nearly an hour nothing could be done to aid the unfortunate miners in the pit.

At length, the shaft was sufficiently clear—At le

Ladies' % coats. Sealette.
Mantle cloth.
Eider-down quilts,
Black silks.
Table linens.
Table cloths. Napkins. Handkerchiefs. Railway rugs.

Carriage rugs. At N. Rooney's, 62 Yonge-street. Fact—at half price, stylish self-feeding hall and parlor stoves at Bain's, 179 King-street East. The demand for fine pictures is increasing in Toronto as a result of improved artistic tastes. At Mathews Bros, art gallery may be seen a recherche stock of oil and water color paintings, etchings, engravings, etc., including a special exhibition of Mr. L. R. D'Brien's latest works. An early selection

THE NEW BRITISH POLICY THE QUESTION OF SUNDAY STREET CARS Is One That the People Must Be Allowed to Settle by Their Votes—Sign the Subjoined Petition.

TO HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR AND ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF

MONDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 7, 1891.

lorence St. John Asks That Her Marriage Tie be Dissolved—Countess Mabel Will Have to Pay $30,000 Costs—Belle Bilton Will Present Her Husband
With an Heir.

London, Dec. 6.—The suit of Miss FlorLondon, Dec. 6.—The suit of Miss Flordue course: WHEREAS Section 40 of the Agreement between the City Coun cil and the Kiely-Everett Syndicate stipulates: No cars shall be run on the Lord's Day until a Sunday Service has been approved by the citizens by a vote taken on the question:

The undersigned ratepayers, qualified to vote for members of the council respectfully request that the ratepayers be given an opportunity at the forthcoming Municipal Elections of expressing their opinion for or against the running of street cars on Sunday:

	Eleven hundred rebels were slaughtered on the field and those who, on being over-	petitioner and C. F. Gill for the respondent.	tunity at the forthcoming Municip opinion for or against the running o		Gladstonians in their first enthusiasm seem to have believed that the whole agricultural	The greatest pleasure is manifested. Prin-	resumption of Mr. Sage's business—these
o the	taken, were captured, were immediately	brought to offset a similar suit instituted		ADDRESS.	to have believed that the whole agricultural population of England was coming over to	Victoria has placed the former residence of	attempt to assassinate Russell Sage by ured	executed.	mainst how by Marine He alleges that his	NAME.	ADDRESS.	population of England was coming over to them. They saw the counties all theirs. This illusion vanishes with East Dorset.	the Duchess of Cambridge, St. James	dynamite in his office on Friday.
d the	In O a In San State of the San State of	wife has had improper relations with Arthur Cohen, sub-editor of The Financial News.			This illusion vanishes with East Dorset. The counties are still to be fought for.	raiace, at the disposar of the couple, pend-	the shock and injury to him: and the clerks.
Col-	LONDON, Dec. 6.—A despatch from I cam	Marine seeks no money damages against	A RESERVED TO THE STATE OF THE				whose lives were despaired of, now promise to come safely out of danger.
20006	tain parts of the disturbed districts had	Cohen, but only asks the court to release him from his marriage ties.			East Dorset is to hold the seat, and by a lessened majority, while in South Molton	celebrated at an early date.	The certificate of 100 shares of Chicago, abandoned their stations and sought safety	Miss St. John was the only witness Satur-			the Gladstonians captured a seat held by	HE SECURED A BRIDE,	Burlington & Quincy, which was missing Friday, was found in the ruins of Mr. Sage's	1
ed at	says that the Vicerov, Li Hung Chang, who	day. She testified to a number of acts of alleged crulty on the part of her husband.				But It was Not the Gill He wished to	office. It was spattered with blood and	186
ufac-	is moving with all possible promptness to put an end to the troubles, is massing his	She married Marius after he had been	 		the movement of opinion among that class	Marry.	stained with dust. There are four certified	1
OSTOIL	forces in the direction of Manchula, and	divorced from his wife and after she herself had obtained a divorce from her former			of electors whom both parties are wooing	Myers was arrested on the serious charge of	checks missing in all, Col. Slocum says, amounting to about $170,000. Their loss	1 7
ssued	that his object is to make a forward move-	husband.			with most assiduity. How assiduous the Gladstonians are appears from the elabor-	and action mustamed by a wound airl agod!	-: 11 be we smale goin on their were not en-	211
atives	ment against the enemy, and it possible to	ENGLISH SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL.			ate preparation for that conference on rural			TA
gmen	There is a strong probability, too, that	Human Nature With a Title Much the	Marie and the second se		reform. the newest comage in position	I -la- Ial milton to the change offering	Mr. Carrie office will be regularly resumed.	131
	the rebels will find themselves in trouble growing out of the recent murder of the	Same as Human Nature Without,			don. It is frankly admitted to be a new	offer must be carried out forthwith, as he	So many people called at the Morgue yes- terday to see the body of the murderer that	3
		London, Dec. 6.—G. W. Smalley cables:			Libergliam a name the historical meaning	could not otherwise be released from cus-	the morguekeeper had the coffin containing mine.	Mongolian Prince. The Mongolians are furious, not only against the actual murderers, but against the whole body of	due solely to the rank and social position of			of which now exists in history only. I col-	tody. The chief at once went for Mr. For- han and a license was procured. The Rev.	the remains taken into the dissecting room derers, but against the whole body of rebels, and threats of vengeance are freely made. It is thought here that if the Mon-				lect from the London organ of Chadson and	Mr Millyard was sent for and the interest-	who had a permit from the warden.
have	made. It is thought here that if the Mon-	statesman The result proves that Lady			Trying to Hoodwink Houge.	ing ceremony gone through with, the chief acting as best man. After the ceremony	One man who called was William Dowl-their Prince the imperial troops will have	Russell's petition for a judicial separation ought never to have been filed or		Carlot Vising And Carlot Carlo	First this conference is to be experi-	the vonne man was allowed to depart in	Tacoma. He said that he thought that the	1
	HOUSE WOLK to do in ramonation	never to have been allowed to come!		→	mental. Mr. Schnadhorst does not mean to commit his party to Hodge, unless	peace. He had completed arrangements to marry another girl about three weeks ago	man was one Wilson, who had once been scuers s that	ONE DOUND NOTES	to a public hearing. The details are paltry, sordid and often contemptible. Money			Hadra on his side he ready to bind up his	and was only prevented by her family leav-	He afterwards drifted around in various ly an	Mr. Goschen's Scheme for Increasing the	was at the bottom of the squabble.			fortunes with Mr. Schnadhorst. Next Thursday's proceedings, we are told, are to		places, and Mr. Tyler lost sight of him, but saw him once in Portland, Oregon, about ne un-	Financial Strength of England.	The serious charge, which was rather suggested than made, was abandoned in			be assentially deliberative, and not declar-	ORPHANED BY WHISKY.	eight months ago. He thought the man	I clear-	To I I am a slumpe of Ma	court by Sir Edward Clarke. Hardly any-	Control of the second of the s		atory. Perhaps it is felt that the program of declarations at Newcastle is already as	A Mitchell Shoemaker Perishes Miserably	was always visionary, and he said that Wilson had spent some time in insane asylums.	1
n the				-	lang ag it can safely he made. It is to be a	In a Fierd by one about and	In the afternoon two detectives came in atered	Sir William Harcourt, you wish to read five	Land Pussell had told his own story on the			conference of experts. Its management is in		with a man who said, "That's him," as soon as he saw the face. He said further, "The
			BIGITM TITINDED GIGNIEDG	HANLAN DEFEATED.		lot about half a mile from the centre of the	man was English, not a Jew. He wasn't work-	ber of Commerce on this question. He has	course and composure even when they	EIGHT HUNDRED SIGNERS.	The the Roat Race at 'Frisco	called the Gladstonian Caucus. These	outskirts of the town and going home from	crazy, either: he was a fine talker." The	具
rty of	now dropped his much-criticized proposal for compelling the joint stocks to do their	compaled more damaging confessions. Pub-		by 80 Yards-The Crowd See	shrewd enough to judge for himself on his	his shop in an intoxicated condition last	detectives took this man away and would
			SATURDAY WAS THE MOST PRO-	the Scullers.	shrewd enough to judge for himself on his own affairs, and that he would care little for panaceas proposed by such amateurs in	night he left the road and attempted to	To Kill Off Monopolists.
iners.	is to be left as now with the Bank of Eng-	evidence had been given and cheered when		SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—The boat race between Hanlan and McLean for $500 a side	for panaceas proposed by such amateurs in	weighted down with mud and falling into	The developments in the terrible explain were ne sur-		the verdict in his lavor was known. So		took place on Oakland Creek this afternoon.	for him-Mr. John Morley, for example.	a furrow from which he was unable to rise,	sion, as brought about by Inspector Byrns ie dar-	He proposes a more elastic system of note	late years have brought, sometimes dis-	During This Week the Good Work Must	The hoets were outrigged skiffs. Hanlan	Candidates not practically acquainted with	leaves four orphan children, the eldest a	wond much doubt that there really exists everal	-Lilling motor would now localize an issue	credit, sometimes disgrace on the peerage	Be Completed-Sign the Petition and	gave McLean 100 vards start. McLean won	inhar must understand politics as Well: 101	girl of 16, the youngest a boy of 1 year.		1
s nad			Get Your Neighbors to Sign lt—Six or Seven Thousand Names will be Re-	by 80 yards. Time 23.47. The crowd presen	the sole aim of this	SHOT HIS SWEETHEART, AGED 14.	city who have sworn to kill the monopolists of the country.	1.1
	of £1 notes, the lowest now printed by the Bank of England being £5. All these suggestions are worked up together into a	fall upon poor Countess Russell. Whatever	guired to Make Sure.	hooted the rowers, claiming the race was a	congress, is politics—in other words, votes. It is to consider parish councils and district	Herbert Ford, a Detroit Mulatto, Then	The important link in the evidence thus	1
ng pit		they may think of the justice of the vertice,	A good batch of signatures came in on	fake.	land all subjects which are to	Blew His Brains Out.	far gathered by the inspector is the arrest of William D. Southworth, the man who is	V
o con-	that they may contribute to the financial strength of England and perpetuate the	her grushing defeat.	Saturday, many of them accompanied by	DINEEN'S FURS.	come under the control of these bodies when created. It is to consider land and	DETROIT, Dec. 6.—Herbert Ford, color-	and had to go to South America power of London as the centre of the ex-		words of praise for The World's course. Nearly 800 names were appended to the peti-	The Sale Still Continues with Unvarying	1 things relating to land, including the	ed, aged 23, met his sweetheart, Clara Mills 14 years of age, in Clinton-street last	to promulgate some mining scheme. The last heard of him was about two weeks ago,	77
rished,	change system of the financial world.	LONDON, Dec. 6It is announced that	tions. That is more than 200 short of what		Lalition of primogeniture and the estab-	night and fired three shots at her, two of	- C-uth worth me mutting un at the nildren	The £1 notes are the key to the whole, since it is mainly by their issue that he	the Countess of Clancarty, formerly Belle		On Saturday Dineen's sale of furs was	lishment of a new system of land transfer. So far, good; but these reforms are to be	which took effect one lodging under the	35 -: TI-4-1 Then be said that he was	/
rs still	hopes to enlarge the gold reserve.	Bilton, is enceinte. Friends of the Coun-	nevertheless it is a very creditable effort and	patronized more largely than it has been	merely the starting point of socialistic	self The act was premeditated. He	Southworth was taken to the morgue to-	1. 3
				since its commencement. The bleak, 13" to a reunion of the family and social recog-	we will not complain if it is equalled by to-	since its commencement. The bleak, raw atmosphere, the dark, louring clouds, every	schemes. It will be seriously proposed that	charged the girl, whose reputation was	day, but when shown the head of the bomb-nessed	THE POPE'N FINANCES.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess.	we will not complain if it is equalled by to- day's receipts. We think, however, that it can be exceeded	atmosphere, the dark, louring clouds, every	schemes. It will be seriously proposed that county councils, or perhaps even parish councils, shall be invested with powers to	charged the girl, whose reputation was good, with being unfaithful to him. There is a chance of her recovery.	day, but when shown the head of the bomb- thrower said he had never seen the man in his life. There is evidence to show that nessed	THE POPE'S FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts.	nition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail,	every day for the next four days by which	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of	is a chance of her recovery.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt.
nessed rought	THE POPE'S FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome. Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theo-	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to fore-	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the pur-	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum,
nessed rought	THE POPE'S FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. ROME, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abystandard to be a social recognition of the late King John of Abystandard to be a social recognition.	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to fore-	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the pur- chase of land, for allotments, the purchase	is a change of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this arming stoutly claimed that the horne-
nessed rought	THE POPE'S FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance wis interest of broader realms.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Englands for heing concerned in a street.	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the precessary qualification of being rateoavers.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that cave such a sudden if not	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the pur- chase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the boxb-thrower was the individual who made
nessed rought	THE POPE'S FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. ROME, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not case that gave such a sudden if not	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the pur- chase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milton Jones of	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bomb-thrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some nessed rought yetery	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4.300,000 francs, while, the	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not case that gave such a sudden if not	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the pur- chase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcers being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his directors on of the nines house, throw,	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bornethrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to nessed rought wstery hibald urnal- ulogne ated to	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the pur- chase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The	Is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bornethrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bomb-thrower and Southworth have been known to each other	•
nessed rought vstery hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. D. Dineen's extensive establishment in	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the pur- chase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale.	In a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt.
nessed rought vstery hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com-	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince	wethink, nowever, that its executed every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcers being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham.	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mils for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of suiphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bomb-thrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members
nessed rought wstery hibald urnal- ulogne ted to estiga- used a y com- tten. e went	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids'	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The	every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Chaldren will have to say on these pro-	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bond-thrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bomb-thrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both
nessed rought ystery hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE.	wethink, however, that itself be secured every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally suc-	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these pro-	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see
hibald urnal- ulogne ted to estigaused a a y com- ten. e went eclared prother obtain	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioner to appoint two women sub-commissioner.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association.	wethink, however, that its exceeded every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band.
hibald urnal- ulogne ted to estiga- used a y com- ted went extended a complete ten ten ten ten ten ten ten ten ten	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to the wideness arrivately. Specific cases	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the	wethink, nowever, that itself be settled time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm bad found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the worst remunerative disposal of goods ever	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bomb-thrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified South-
hibald vertery hibald vernal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared orother obtain enticed ounced at the properties.	The POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association	wethink, nowever, that its extended every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establish-	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecture last (Capter When Shaw called hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- ated to event enter obtain enticed ounced or they occused	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association.	wethink, however, that its extended every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establish-	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecture last (Capter When Shaw called
hibald vertery hibald vernal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared orother obtain enticed ounced at the properties.	The Pope's Finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the articipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 week.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, presi-	wethink, however, that itset be extended every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car ser.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, ex-	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a sensation was entered water.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bomb-thrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (South-
hibald arnal- ulogne tted to cestiga- used a y com- tten. e went celared rother obtain enticed ounced ar they coursed sur has	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while, the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from the femployers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with	wethink, however, that itset be extended every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operaclocks admiring the grand array of sea	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence.	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature
hibald urnal- ulogne at the stiga- used a y com- tten. e went colared or obtain enticed or they coused eur has	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaid's hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen	wethink, however, that itset be stated time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary I was one of the first members when	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what a England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till tately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence tyet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston.	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bomb-thrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel hexprecied that hibald urnal- ulogne at the control of the control	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on	wethink, however, that itset be extended time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who yoted "no," and when the names and	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale. The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence tyet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston is is meclares this the "critical period in the feature of Liberalism, when the Libera	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the works of the people could be obtained even-hibald urnal- ulogne ted to estiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared rother obtain enticed ounced r they coused eur has Smith known of Eng- re miss- al five-	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in	wethink, however, that itself be exerted by the construction of the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sadden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking aft the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operaclosks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what a England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty yet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston is fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera carts will stand or fall according as they	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newbord, Ont., Dec. 6. —Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds:	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature
hibald urnal- ulogne tted to oestiga- used a y com- tten. e went eclared rother obtain enticed ounced ar they coursed eur has Smith shown of Eng- re miss- al five- a cashed several	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal."	wethink, however, that itself be exerted by the construction of the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves mearight, there were 18, voted "ao," and aright, there were 18, voted "ao," and aright.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to fore-shadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every circ every share is here, so that the most	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale. The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence by et seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and the land and will be a state of the land and the land and the land and will be a state of the land and the land and the land and will be a state of the land and the land and will be a state of the land and the land and will be a state of the land and the land	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6.—Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon mem	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bomb-thrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel heexpected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations
hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- aten. e went eclared rother obtain enticed ounced or they are to the same of Eng- se miss- a five a cashed several e found	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is the table is in a merihund condition and that	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal."	wethink, however, that itself be detected time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao," and 2 voted "yes." John Earls.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operaciolaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods. The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most extensive and condensations are seasoned.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what a England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty et seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberaljsm, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and the labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLEG'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations allks.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United hibald arral- ulogne tted to o estiga- used a y com- tten. e went eclared orother obtain enticed ounced or they cour has a five of Eng re missal five of a cashed several e found with an	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissions to tapoint two women sub-commissions to tapoint two women sub-commissions to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; the Cann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form.	wethink, however, that itself be acted the every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "no" and it voted "yes." Dec. 5. The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operacioaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the mos fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till stely, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence by te seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, seen and the sentence of the content of the problems of the solve or bungle the problems of the solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, seen and the problems of turns.	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations allies. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for schools which are	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he
hibald arral- ulogne tted to o estiga- used a y com- tten. e went eclared orother obtain enticed ounced or they cour has a five of Eng re missal five of a cashed several e found with an	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaid's hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned vesterday to attend his	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; the Cann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form.	wethink, however, that ited be detected time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." JOHN EARLS. Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whe	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of opercloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land for allotments, the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale. The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence by to seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonias is medclares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn and to Home Rule. not on Ireland, but on the content of the property of the party of the property is the property of the problems of turn and the property of the problems of turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn and the Home Rule. not on Ireland, but on	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations allies. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for schools which are	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he
hibald urnal- ulogne the de to estiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared rother obtain enticed ounced ar they coursed eur has smith sknown of Eng- re miss- al five- a cashed the cashed the sknown of the cashed	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissions to tapoint two women sub-commissions to tapoint two women sub-commissions to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; the things which are not seen are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delignted on the	wethink, however, that itself be severy day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "no" and it voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operacioaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same natterns and fashions.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till stely, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence yet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonian declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England.	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex. Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and it while there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by actof the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of rail-hibald urnal- ulogne attention to estiga- used a y com- tienticed to estiga- used a y com- tienticed to extention the color obtain enticed ounced or they coused eur has Smith a known of Eng- re miss- al five- a cashed with an extention to the color of	The Pope's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissions to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; "The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under	wethink, however, that itself be severy day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozon or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 18 voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to fore-shadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ was trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the mos fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, foithis line are a great deal higher than for	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I the sentence, the most remarkable sentence yet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Cham	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and in which there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. Mr. Robert Alexander who is head of the	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By nis scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- tentente went entired ounced or they occused eur has Smith a known of Eng- re miss- al five a cashed with an extente out of the council of the counci	The Pope's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the articipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 week. ly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cutbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen seeternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portangents.	wethink, however, that itself be severy day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao," and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of the content of the member of the back of the nemet of the names of the person that contained the names of the person that cont	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sadden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking aft the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operacioaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods. The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fashidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what a England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty et seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Cham	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. —Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. With Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel heexpected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By als scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other
hibald urnal- ulogne atted to estiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared robtain entitled ounced robtain entitled entitled robtain entitle	The Popers Finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioner to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthemantitled "We Praise Thee. O God," in sym-	wethink, noweyer, that ites to seat the every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." Dec. 5. The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also sig	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the precedent of the propertion of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the mos fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principe, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, fol this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence, it is sentence, the most remarkable sentence to sure the retical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the residual to the content of the party that of the problems of the period in the period in the period in the party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and it other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegate. 3. That it is illegate. 4. That it is illegate. 5. That it is illegate. 6. That it is illegate. 7. That it is illegate. 8. That it is illegate. 8. That it is illegate. 9. The is an Old Toronto Boy. 10. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own.
hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- utent to the contain of Eng- re miss- al five- a saved a five- a consci- noment er hus, to pray	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Carlton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled. "We Praise Thee, O God," in symment the musical to portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled. "We Praise Thee, O God," in symment the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical tare portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled. "We Praise Thee, O God," in symment the direction of the program. They sang the anthem entitled." "We Praise Thee, O God," in symment and the program the program the program the program the program the	wethink, noweyer, that ites to seat the every day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." Dec. 5. The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also sig	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the precedent of the propertion of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the mos fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principe, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, fol this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence, it is sentence, the most remarkable sentence to sure the retical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the residual to the content of the party that of the problems of the period in the period in the period in the party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and it other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegate. 3. That it is illegate. 4. That it is illegate. 5. That it is illegate. 6. That it is illegate. 7. That it is illegate. 8. That it is illegate. 8. That it is illegate. 9. The is an Old Toronto Boy. 10. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own.
hibald urnal- ulogne the de to destiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared rother obtain enticed ounced ar they coursed eur has smith sknown of Eng- re miss- al five- i cashed the destiga- to His known of Eng- re miss- al five- i cashed the destiga- to His known of Eng- re miss- to pray several five a cashed the five and the five	The Popers Finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissions to appoint two women sub-commissions to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas: is running its course, but they hope the fatal ter.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen—are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Carlton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the avening Dr. McCann delivered an	wethink, nowever, that it our days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members whe voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—Ed. World.] Editor World: I enclose ticket in favor of	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operecioaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashiona able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, ar real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle; and are reduced to the exceedingly low principle.	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till stely, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence, the most remarkable sentence is madelares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agraran policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury com ing to the Midlands capital to receive the capitulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there to	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegate. 3. That it is illegate assess members of Church of England and it which there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot - street, and left here a young man in 1856. He tought in the Confederate army, return the confederate army return the confederate a	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By nis scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own.
hibald urnal- ulogne ated to estiga- used a y com- utent to the estiga- used a the estiga- used a the estiga- used to the estiga- used t	The Popers Finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the articipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete receivery as his diseas; is run-	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are sernal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Carlton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Anoth-	wethink, noweyer, that ited be severy day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. As stated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." John Earls. Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—Ed. World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday street car service. I do not do sunday street car service. I do not do sunday street car service.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most renumerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of opers cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the mosfastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, foithis line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle and are reduced to the exceedingly low pric of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty et seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and distance of Birmingham, who says there the surrender the keys of the citadel and distance of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and distance of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and distance of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and distance of Birmingham.	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex. Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 3. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 4. That it is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the me syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He fought in the Confederate army, returned to Toronto and married and again wen ed to Toronto and married and again wen	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel heexpected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches.	4
hibald urnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten celared rother obtain exclared and the to destiga- used a y com- ten. Exit to His Exit to H	The Pope's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioner to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas: is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen—are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Carlton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the avening Dr. McCann delivered an	ween day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves maright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." Dec. 5. The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—ED. World.] Editor World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday, street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath dese	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of opere cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashiona able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the mos fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, [following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle; and are reduced to the exceedingly low price of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a librar discount is	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale. The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence yet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the application of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and do homage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr.	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England are publication to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 3. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and in which there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He fought in the Confederate army, returned to the United States and settled in New Or leans. He is now with the Trinidad asphalent, who is head of the confederate army, returned to the United States and settled in New Or leans. He is now with the Trinidad asphalent, which he was the controls that no controls th	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel heexpected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By his scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes,	A
hibald urnal- ulogne attention to the same a several s	THE POPE'N FINANCES. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from the employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas, is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother,	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cutbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthementitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English divine.	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who ted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and It voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—Ed. World.] Editor World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday, street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath dese cration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism. for "the works of the petition is one of the petition as expressed in the shorter catechism. for "the works of the page of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted the	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the precedent of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the precedent of the continuous and the prices range from the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, fol this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle; and are reduced to the exceedingly low price of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is given when the goods are purchased o	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till ately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I the sentence, the most remarkable sentence yet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonian declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the ambulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and dhomage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr. Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a breather and work for Nor when pressed by the citadel and the band and for the oratory which Mr. Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a breather and work for Nor when pre	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious decominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and in which there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He fought in the Confederate army, returned to the United States and settled in New Or leans. He is now with the Trinidad asphal concern, which controls that product in the United States. All the old boys of Mudd.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By nis scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join hibald arral- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared orother obtain enticed ounced ar they cour has a five of English for the conscinoment of Et. to His linear of the conscinoment or they cours a five of the conscinoment of the conscinoment of the conscinoment of the conscinoment or the conscinoment or the conscinoment of the conscionary of the con	The Pope's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 week. ly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham worted in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen—are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Carlton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English div ine. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. Courtracett, Ont., Dec. 5.—W. A. Cat-	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who toed "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and It voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—Ed. World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday, street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath dese cration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy." I do not intend to	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most renumerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of oper cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, fol this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs the match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle; and are reduced to the exceedingly low price of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till stely, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence yet seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the capitulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there to sure the keys of the citadel and dhomage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be circumstances does the modest Sir William	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and if which there are not taught religious exercise proceed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and the United States and settled in New Orleans. He is now with the Trinidad asphale concern, which controls that product in the United States. All the old boys of Mudd York remember Mr. Alexander. He seem to be a keen man of business with wealthy at the concern, which controls that product in the conc	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by actof the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a per-hibald urnal- ulogne atted to estiga- used a ycom- ten went eclared robtain enticed ounced rother obtain enticed ounced rother enticed ounced rother enticed ounced rother enticed ounced rother entitled to the saveral five a cashed with an experiment of EE: to His item. conscinonent er hus to pray sperity ex-Empersons sed the on her nivested Brazil, the tother than the contract of the contract o	The Pope's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the articipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 week. ly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen—are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English div ine. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. Courtricht's store and postoffice in same building	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and I voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—ED. World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath dese cration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy." I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and mercy." I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and mercy." I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sadden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking aft the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operaclosks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fashious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principles and are reduced to the exceedingly low pric of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is gi	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till stely, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence, the most remarkable sentence is medicares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agraran policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the capitulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there to surrender the keys of the citadel and homage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be circumstances does the modest Sir William, shrink from swagger. He tells his constituted the tells his constituted the tells his constituted the tells his constituted the tells	INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and in the totangent of the chools which are not under control of Church of England and it which there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He is now with the Trinidad asphal concern, which controls that product in the United States and settled in New Orleans. He is now with the Trinidad asphal concern, which controls that product in the United States. All the old boys of Mudd York remember Mr. Alexander. He seem to be a keen man of business with wealthy associates.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada
hibald arnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared orother obtain on ticed or they coused a representation of Eng. Smith known of Eng. Smith known of Eng. Swith and Ett. to His line with an experiment of Eng. consciinoment or they extended to the several efound with an experiment of Eng. Ett. The several experiment of Eng. Ett. Ett. The several experiment of Eng. Ett.	The Pope's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the, receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the articipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 week. Ly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30 at Davis Bros.', jewelers, 130 Yonge-street.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delignted on the whole with his address. The Carlton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English divine. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. Courtricht, Ont., Dec. 5.—W. A. Catcarth's store and postoffice in same building was burglarized last night. Two bills with	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—Ed. World.] Editor World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath desecration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works onecessity and mercy." I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and mercy, because I am satisfied that everyon wherein a streat cer.	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of opere cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle and are reduced to the exceedingly low price of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty et seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is offat last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and dhomage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be circumstances does the modest Sir William shrink from swagger. He tells his constituents that they shall have not only Hom the but the whole Newcastle program.	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and pplication to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England and it which there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He fought in the Confederate army, returned to Toronto and married and again wen to the United States and settled in New Or leans. He is now with the Trinidad asphal to be a keen man of business with wealthy as sociates. For coughs, colds, sore threat, etc., tr	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada and Senator Hurst of California. The Man's History.
hibald arnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared orother obtain on ticed or they coused a representation of Eng. Smith known of Eng. Smith known of Eng. Swith and Ett. to His line with an experiment of Eng. consciinoment or they extended to the several efound with an experiment of Eng. Ett. The several experiment of Eng. Ett. Ett. The several experiment of Eng. Ett.	The Poper's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commission to appoint two women sub-commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30 at Davis Bros.', jewelers, 130 Yonge-street.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cutbbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are terran." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English divine. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. COUETRIGHT, Ont., Dec. 5.—W. A. Catcarth's store and postoffice in same building was burglarized last night. Two bills with change were carried off, also two registered letters and postoge stamps. George Dale's dung store and	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and I voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—ED. World.] Editor World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath desecration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy," I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and mercy, because I am satisfied that everyon who is a street car service woul	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operacioaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods. The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the mosf fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs te match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principles and are reduced to the exceedingly low price of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty est seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and dhomage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be circumstances does the modest Sir William shrink from swagger. He tells his constituents that they shall have not only Hom Rule, but the whole Newcastle program simultaneously. It is at least the work of the care of the conqueron of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex. Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for support of schools which are not under control of Church of England and it while there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He fought in the Confederate army, returned to Toronto and married and again wen to the United States and settled in New Orleans. He is now with the Trinidad asphale to be a keen man of business with wealthy as sociates. For coughs, colds, sore threat, etc., tructors of coughs, colds, sore threat, etc., tructors of the coughs, colds, sore threat, etc., tr	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monpolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada and Senator Hurst of California. The Man's Bistory. This des
hibald urnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten ted to destiga- used a ted to destiga- selared ounced are they coursed a tellow of the ten ten ten ten ten ten ten ten ten te	The Popers finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 week. ly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseasy is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30 at Davis Bros.', jewelers, 130 Yonge-street. The East End Property-Owners. At the meeting Friday night Mr. Noel Marshall was elected president for the endarced.	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cutbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthementitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English divine. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. COURTRIGHT, Ont., Dec. 5.—W. A. Catcarth's store and postoffice in same building was burglarized last night. Two bills with change were carried off, also two registered letters and postoffice in same building was burglarized l	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao" and 12 voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—Ed. World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath desecration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy." I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and mercy, because I am satisfied that everyone would apply; but while advocating Sundividual	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of opere cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashionable New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, [following the same patterns and fashions, arreal jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs to match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle; and are reduced to the exceedingly low price of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is g	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till stely, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence to see in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladstonism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the capitulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there to surrender the keys of the citadel and homage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be circumstances does the modest Sir William shrink from swagger. He tells his constituents that they shall have not only Hom simul	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex-Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for support of schools which are not under control of Church of England and it which there are not taught religious exercise procribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He fought in the Confederate army, returned to Toronto and married and again went to the United States and settled in New Or leans. He is now with the Trinidad asphaloncern, which controls that product in the United States. All the old boys of Mudd York remember Mr. Alexander. He seem to be a keen man of business with wealthy as sociates. For coughs, colds, sore throat, etc., trusters are assembled in the Police.	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel heexpected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By als scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada and Senator Hurst of California. The Man's History. This desp hibald urnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten ted to to estiga- used a y com- ten ted to to estiga- used a y com- ten ted to to estiga- used a y com- ten ted to to estiga- used a y com- ten ted to estiga- used a y com- ten ted to estiga- used a y com- ten ted to estiga- used a tell ten tell ten to estiga- ten tell ten tell ten tell ten tell tell	The Poper's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the, receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioner to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from the employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30 at Davis Bros.', jewelers, 130 Yonge-street. The East End Property-Owners. At the meeting Friday night Mr. Noel Marshall was elected president for the ensuing vear. A discussion sorang up on Sun	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cutbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen—are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished itself. The Large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished itself. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. COUETRIGHT, Ont., Dec. 5.—W. A. Catcarth's store and postofice in same building was burglarized last night. Two bill	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted Ne Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves me aright, there were 18 voted "ao," and lavoted "yes." Dec. 5. The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—ED. World.! Editor World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath dese cration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy," I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and mercy, because I am satisfied that everyone who reads these lines will know	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operacioaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods. The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashion able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs the match, are another very striking assortment of goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principles and are reduced to the exceedingly low price of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice ar	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty est seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain. He speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the capitulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there to a good specimen of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be circumstances does the modest Sir William shrink from swagger. He tells his constituents that they shall have not only Hom Rule, but the whole Newcastle program simultaneously. It is at least the work o	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPLE'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious demoninations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for support of schools which are not under control of Church of England and it while there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and left here a young man in 1856. He fought in the Confederate army, returned to the United States and settled in New Orleans. He is now with the Trinidad asphale to be a keen man of business with wealthy associates. For coughs, colds, sore threat, etc., treatments of Lorent leves of Mudd York remember Mr. Alexander. He seem to be a keen man of business with wealthy associates. For coughs, colds, sore threat, etc., treatments and the police	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by actof the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By als scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. The Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada and Senator Hurst of California. The Man's History. This d
hibald urnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten ted to destiga- used a y com- ten ted to destiga- used a y com- ten ted to destiga- used a ted to destiga- used a ted to destiga- used a ted to destiga- self and the ten ten ten ten ten ten ten ten ten te	The Popers finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 week. ly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his father, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30 at Davis Bros.', jewelers, 130 Yonge-street. The East End Property-Owners. At the meeting Friday night Mr. Noel Marshall was elected president for the ensuing year. A discussion sprang up on Sunday cars, apparently favored by the majority but the president had to rule it out of order.	nition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cutbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthementitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English divine. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. COURTRIGHT, Ont., Dec. 5.—W. A. Catcarth's store and postoffice in same building was burglarized last night. Two bills with change were carried off, also two registered letters and postoffice in same building was burglarized last night. Two bills with change carried of	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members whe voted "no," and when the names and opinions of the members then present on the floor was taken, if my memory serves maright, there were 18 voted "no," and it voted "yes." Dec. 5. [The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade whis signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—ED. World.] Editor World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath descration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy." I do not intend to discuss the whole question of necessity and mercy, because I am satisfied that everyone would apply; but while advocatin	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of opere cloaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashiona able New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, arreal jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for long goods. They are constructed on the new est style, on the most approved principle and are reduced to the exceedingly low pric of $5 per set. Ladies wishing a nice article of dress, and have the required amount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is given when the goods are purchased on this basis, cannot debetter than to examine the cloth jackets. These are trim	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence ty et seen in print. The accredited London organ—if there be an organ—of Gladston ism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of land and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is offat last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, so far as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain the Bazaine of Birmingham, who was there the surrender the keys of the citadel and dhomage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr Goschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be circumstances does the modest Sir William shrink from swagger. He tells his constituents that they shall have not only Hom Rule, but the whole Newcastle program simultaneously. It is at least the work of a generation. Distrust of Gladstone. There are signs of a growing di	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of sulphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST BENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex. Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to blevied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations alike. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for support of schools which are not under control of church of England and it while there are not taught religious exercise prescribed by that church. He is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and to Toronto and married and again went to the United States and settled in New Or leans. He is now with the Trinidad asphaloncern, which controls that product in the United States. All the old boys of Mudd York remember Mr. Alexander. He seem to be a keen man of business with wealthy as sociates. For coaghs, colds, sore threat, etc., trusted and appears of the day afternoon to nominate candidates for day afternoon to nominate candidates for the day a	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel heexpected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada and Senator Hurst of California. The Man's History. This desp
hibald durnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared a content of the color o	The Poper's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the, receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissioners to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from thely employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30 at Davis Bros.', jewelers, 130 Yonge-street. The East End Property-Owners. At the meeting Friday night Mr. Noel Marshall was elected president for the ensuing year. A discussion sprang up on Sunday cars, apparently favored by the majority but the president had to rule it out of order. The recei	nition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which be based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are serranl." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delighted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished itself. Suspendent of the McCann delivered and address on the "Bible and Science."	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who you have staken, if my memory serves maright, there were 18 voted "no," and stoyed "yes." Dec. 5. The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—ED. World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday, street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath dese cration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy, because I am satisfied that everyone who reads these lines will know of many in	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operaciolaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashionable New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs the same training the discount of cash on hand for a liberal discount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is given when the goods are purchased on this basis, cannot debetter than to examine the cloth jackets. These are trimmed around the neck and down the front with Alaska sable, beaver imported sam	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence tyet seen in print. The accredited London sim declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of landstonism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of lands and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, sfar as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain the speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the apitulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the surrender the keys of the citadel and homage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr doschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be crumstances does the modest Sir Wi	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of suiphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex. Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations aliks. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for support of schools which are not under control of Church of England and it while fiber are not taught religious exercise for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and the is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and the fiber are not taught religious exercise for the United States and settled in New Orleans. He is now with the Trinidad asphale concern, which controls that product in the United States. All the old boys of Mudd York remember Mr. Alexander. He seem to be a keen man of business with wealthy associates. For conghs, colds, sore threat, etc., trusted in the Police Fund $50,000. The police force assembled in the Police Court in large numbers at 1 o'clock Satuid day afternoon to nominate candidates for the coming election of a board to managitab	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel he expected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By his scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada and Senator Hurst of California. The Man's History. This despatch was received at police hea
hibald durnal- ulogne ted to destiga- used a y com- ten. e went eclared a content of the color o	The Poper's finances. The Expenditures of the Vatican Will Largely Exceed the Receipts. Rome, Dec. 6.—The Pope, in his palatial prison-house, appears to have the same trouble with his budget as do the finance ministers of broader realms. It is now estimated that the, receipts of the Vatican authorities for 1892 will only amount to 4,300,000 francs, while the anticipated expenditures will reach 7,000,000. Wrongs of the British Barmaid. London, Dec. 6.—Revelations made before the Labor Commission anent barmaids' hours of work and the terms on which they are employed have obliged the commissions to take evidence privately. Specific cases were referred to where girls were obliged to choose between immediate loss of place and submission to improper overtures from their employers. In a host of instances the working hours amounted to over 100 weekly. The whole tendency of the evidence is against the employment of barmaids except under strict legislative control. The Duke of Devonshire Dying. London, Dec. 6.—The latest news from the bedside of the Duke of Devonshire is that he is in a moribund condition and that his death is only a question of a few hours. The Marquis of Hartington, who was hastily summoned yesterday to attend his tather, has telegraphed to various places postponing all his political engagements. Mr. Spurgeon's Disease Incurable. London, Dec. 6.—Bad reports have been received concerning Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. His doctors have warned him not to expect a complete recovery, as his diseas; is running its course, but they hope the fatal termination will be long retarded. Christmas Gifts. A most desirable present for mother, sweetheart or wife is a genuine Waltham watch, in a solid 14 k. gold case. Price $30 at Davis Bros.', jewelers, 130 Yonge-street. The East End Property-Owners. At the meeting Friday night Mr. Noel Marshall was elected president for the ensuing year. A discussion sprang up on Sunday cars, apparently favored by the majority but the president had to rule it out of order. The member	to a reunion of the family and social recognition of the Countess. A Prince in Jail. London, Dec. 6.—The negro Prince Theodore, son of the late King John of Abyssinia, who was brought to England to be educated, has got a week's imprisonment in Brussels for being concerned in a street row. Prince George to Go on a Cruise. London, Dec. 6.—As soon as Prince George of Wales is able to travel he will go on a cruise to the Mediterranean. The yacht Aline is being fitted up for his use. A BRUMMAGEM DIVINE. Anniversary Services of the Y.M.C. Association. The usual sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Y.M.C.A. was preached yesterday afternoon in Association Hall by Rev. Dr. McCann, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Birmingham. Robert Kilgour, president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the reverend gentleman with a few remarks. Dr. McCann's subject was "The Unseen Universe," and the passage of scripture on which he based his remarks was found in II. Cor. iv., the last clause of the 18th verse: "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are seen are terral." The sermon was a fine effort. Dr. McCann, middle-aged and stalwart of form, has a prepossessing appearance and shows to advantage on the platform. The large audience present were delignted on the whole with his address. The Cariton-street Methodist choir, under the direction of D. E. Cameron, were of great assistance in the musical the portion of the program. They sang the anthem entitled: "We Praise Thee, O God," in sympathetic manner, and the male quartet also distinguished itself. In the evening Dr. McCann delivered an address on the "Bible and Science." Another large audience greeted this appearance of the distinguished English div ine. Busy Burglars in the Rural Districts. Countright, Ont., Dec. 5.—W. A. Catcarth's store and postoffice in same building was burglarized last night. Two bills with change were carried off, also two registered letters and postages atmps. George Dale's drug store and Jo	wery day for the next four days, by which time between 6000 and 7000 names will have been subscribed. Asstated before, we want heaping measure, so that allowances may be made for the enthusiasm of persons signing without having the necessary qualification of being ratepayers. In this connection it may be said that nothing but signatures are of any avail. In one or two instances a list of names have evidently been written by the same hand. This must not be done. During this week let a grand effort be made and the good work be completed once for all. Hundreds of letters have come to hand with but a single signature. The two-cent stamp would have carried a dozen or a score of names just as easily. Get your friends to sign. Mr. Earls Voted No Editor World: I notice in this morning's issue of your paper that you have included my name as one of the members of the Board of Trade in favor of a Sunday street car service in Toronto and I hasten to state that you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who you have been misinformed. On the contrary, I was one of the first members who you have staken, if my memory serves maright, there were 18 voted "no," and stoyed "yes." Dec. 5. The inclusion of Mr. Earls' name and that of Mr. W. J. McKay at the end of the list of the members of the Board of Trade who signed the petition is one of those errors that are almost unavoidable in the hasty preparation of a newspaper. The names of Mr. Earls and Mr. McKay were on the back of the paper that contained the names of the signers of the petition and the proofreader took it for granted that they were also signatories.—ED. World: I enclose ticket in favor of Sunday, street car service. I do not do swith any idea of encouraging Sabbath dese cration, but with the meaning as expressed in the shorter catechism, for "the works on necessity and mercy, because I am satisfied that everyone who reads these lines will know of many in	nosticate in no uncertain way—without even a casual revertment to Old Probs' ominous warnings being necessary—went to foreshadow colder weather. It was probably the thought of this aspect of the case that gave such a sudden if not unexpected impetus to the fur trade; it was mainly on this account that the ladies of Toronto who were not already the possessors of such comfortable commodities flocked to W. & D. Dineen's extensive establishment in scores in order to fortify themselves against the inclemencies of the coming winter. In conversation with a World reporter on the day mentioned Mr. Dineen said that his firm had found the sale an exceptionally successful one as far as it had gone and that if the same amount of trade were sustained until the end of the year it would be the most remunerative disposal of goods ever held since the inauguration of the establishment. Passing through the piles of furs, looking at the wonderful assortment of muffs, examining the diversified multiplicity of operaciolaks, admiring the grand array of sea goods, The World's young man could not help stopping for a fleety observance of the beautiful stock of sealette jackets. These were manufactured expressly for the Christ mas trade after the latest and most fashionable New York and London patterns. Every size, every shape is here, so that the most fastidious can feel sure of being satisfactorily suited. The jackets are trimmed in a number of cases with astrachan and the prices range from $15 to $35. Manufactured on the same principle, following the same patterns and fashions, are real jackets. The quotations, of course, for this line are a great deal higher than for those previously mentioned. The sealette storm collars, with muffs the same training the discount of cash on hand for a liberal discount of cash on hand for a liberal discount is given when the goods are purchased on this basis, cannot debetter than to examine the cloth jackets. These are trimmed around the neck and down the front with Alaska sable, beaver imported sam	buy or hire land, "to satisfy the wants of the community." Within the four corners of that elastic phrase are included the purchase of land to be retailed in parcels to private buyers on a larger scale, these parcels being called small holdings, and the purchase of land for private houses. That is what England is coming to, if this scheme be thought likely to win votes enough. The state or the municipality is to become a land jobber on a gigantic scale, The Bazaine of Birmingham. It will be interesting to hear what Mr. Gladstone will have to say on these proposals, for Mr. Gladstone is, or was till lately, on many questions, and certainly on questions of property in England—I exclude Ireland—one of the most conservative of men. He is warned in advance by his own organ that his political future and the future of his party depend on his casting this conservatism to the winds. I quote the sentence, the most remarkable sentence tyet seen in print. The accredited London sim declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of landstonism declares this the "critical period in the fortunes of Liberalism, when the Libera party will stand or fall, according as they solve or bungle the problems of lands and labor." Where, then, is Home Rule? The mask is off at last. The avowal is openly made that the next election is to turn, sfar as the Gladstonians can make it turn not on Home Rule, not on Ireland, but on a new agrarian policy for England. Sir William Harcourt's address is chiefly remarkable for its bitterness to Mr. Chamberlain the speaks of Lord Salisbury coming to the Midlands capital to receive the apitulation of an old Liberal fortress, an amiably nicknames Mr. Chamberlain the surrender the keys of the citadel and homage to the conqueror. The rest of it is a good specimen of the oratory which Mr doschen describes rather unkindly as "a chuckle and chaff." Nor when pressed be crumstances does the modest Sir Wi	is a chance of her recovery. INHALED DEATH IN THE FUMES. Peculiar Fatality to An Employe of the Paper Mills. Newboro, Ont., Dec. 6. — Milton Jones of Elgin had been working in the paper mills for some time past, and while engaged at his dusters one of the pipes burst, throwing him about 15 feet away, and between breathing the fumes of suiphuric acid and the fall he was internally injured. He suffered intensely for ten days before his death. WINNIPEG'S LATEST SENSATION. The Church of England and the Public School Taxes. WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—Saturday morning a sensation was created by an application to the Chief Justice by ex. Mayor Logan on behalf of the Church of England to enforce a separate school system. Mr. Logan moved for and obtained a summons calling on the city of Winnipeg to show cause why the bylaw levying a rate of taxation for the year should not be quashed on the following grounds: 1. That by city bylaw amount estimated to be levied for school purposes is levied upon members of Church of England and all other religious denominations aliks. 2. That it is illegal to assess members of Church of England for support of schools which are not under control of Church of England and it while fiber are not taught religious exercise for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and the is an Old Toronto Boy. Mr. Robert Alexander, who is head of the new syndicate that has put in a tende for Ashbridge's Bay, was born in Toronto, in old Lot street, and the fiber are not taught religious exercise for the United States and settled in New Orleans. He is now with the Trinidad asphale concern, which controls that product in the United States. All the old boys of Mudd York remember Mr. Alexander. He seem to be a keen man of business with wealthy associates. For conghs, colds, sore threat, etc., trusted in the Police Fund $50,000. The police force assembled in the Police Court in large numbers at 1 o'clock Satuid day afternoon to nominate candidates for the coming election of a board to managitab	his life. There is evidence to show that Southworth told an untruth, for Capt. Horne, who is connected with a museum, and who was at police headquarters this evening, stoutly claimed that the bombthrower was the individual who made him acquainted with Southworth some two months ago and who has among others made the captain's life almost a terror to himself. That the bombthrower and Southworth have been known to each other is further evidenced by the fact that Capt. Horne affirms that he has seen the same brass badge worn by the members of the band on the breasts of both men who came a number of times to see him at Worth's Museum and other places. The Chief of the Band. One David B. Shaw identified Southworth as a man who had advertised for a lecturer last October. When Shaw called on Southworth the latter told him the object of the lectures was to organize in different cities a secret society or band he (Southwood) to be the chief officer. The nature he said of the organization could be political. Through this channel heexpected that the votes of the people could be obtained eventually taking away by act of the legislature the control of railroads and alleged monopolies from individuals and corporations and place them in the power of the United States Government. In his conversation he referred to Jay Gould, Russell Sage and other business men in this city and the country particularly men in control of railroads. By ais scheme he said that people would be able to travel to San Francisco for $100, and in a like proportion to other points in the country. Booth Has a Scheme of His Own. Southworth told Inspector Byrnes that he had just returned from a trip to Europe, where he had been making long speeches. He had tried to get General Booth of the Salvation Army interested in his schemes, but the great Salvationist had decided on making a trip to Africa and could not join him. Southworth said that he was a personal friend of Senator Stewart of Nevada and Senator Hurst of California. The Man's History. This desp

who reads these lines will know of many individual cases wherein a street car service would apply; but while advocating Sunday car service I would favor a limited service—say no cars to start before 10 o'clock in the forenoon, but that all cars be started at that hour and the service would be always to start be service.

The Bones of Colonel Butler Stolen from the service. but that all cars be started at that nour and run till 2 o'clock p.m., then cease till 6 p.m. and run till 10 only. I would like if you could advocate such a service, to be introduced in a bylaw to be voted on by the people. Everyone can see without lengthy explanation the advantages such limited service would confer on railway employes in place of an all day one and at the seme time.

be of great benefit to all classes of the citi-tens of Toronto. DAVID WALKER.

The Lieutenant-Governor Better Yesterday Than for Some Days. Saturday night the Lieutenant-Governor did not pass a very quiet time and arose somewhat fatigued yesterday morning. During the day, however, his spirits revived He was more himself than he has been since his present illness.

Sylvester Neelon Receives the Conservative Nomination for Lincoln.

Dropped Dead in His Lawyer's Office.

A ROYAL BETROTHAL.

BOLD BID FOR VOTES OF THE RU Gladstonian Ler.de's to Meet to Consider

The Strained Relations of the Two Wings of the Party.

G. W. Smalley in N. Y. Sunday Tribune.]
LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Unionist victory in East Dorset undoes the effect of the Gladstonians in their first enthusiasm seem to have believed that the whole agricultural population of England was coming over to them. They saw the counties all theirs. The counties are still to be fought for. True, all that the Unionists have done in East Dorset is to hold the seat, and by a lessened majority, while in South Molton the Gladstonians captured a seat held by their opponents.

The strained Relations of the Two Wings of the Plot to Assassinate Russell Sage.

New York, Dec. 6.—An improvement in factor having sassinate Russell Sage.

New York, Dec. 6.—An improvement in order to gain the approval of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. All were greatly pleased, Queen Victoria having specially desired the union, which is said to be quite a love match. The news of the engagement spread like through fashionable circles to-day. The greatest pleasure is manifested. Princess Mary is a general favorite. Queen Victoria has placed the former residence of the Duke of Teck at Luton Hall, where both have been staying lately with a large party. The young Prince came to London yesterday to inform his parents, who thence proceeded to Windsor the approval of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. All were greatly pleased, Queen Victoria having specially desired the union, which is said to be quite a love match. The news of the engagement spread like the trough fashionable circles to-day. The greatest pleasure is manifested. Princess Mary is a general favorite. Queen were the principal features yesterday of the Plot to Assassinate Russell Sage.

New York, Dec. 6.—An improvement is the condition of some of the victims; the condition of some of the victims of the plot to assassinate Russell Sage.

New York A Fush Prox to Wictoria has part to gain the roof of

THE PENALITY OF FAME.

Distrust of Gladstone.

The Bones of Colonel Butter Stolen from the Sepulchre.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Dec. 6.—The remains of the late Colonel Butter, found about to be re-interred in old St. Mark's in the base to be called to the anti-Parnellit faction have expressed it.

Mr. McCarchy tells a cheering audience that he has longth Mr. Gladstone before now and will fight him again should by the Niagara Historical Society, have been at the bones from their primitive resting place and bury, them in more appropriate erements of the same fraction. The relatives of Colonel Butter of the same fraction are supervised to the field where they had lain so long, and the spot was found to have been violated.

EXEMENT IS OUT OF IT.

Sylvester Neelon Receives the Conservatives of Lincoln on the opera house here Satured and Ireland. It was Mr. Gladstone and Ireland. The was not cough Drops.

Distrust of Gladstone.

The Bones of Colonel Butter Stolen from the priming leaders they are to be called, of the anti-Parnellit faction have expressed it. Mr. Has longth Mr. Gladstone and the leaders they are to be called, of the anti-Parnellit faction have expressed it. Mr. McCarchy tells a cheering audience that he has longth Mr. Gladstone and the spot was found to be society to take the bones from their primitive resting place and bury, them in more appropriate generally. This is what he said: "Unless the Nationalists of Ireland to the field where they had lain so long, and the spot was found to have been violated.

EXEMENT IS OUT OF IT.

Sylvester Neelon Receives the Conservative of Lincoln county assembled in convention in the opera house here Saturated and Ireland. It was Mr. Gladstone and Ireland. It was Mr. Gladstone and Ireland. It was Mr. Gladstone and Ireland. The following names were proposed in spectors Stark and Johnston, Ser. Stark

Conservatives of Lincoln county assembled in convention in the opera house here Sat-

part service in the French army.

A Provide Recenses Mindered,
Palify, Du., 6. A Becomes Mindered,
Palify Du., 6. A Becomes Mindered,
Palify Du., 6. A Becomes Mindered, Palify Du., 6. A Becomes Dullard, the mother of a high official in the Ministry of War, was foundy specially the part from the control of the part from the control of

Collars and Cuffs" Pops and is Accepte

by the Duke of Teck's Daughter— The Queen Pleased. London, Dec. 6.—Prince Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence, the eldest son of the Prince of Wales, on Friday proposed to and was accepted by Princess Victoria Mary, aged 25, the only daughter of the Duke of Teck at Luton Hall, where both have been staying lately with a large party. The vounce Prince Sassinate Russell Sas country every trace of English domination and English dictation." That may be put beside Mr. Parnell's declaration at Cincinnati, that he would never rest till he had destroyed the last link between England and Ireland. It was Mr. Gladstone whose dictation robbed Ireland of her leader and drove Mr. Parnell to his doom.

Colonel Boyd Dead.

Port Elgin, Dec. 6.—Lieut.-Colonel B. B. Boyd, commanding officer of the 32nd ed the track at Evansville, Miss., yester-

ONE CENT

THE MAN A MYSTERY STILL THE BOMB - THROWER'S HEAD

VIEWED BY NEW YORKERS,

of Colima was in a state of violent eruption, and at 8 o'clock that night a heavy shower of ashes began falling upon the city. It lasted over an hour, covering the streets and roofs of buildings with ashes and greatly terrifying the inhabitants.