

ARTICLE V

With respect to trade marks, marks of origin and patents, each of the contracting parties shall comply in its trade relations with the obligations imposed by the International Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property as revised at London in 1934. The contracting parties undertake to assist one another in the prevention of any practice which might be prejudicial to their trade relations.

ARTICLE VI

All payments in respect of trade between the two countries shall be made in any convertible currency mutually agreed upon by the two contracting parties. These payments shall be made in accordance with the legislation in force in each of two countries.

ARTICLE VII

The Government of each contracting party shall welcome representations or proposals made by the Government of the other contracting party concerning the implementation of the present agreement, or other problems affecting their trade relations.

ARTICLE VIII

The present agreement shall come into force on the date of its signature and shall be valid for a period of two years.

It shall be renewable by tacit agreement every two years as long as neither of the contracting parties gives written notice of its termination three months prior to its expiration.
