GIRL'S KISS IN PLAY TOO REAL

Realistic Acting in Musical Comedy Moves Congregationists to Replace Soprano Soloist

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 28—Because of too realistic acting in the love scenes in the musical comedy "Kathleen," presented under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's Club by an amateur cast here last week, Miss Isabel Miller, Hartford society girl, has lost her place in the choir of the Congregational Church in Simsbury.

The play was made somewhat of a social event, the patrons and patronesses including many of the most prominent people in Hartford. Members of the Simsbury church were also among those present and they carried back the impression that there was something altogether too realistic and enthusiastic about the way she did it. When she appeared at the church last Sunday she found a substitute singer had been engaged.

The man who played all of the love scenes with the young woman was Randolph T. Burnham, tenor soloist in the Church of the Redeemer, Hartford. As yet Mr. Burnham has not been asked to resign. Miss Miller has had a splendid soprano voice, and she has appeared in amateur theatricals before and her work has been highly praised.

The majority of those present at the performance of "Kathleen" thought nothing about the kissing episode until the action of the church became known. Officials of the church refused to comment on the matter in any way.

The members of the boys S. School Class, the "B.B.," met at the home of their teacher, Mildred Starratt, on the evening of the 24th, a very enjoyable time was spent. At the close refreshments were served.

During the night of the 24th there fell about eight inches of snow on the level. Friday was a very rough day, and if it is any sign that blizzards are in the month rules the coming month, we are in for a hard month for December.

MORE DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Electors Listen To Addresses In The Interest Of The Liberal Party.

The Court House Hall in Bridgetown, notwithstanding the big snow storm, was filled Thursday night, to listen to addresses in the interests of the Liberal party. The chair was occupied by His Worship, Mayor W. A. Warren, who had with him on the platform Hon. Geo. H. Murray, Premier of Nova Scotia; Mr. J. H. Sinclair, ex-M.P. for Guysboro, and Dr. L. J. Lovett, the Liberal candidate for the constituency of Annapolis-Digby.

Mayor Warren introduced the speakers with appropriate remarks.

Dr. Lovett devoted the first portion of his address to the ladies, a large number of whom were present, after which his remarks were directed to the entire audience.

The next speaker was Hon. Geo. H. Murray. He congratulated the people on being present on such a pleasant night, spoke about his pleasant visit to the schools in the afternoon, and predicted that the future of Bridgetown would be safe in the hands of the coming generation of electors. He said our schools were a credit to the town and to the Province of Nova Scotia. He was glad to see so many ladies in the audience. This would not be the first time that they had enjoyed their franchise in Nova Scotia for they had assisted in returning his government to power in the last election.

Mr. Murray then gave a political address in the interest of the Liberal party.

The next and last speaker was Mr. J. H. Sinclair. His address, although quite lengthy, was interesting. He told how the leaders were selected. He said they were all three good men personally, but of course he could not agree with all three in their political views. He also gave a good address in the interest of the Liberal party. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

There are 31,000 Baptist adherents over 13 years of age not yet members of the Church, of whom 17,000 are between the ages of 17 and 21, while there are 13,000 adherents under 13 years of age not members of the church. There are at least 15,000 men in the Baptist field who have not yet united with the church. There still remains, therefore, a great evangelistic opportunity before the Baptists of these Eastern Canadian Provinces.

REGARDING THE APPLE SUCKER IN NOVA SCOTIA

In August, 1920, the Dominion Department of Agriculture placed a quarantine on Kings, Hants, Colchester, Cumberland, and part of Lunenburg counties on account of the apple sucker, a pest that was first discovered in Nova Scotia in 1919. The quarantine prohibited the shipping of nursery stock unless the shipment was accompanied by either a permit or certificate. As a result of scouting work carried on during the past summer, for this pest, it was found that the apple sucker had spread into Halifax county. On November 15th a Ministerial Order was passed adding Halifax county to the districts already quarantined. Persons who wish to send any shipments of nursery stock and desire further information should apply either to the Dominion Entomological Laboratory, Annapolis Royal, N.S., or to the Dominion Entomologist, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

TRIBUNE FOUNDER CALLED BY DEATH

Pioneer Winnipeg Journalist Succumbs After Long and Painful Illness

(Winnipeg Tribune, Nov. 7)

Robert Lorne Richardson, 62 years old, founder of The Winnipeg Tribune, died at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in his home, 78 Roslyn Road, after an illness of about four months. Funeral 3 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, from the home. Service by Rev. F. B. Duval, of Knox Church. Burial made in Elmwood cemetery.

The announcement of his death came as a shock to the community. Many prominent citizens who knew of his illness did not realize that he was in such a serious condition. Mr. Richardson was widely known as a journalist, a member of parliament, and a newspaper man.

His illness was lengthy and painful. In July of this year, when at the Lake of the Woods, he was taken ill. He was brought to Winnipeg and taken to his home, where he remained practically all the time until his death. On Saturday it was announced that his condition was critical. Saturday night, at 11 o'clock, he went to sleep and did not awake.

He leaves a widow and four daughters. His wife was Miss Clara, daughter of Ira Mallory, of Malory, Ont. Mrs. Kenneth McPherson, of Ottawa; Mrs. George Murray, of Trail, B.C.; Mrs. Robie Parker, of Kitchener, Ont.; and Miss Dorothy Richardson, who is at home, are daughters. William H. Richardson, of Westmount, Montreal, is a brother, and Miss Hatie Richardson, of Perth, Ont., a sister.

(Mrs. Robie Parker, named among the survivors, is the wife of an Annapolis County boy, viz. Mr. J. Robie Parker, son of Mrs. W. F. Parker, now of Bridgetown.)

GRAVEYARD OF MONTREAL AUTOS

Montreal, Nov. 24—The graveyard of many missing Montreal automobiles has been discovered by agents acting in the interest of various insurance companies. So far three cars have been located at the bottom of the river near the Longueuil wharf, and it is thought more probable that the broad St. Lawrence covers a good percentage of this city's stolen cars which may and may not have been driven into the river so that their owners might collect the insurance.

A left hand rubber glove may be turned inside out and worn on the right hand, when the right hand glove "gives out."

According to the story of the picture, which was adapted by Roy Summer-ville, Lupin escaped and is a country gentleman living respectably in America. He is summoned by Henry Forbes, an aged invalid, who has been threatened by anonymous letters with death. The old man is killed and it becomes the task of Lupin to trace the murderer. Several persons are suspected, and the close acquaintance of Lupin with the methods of criminals enables him to track the guilty person. A well developed love story is worked into the plot, which is said to be very exciting and abounding in mystery and thrills.

In addition to David Powell, others in the cast include Marguerite Courtot, Tomplar Saxe, Myrtle Stedman and Riley Hatch. The picture was directed by Chester Withey.

TEAMS SHOULD CARRY LIGHTS

(Berwick Register)

To collide with a horse and buggy, head on, and to have the horse climb right up onto the radiator of his car and stick his hoofs through the windshield, was the startling experience of Dr. P. P. Balcom on Sunday evening. The accident occurred on Commercial street near the corner of Cottage, when the Doctor was driving homeward. He was aware of a team approaching him on the opposite side of the street, but failed to see the one on his side, which was coming towards him at a lively rate of speed, until it was too late to avoid collision. In the car, or coupe, with the Doctor, was Mrs. Balcom and little Pauline, and the escape of all three from serious injury is indeed miraculous. The horse, which was owned by Arch Skinner and driven by a man named Whitman, was badly cut about the head. The Doctor's coupe fared ill and is minus much of the glass which it originally possessed.
