inthuluced into Canada under the auspices of the Public Hcalth Department, Ottawa.

Inoculation Practiced in French Indo-China.-The practice of im culating people with variola prevails in French Indo-China, and serves to maintain smallpox in an epidemic condition in that cunintry. A Chinese physician scarifies the child's arm with the puint of a knife which has been smeared with rariolous matter, taken from a selected patient. Large pustules are produced which leave scars as big as a 20 cent silver piece. The natives pay 50 cents for each inoculation.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

International Congress of Gynecology and Obstetrics.-Two professors of Laval University, Montreal, Drs. L. N. Delorme and M. T. Brennan, are attending the Fourth Internutional Congress on Gynecology and Obstetrics at Rome, Italy. Five American physicians are also present.

Death of Dr. Price.-The death of Dr. Nelson Price, of St. John, N.B.; is announceit, at the early age of twenty-eight years. Dr. Price had gone to Scuth Africa with the hospital corps of the Canadian Mounted Rifter, but contracted typhoid fever shortly after his arrival, of which he has since died.

Equine Eddyism.-The latest reported victory of Eddyism over dinease is reported to be the wonderful restoration to health and activity of a noted racing stallion, scheduled to race next week. Cummenting on this, one trainer sagely remarked: "It's better to n.rve the beast than give him a drop of rye."

Calgary for Consumptives.-Dr. James Stewart, Professor of Medicine at McGill University, Montreal, who has returned from an extended tour of the Canadian North-West, was much impressed with the climate around Calgary, and considers that the neighborh.od of Calgary offers exceptional advantages for a consumptive sanatorium.

A Magnificent Donation.-Lord Strathcona and Lord Mount Suephen's joint prince gift of $$ $ 0,000$ yearly to London hospitals, eacites enthusiasm and admiration, and is the subject of editorials from most of the journals, with romances of the success afforded by

