THE BRIGHT STORY READERS

The beautiful Tales, familiarly spoken of as Legends, Myths and Stories, that have come down to us from the old Greeks and Romans, from the Northmen, from the times of King Arthur, and from the Middle Ages, have been retold in carefully graded story Readers, suited both in subject matter and difficulty to the children of the various grades in Canadian schools.

They start as low as the Primary Grades, with a dozen delightful stories, and work up through to the High School containing in all 118 titles. All are well illustrated and bound in cloth.

MACMILLAN'S CHILDREN'S CLASSICS

The same is true of this series. A dozen titles for the lowest Primary, and over 50 titles in all. Very well illustrated and cloth bound. Not only the old tales are retold, but Scott, Dickens, Alcott, Verne, etc.

THE TINY READERS

Not only are these delightful little Readers, but the pictures are all in outline so that the children can colour them with crayons if so desired, full directions being given for each picture. There are thirty-eight titles in all, some of them being children's classical stories retold, some original. All cloth bound.

THE PEEPS SERIES

Almost one hundred little books (each a work of art) in this series take the child all over the world, to every country and every city of note. Each book contains many full-page illustrations in colour, and the reading text is always most interesting.
