

DRAUGHTS NEVER CAUSED A COLD

Stuffy Rooms Alone Responsible Says Dr. Treves.

London, June 26.—Dr. Sir Frederick Treves astonished the public last week by declaring that "the idea that colds are caused by draughts are absurd. No cold ever had such an origin. Colds are the origin not of draughts, but of stuffy rooms." Other famous London physicians back up Sir Frederick in holding that no cold was ever caused by draught.

You may question Sir Frederick's statement but there can be no doubt whatever as to the evil effects of a close, stuffy atmosphere. In the winter time, when storm doors and double windows help to make the house practically air-tight, we live in a death-dealing atmosphere, breathing air vitiated with the vapor elimination from the lungs of the occupants and the organic secretions and moisture from the pores of the skin. There should be humidity, but it must be pure and refreshing as the outdoor air, and it is through the introduction of fresh outdoor air and its ample humidification by means of the large Circle Waterpan that the makes the atmosphere of the house in winter like that of a bright June morning—warm, refreshing and life-giving.
