A NEW

ENGLISH DICTIONARY
ON HISTORICAL PRINCIPLES.

Founded mainly on the materials collected by the Philological Society.

EDITED BY

JAMES A. H. MURRAY, B.A., HON. M.A., LL.D., D.L.S.,
Sometime President of the Philological Society,

WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF MANY SCHOLARS AND MEN OF SCIENCE.

PARTS 1, 2 and 3 (A-Boz). 4to. Each, $3.25.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

ENGLISH.

"No one will hesitate to say that the speedy completion of this vast undertaking is, or ought to be, an object of great concern to every educated speaker of English. Every Englishman who can possibly afford it ought to do his part in forwarding this great enterprise of national interest by purchasing the parts as they appear."—Athenaeum.
"This monumental work."—London Times.
"An achievement without parallel."—Academy.
"For the first time we have a dictionary based on historical principles presented to us. . . . If any one will look at the development of the different senses in Dr. Murray's Dictionary, all the quotations being given in the order of their age, . . . he cannot fail to be struck with the amount of research displayed and the perspicuity with which the results are set forth. . . . A work of this description is truly a national work."—Spectator.

AMERICAN.

"That great Anglo-Saxon undertaking. We need hardly remind our readers that this work ought to be not only in every gentleman's library, but in every intelligent household."—Nation.
"This monumental work."—Prof. James M. Garnett, in American Journal of Philology.
"Certainly the Englishmen of this generation will bequeath to those that come after them no richer legacy than this."—New York Times.
"This dictionary is the most important contribution ever yet made to the history of our language. No one is safe in giving the history of an English word without consulting it. No one can consult it without learning something. . . . No student of language can do without it; every Anglo-Saxon may be proud of it."—Independent.
