THE GOLDEN MANUAL;

BEING A GUIDE TO CATHOLIC DEVOTION, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE,

With the approbation of the Most Rev. Dr. Hughes, Archbishop of New York.

THIS Manual contains, in addition to forms in general use, various devotions selected from approved continental works. The Prayers, Litanies, &c., have been collected from the Latin originals, wherever such were known to exist. The English versions of the Psalms here given, have been constructed by a comparison of the authorised Donay text, (to which in substance it adheres) with the several other versions, which from time to time have been sangtioned for the purpose of develop. The it adheres,) with the several other versions, which from time to time have been sanctioned for the purpose of devotion. The indulgenced prayers have been literally translated from the Raccia, Bonviers' Treatise on Indulgences, and the best edition of the Celeste Palmetam. The particulars connected with they Confinternities, &c., to which indulgences are attached, have been carefully collected from authorised sources.

The American Edition has been enlarged by the addition of THERE BUNDRED FACES of matter, under the supervision of a Rev. gentleman of New York. Many new translations have been made expressly for it, and a great number of Prayers have been added, which are in constant use in this country. The Illustrations are appropriate and well executed.

We send this book confidently before the public, with the assurance that no expense has been spared to make it (what it assurance that no expense has been spared to make it (what it really is) the most complete Prayer Book ever published in the English language.

The following notice of the work, is taken from Brownson's

Quarterly Review for July, 1851 :- This is a reprint from an English Manual approved by "This is a reprint from an English Manual approved by Gardinal Wiseman, with large additions by the American editor. It is the largest and most complete manual of devotion we are acquainted with. It contains a great variety of devotions, adapted to almost every occasion and to every taste, and, as far as we have examined it, selected with judgment and true devotional feeling. We know of little, except in devotions before and after communion, that we could desire to have added, and we have met with nothing in it that we wish to have omitted. It is due to the publishers to say that the copy before us is well printed, and righly bound. It contains numerous illustrations, several of which are executed with much skill and artistic skill and taste. There is no occasion to commend this Golden Manual to the public, for it is approved by the Most Rev. the Archbishop of New York, and is sure to become, and deservedly, a great favorite with devont Christians."

The following preface by the translator, will explain the nature of the work:-

"At the present moment when the whole Catholic world is awaking to the vital importance of securing a religious education for the rising generation, it seemed to me that this little work might do a great deat of good, and I have hastily thrown it into an English form for the benefit of our own people, both parents and children. Let both read, the children for annusement, and the parents for instruction, and let the latter reflect on the contents of this simple volume,—they will find it a most useful lesson.

useful lesson.

It is with inexpressible joy that I see the schools of the Christian Brothers spreading from town to town and from city to city throughout the length and breadth of Christendon. to city throughout the length and breadth of Christendom. Nation after nation is opening her arms to invite their approach, and wherever they go, they bring with them true faith, humble fervent piety, and the purest of all morality. These are the kessons they every where inculcate, and our Benjamin is hut one instance of the benign effects of their teachings. The day has at length come, when Catholic parents have no longer an excuse for sending their children to Godless' schools—they all have the means of having sound religions instructions, blended with their children's secular learning, and we be to them if they avail themselves not of the advantages placed by Providence at their disposal."
