A PARTICULARLY INTERESTING VISIT.

KOFU, Feb. 1st, 1895.

DEAR MRS. GOODERHAM, A glance at your photograph made me think that perhaps you would be interested in the events of to day. A particularly interesting visit cheered me a good deal, so I will tell you about it.

Kawara san accompanied me, and we found the grand mother, mother and a grown up daughter at home and at leisure. The old lady is very, very deaf and almost blind. She was sitting at the Kotatsu (a fire usually in a prepared place in the floor, protected by a wooden frame, and this is covered by a thick wadded quilt). The people sit at this
