CURRENT TRADE CONDITIONS.

ONTARIO.

The white pine market is now holding its own, no further concessions to buyers, so far as can be learned, having been made. It is believed that the readjustment of prices which has taken place has been beneficial to the market in that it has encouraged the consumption of lumber. There are already indications that consumers who have kept out of the market as much as possible are now willing to contract for future supplies, and this class of buying is likely to figure prominently in lumber transactions during the next three months. Dealers and consumers have been running along with as little stock as possible, in the hope of being in a position to take advantage of the mid-summer drop in prices which is often experienced. Consequently, they are now prepared to buy. Michigan dealers are also showing a little more interest in the market, and enquiries from the Eastern States are increasing in number. Mr. S. C. Fisher is reported to have recently sold 10,000,000 feet of lumber to be sawn at Blind River, and as he had previously sold 5,000,000 feet, it leaves but 10,000,000 feet of this season's output on the market. Many other large manufacturers have sold an equal percentage, while others are holding their cut for higher prices than can now be obtained.

While there has been a falling off in the demand for hardwoods, prices have not broken to any extent. Some grades are in light supply, as enquiries for stock frequently bring the reply that the lumber cannot be supplied at any price, which would indicate that there is not so much stock on the market as may be supposed.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

Spruce lumber is no weaker, for manufacturers refuse to sacrifice their stock. The New York market is taking a considerable quantity of New Brunswick lumber, the demand in that city being quite active for this season of the year, but there has been no visible improvement in shipments to Great Britain. We understand, however, that most of the operators in Western Nova Scotia have placed their entire output under contract, and there is not likely to be as much lumber offering as was expected earlier in the season. There will be upwards of 30,000,000 feet of lumber hung up on the St. John river, which will reduce somewhat the lumber production of that district. Some consideration has been given to next winter's logging operations, and the disposition seems to be to delay as long as possible making arrangements for work in the woods and to be guided by the market
